The Mbuti Pygmies Colin M. Turnbull, 1983 This case focuses on the Mbuti pygmy hunter gatherers of Zaire and their adaptation to change both before and after independence The Behavioral Ecology of Efe Pygmy Men in the Ituri Forest, Zaire Robert C. Bailey, 1991-01-01 Robert C Bailey reports on his observations of sixteen Efe Pygmy men in northeastern Zaire Bailey lived and worked with the men and their families in the northern Ituri Forest from March 1980 to January 1982 his research was part of a multidisciplinary project called the Ituri Project Bailey presents data on food production subsistence behaviors hunting techniques relationships between hunters and village dwellers and other aspects of the Efe society Foreword by John D Speth Hunter-Gatherers of the Congo Basin Barry S. Hewlett, 2017-07-12 The forest foragers of the Congo Basin known collectively as Pygmies are the largest and most diverse group of active hunter gatherers remaining in the world At least fifteen different ethno linguistic groups exist in the Congo Basin with a total population of 250 000 to 350 000 individuals Extensive knowledge about these groups has accumulated in the last forty years but readers have been forced to piece together what is known from many sources French Japanese American and British researchers have conducted the majority of the research each national research group has its own academic traditions history and publications Here leading academic authorities from diverse national traditions summarize recent research on forest hunter gatherers The volume explores the diversity and uniformity of Congo Basin hunter gatherer life by providing detailed but accessible overviews of recent research It represents the first book in over twenty five years to provide a comprehensive and holistic overview of African forest hunter gatherers Chapters discuss the cultural variation in characteristic features of Congo Basin hunter gatherer life such as their yodeled polyphonic music pronounced egalitarianism multiple child caregiving and complex relations with neighboring farming groups Other contributors address theoretical issues such as why Pygmies are short how tropical forest hunter gatherers live without the carbohydrates they receive from neighboring farmers and how hunter gatherer children learn to share so extensively Conservation de la Forêt Dense en Afrique Centrale Et de L'Ouest Kevin M. Cleaver, 1992 This volume brings together selected papers presented and discussed at the Conference on Conservation of West and Central African Rainforests held in Abidjan November 5 9 1990 Perspectives on Africa Roy Richard Grinker, Stephen C. Lubkemann, Christopher B. Steiner, 2010-05-17 The second edition of Perspectives on Africa A Reader in Culture History and Representation is both an introduction to the cultures of Africa and a history of the interpretations of those cultures Key essays explore the major issues and debates through a combination of classic articles and the newest research in the field Explores the dynamic processes by and through which scholars have described and understood African history and culture Includes selections from anthropologists historians philosophers and critics who collectively reveal the interpenetration of ideas and concepts within and across disciplines regions and historical periods Offers a combined focus on ethnography and theory giving students the means to link theory with data and perspective with practice Newly revised and updated edition of this popular text with 14 brand new chapters and two new sections Conflict and Violent Transformations and Development Governance and Globalization Hunters and Gatherers (Vol I) Tim Ingold, David Riches, James Woodburn, 2024-11-01 All that is central to the dynamic process in human society is evident in the study of hunter gatherers peoples whose subsistence way of life reflects the original form of human adaptation This is the thesis of these wide ranging volumes in which internationally leading scholars consider hunter gatherer peoples in Africa Asia Australia and North America and reflect theoretically on the hunter gatherer condition Volume 1 Hunters and Gatherers History Evolution and Social Change Volume II Hunters and Gatherers Property Power and Ideology The Forest People Colin Turnbull, 2015-10-01 The Forest People is an astonishingly intimate and life enhancing account of a hunter gatherer tribe living in harmony with nature and an all time classic of anthropology For three years Colin Turnbull lived with an isolated group of Pygmies deep in the forest of the African Congo experiencing their daily life first hand He attended their hunting parties and initiation ceremonies witnessed their music and their rituals observed their quarrels and love affairs He documented them as an anthropologist but was accepted among them as a friend A ground breaking work in its time The Forest People made him one of the most famous intellectuals of the 1960s and 1970s It remains a transporting account of an earthly paradise and of a legendary and fascinating people With a new foreword by Horatio Clare Mbuti Onukaba A. Ojo, Ph.D., 1995-12-15 The Mbuti are a nomadic people living in the Ituri rain forest in eastern Zaire Redefining Nature Roy Ellen, Katsuyoshi Fukui, 2021-01-07 How can anthropology improve our understanding of the interrelationship between nature and culture What can anthropology contribute to practical debates which depend on particular definitions of nature such as that concerning sustainable development Humankind has evolved over several million years by living in and utilizing nature and by assimilating it into culture Indeed the technological and cultural advancement of the species has been widely acknowledged to rest upon human domination and control of nature Yet by the 1960s the idea of culture in confrontation with nature was being challenged by science philosophy and the environmental movement Anthropology is increasingly concerned with such issues as they become more urgent for humankind as a whole This important book reviews the current state of the concepts of nature we use both as scientific devices and ideological constructs and is organised around three themes nature as a cultural construction the cultural management of the environment and relations between plants animals and humans The Cambridge Encyclopedia of Hunters and Gatherers Richard B. Lee, Richard Heywood Daly, Richard Daly, 1999-12-16 Hunting and gathering is humanity s first and most successful adaptation Until 12 000 years ago all humanity lived this way Surprisingly in an increasingly urbanized and technological world dozens of hunting and gathering societies have persisted and thrive worldwide resilient in the face of change their ancient ways now combined with the trappings of modernity The Encyclopedia is divided into three parts The first contains case studies by leading experts of over fifty hunting and gathering peoples in seven major world regions There is a general introduction and an archaeological overview for each region Part II contains thematic essays on prehistory social life gender music and art health religion and indigenous knowledge The final part surveys the complex histories of hunter gatherers encounters with colonialism and the state and their ongoing struggles for dignity and human rights as part of the worldwide movement of indigenous peoples

Mobility and Territoriality Michael Casimir, Aparnu Rao, 2021-01-08 Territorial behaviour among various herders and hunter gatherers has been discussed in earlier studies but this is the first time that a comparison of these three types of mobile populations has been attempted The original papers presented in this volume discuss the conditions and problems of securing access to resources among pastoralists peripatetics and hunting gathering and fishing communities in Africa Asia Europe and the Middle East A comprehensive introductory chapter places these empirical studies in a broader theoretical context of the behavioural sciences Dans la Forêt D'Afrique Centrale Serge Bahuchet, 1992 Peeters 1992 Hunters and Gatherers in the Modern World Peter P. Schweitzer, Megan Biesele, Robert K. Hitchcock, 2000 In light of negotiations now going on between people who rely on wild plants and animals and the governments of their territories about civil political social economic and cultural rights anthropologists explore dimensions of culture and pressures as they are manifested in particular peoples Their 27 papers from an August 1993 conference in Moscow Russian cover warfare and conflict resolution resistance identity and the state ecology demography and market issues gender and representation and world view and religious determination The examples come from most of the world's continents Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The King of the World in the Land of the Pygmies Joan Mark, 1998-12-01 Joan Mark offers an interpretive biography of Patrick Tracy Lowell Putnam 1904-53 who spent twenty five years living among the Bambuti pygmies of the Ituri Forest in what is now Zaire On the Epulu River he constructed Camp Putnam as a harmonious multiracial community He modeled his camp on the dude ranches of the American West taking in paying guests while running a medical clinic and occasionally offering legal aid to the local people and assumed the role of intermediary between locals and visitors including Colin M Turnbull author of the classic Forest People Mark describes Putnam's mercurial relations with family and with his African and American wives and follows him to his sad and violent end She places Patrick Putnam within the context of three different anthropological traditions and examines his contribution as an expert on pygmies People of the Tropical Rain Forest Julie Sloan Denslow, Christine Padoch, Curator of the Institute of Economic Botany Christine Padoch, 1988-01-01 Looks at the depiction of tropical rain forests in movies and art discusses government policy business exploitation and the future of the rain forest and describes the lives of forest people in South America Africa and Asia Children of the Forest Kevin Duffy, 1995-12-06 This intimate study portrays the hunter gatherer Mbuti pygmies of Zaire Kevin Duffy describes how these forest nomads who are as adapted to the forest as its wildlife gratefully acknowledge their beloved home as the source of everything they need food clothing shelter and affection Looking on the forest in deified terms they sing and pray to it and call themselves its children With his patience and knowledge of their ways

Duffy was accepted by these the worlds smallest people and invited to participate in the cycle of their lives from birth to death

The Imperial Lion Stuart A Marks, 2019-07-11 In the 1950s biologists became alarmed by the plight of Africa s wildlife Since then they have sought to arrest its decline but increasing competition between wild fauna and expanding human populations shows that protection alone has been inadequate The conservationists position and strategies have been progressively eroded large scale game cropping schemes have failed to produce expected revenues the consequences of the tourist industry have been unexpectedly detrimental and educational programs have rarely convinced rural Africans to conserve resources Dr Marks argues that the management and conservation of wild animals in Third World countries must include cultural as well as biological dimensions and that changes in human social systems will be necessary to sustain wildlife and the environmental processes He describes indigenous attempts to manage wildlife and suggests new research initiatives that would lead to wildlife policies more in keeping with human development needs and with the realities of the rural countryside

Margins of Insecurity Sam C. Nolutshungu, 1996 A number of crises since the end of the Cold War have demonstrated the insecurity of ordinary people in circumstances where states are either unable to provide protection or are themselves the principle sources of violence Public opinion has provoked international politicians to recognise a problem in which they should intervene but it is rare for effective policies to be implemented Emerging from a series of workshops on the International Security of Marginal Populations the essays seek solutions which go beyond the traditional emphasis on the interests of the state and give due weight to the needs of minority populations SAM C NOLUTSHUNGU was Professor of Political Science in the Frederick Douglass Institute of African and
