Demystifying the Big House Katherine A Foss, 2018-07-06 Essays in this volume illustrate how shows such as Orange Is the New Black and Oz impact the public's perception of crime rates the criminal justice system and imprisonment Contributors look at prison wives on reality television series portrayals of death row breastfeeding while in prison transgender prisoners and black masculinity They also examine the ways in which media messages ignore an individual's struggle against an all too frequently biased system and instead dehumanize the incarcerated as violent and overwhelmingly masculine Together these essays argue media reform is necessary for penal reform proposing that more accurate media representations of prison life could improve public support for programs dealing with poverty abuse and drug addiction factors that increase the likelihood of criminal activity and incarceration Scholars from cultural and critical studies feminist studies queer studies African American studies media studies sociology and psychology offer critical analysis of media depictions of prison bridging the media's portrayals of incarcerated lives with actual experiences and bringing to light forgotten voices in prison narratives Identity Complex Michael Roy Hames-Garcia, Rethinking ideas about identity politics and critical thought Second Food Security Measurement and Research Conference: Papers, 2001

Artificial Life: Borrowing from Biology Kevin B. Korb, Marcus Randall, Tim Hendtlass, 2009-11-06 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 4th Australian Conference on Artificial Life ACAL 2009 held in Melbourne Australia in December 2009 The 27 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 60 submissions Research in Alife covers the main areas of biological behaviour as a metaphor for computational models computational models that reproduce duplicate a biological behaviour and computational models to solve biological problems Thus Alife features analyses and understanding of life and nature and helps modeling biological systems or solving biological problems The papers are organized in topical sections on alife art game theory evolution complex systems biological systems social modelling swarm intelligence and heuristics Flabyrinth Jules Coll, 2016-08-26 For every woman who's ever looked in the mirror and felt crap a funny filthy and uplifting account of one woman's quest to leave body insecurity behind Jules Coll was a slim child which was misleading in a way as she spent her formative years doing little other than consuming vast quantities of sugar and plotting to secure her next fix It wasn't until her late teens when hormones began playing havoc with her metabolism that Jules's diet began to take its toll Year by year pound by pound her weight began to tick upwards until she was tipping the scales at 19 stone Self esteem at rock bottom her love life on life support Jules decided it was time to contemplate a radical change Flabyrinth is the story of Jules's escape from maximum insecurity prison As well as sharing her journey from thin to fat and back again it's a hilariously refreshing and honest take on what it feels like to be a girl A Bad Man Stanley Elkin, 2010-10-26 A black market dealer must reconcile his lifetime of sins as he faces hard time in prison A born salesman Leo Feldman can peddle anything from clothing and appliances to prostitutes guns and drugs Although guilty of myriad crimes Feldman is sentenced to prison as the result of a clerical error that charged him with a crime he did not commit Now completely vulnerable to the inmates who surround him and to the stern Warden Fisher Feldman must come to terms with what it means to be jailed not for his crimes but for his character Wry and insightful A Bad Man is an engrossing story of an antihero's journey through the twisted world of an unforgiving penal system This ebook features rare photos and never before seen documents from the author's estate and from the Stanley Elkin archives at Washington University in St Louis

Trans-Atlantic Relations in a Postmodern World Anton Speekenbrink, 2014-11-14 The fall of the Berlin Wall was a pivotal moment deeply impacting the post World War II order with American nuclear might standing sentinel for the preservation of the liberal democratic values of the trans Atlantic community The end of the ideological struggle freed the forces shaping the postmodern world The end of the security trade off American nuclear protection against critical but loyal European support meant that a new partnership based on equality mutual respect and legitimate self interest was needed and that stability and peace on the Eurasian landmass was the overriding goal Neither the United States nor Europe the two constituent communities of the Western world grasped the opportunity to bring about the needed change Both remained prisoners of their past instead of innovators of the common future American exceptionalism and Russophobia was the maze that entrapped the first introvert preoccupation and divisiveness of purpose lamed the other The book traces the formative forces of the geopolitical environment during the Cold War and the decades beyond and places these in the context of the emerging postmodern world order where regional and global project driven functional cooperation is gradually replacing the Westphalian state where the provision of physical security and the material well being for the individual replaces ideology as the driving force for political action and where the rule of law prevails over the rule of power The penultimate section enumerates some of the most significant issues facing the trans Atlantic partnership and formulates policy suggestions on how to deal with them Acknowledging the significant differences within the partnership the two main themes are first that these differences are more tactical than fundamental and can and must be overcome and second that the partnership is essential for the preservation of the values and beliefs of Western civilization Quarterly Review of Military Literature

, 1956 No Sense of Entitlement Heather Thomson, 2023-09-25 How might we keep alive the interests and concerns of protest theologies and the constructive contributions they make Feminist liberation and postcolonial theologies offer guiding questions for this task What is the purpose of theology Whose interests are being served What might be the public effects of this theology This book attends to these questions through a collection of publications over the lifetime of one feminist theologian Growing up in Australia as these new protest theologies were emerging Thomson recalls the influences that went into forming her as the theologian she became She specialized in hermeneutics looking for stars and compasses that might guide her theology into these new territories with a willingness to listen to the Christian tradition for its life giving words and a willingness to critique it for the ideologies it carried This double hermeneutic can be seen throughout her work The chapters in this book are divided thematically into five parts Theology and Teaching Public Theology The Church The Atonement and Being Human Her interests in feminist and liberation theologies inform each theme so that she might pass on theology better than she received it

Mystery Women, Volume Three (Revised) Colleen Barnett, 2010-12-31 Like other fictional characters female sleuths may live in the past or the future They may represent current times with some level of reality or shape their settings to suit an agenda There are audiences for both realism and escapism in the mystery novel It is interesting however to compare the fictional world of the mystery sleuth with the world in which readers live Of course mystery readers do not share one simplistic world They live in urban suburban and rural areas as do the female heroines in the books they read They may choose a book because it has a familiar background or because it takes them to places they long to visit Readers may be rich or poor young or old conservative or liberal So are the heroines What incredible choices there are today in mystery series This three volume encyclopedia of women characters in the mystery novel is like a gigantic menu Like a menu the descriptions of the items that are provided are subjective Volume 3 of Mystery Women as currently updated adds an additional 42 sleuths to the 500 plus who were covered in the initial Volume 3 These are more recently discovered sleuths who were introduced during the period from January 1 1990 to December 31 1999 This more than doubles the number of sleuths introduced in the 1980s 298 of whom were covered in Volume 2 and easily exceeded the 347 series and some outstanding individuals described in Volume 1 which covered a 130 year period from 1860 1979 It also includes updates on those individuals covered in the first edition changes in status short reviews of books published since the first edition through December 31 2008

Ethics in a Cocoon V. David Schwantes, 2007-09 Cocoon demonstrates in easy to understand language that ethics is about trust and happiness Trust is the essential ingredient to mutually supportive and durable relationships focused on reducing life's imperfections Such relationships are the key to happiness But we cannot live deep inside protective cocoons and still build trust and relationships Instead we must develop all the dimensions of what makes us human intellectual truth spiritual unity moral goodness and aesthetic beauty Above all we have to know ourselves and be able to pass the mirror test every day Our most important relationship after all being with ourself and we don't discover our spiritual unity without a Personal Strategic Plan Nor can we become ethically fit without enthusiasm equanimity and a commitment to excellence traits not found in cocoons Only ethical fitness can help us find the resolution to the fundamental ethical dilemmas we all face truth versus loyalty short term versus long term individual versus community and justice versus mercy This book suggests we use a variety of lenses to look at the world today power wealth prestige status We use the lenses of economics politics and technology We do not use nearly enough the lens of ethics relationships happiness decency and the golden mean Once we are ethically fit the result of continuous practice we are able to recognize ethical dilemmas approach them skillfully and resolve them successfully This book shows the way to such fitness which is useful in any context or relationship personal local or global Cocoon is a self improvement book of the first order with real life macro illustrations of the ethical dilemmas we face in a complex and crowded world in which too many of us pursue the dictates of false gods It includes over 500 practice questions and was developed as a textbook in the ethics courses the author taught to seniors at Ramapo College from 2002 th
