Mexican Cinema A Revision Revision Del Cine Mexicano:

Mexican Screen Fiction Paul Julian Smith, 2014-01-27 Mexican cinema is booming today a decade after the international successes of Amores perros and Y tu mamá también Mexican films now display a wider range than any comparable country from art films to popular genre movies and boasting internationally renowned directors like Alfonso Cuarón and Alejandro González Iñárritu and Guillermo del Toro At the same time television has broadened its output moving beyond telenovelas to produce higher value series and mini series Mexican TV now stakes a claim to being the most dynamic and pervasive national narrative This new book by Paul Julian Smith is the first to examine the flourishing of audiovisual fiction in Mexico since 2000 considering cinema and TV together It covers much material previously unexplored and engages with emerging themes including violence youth culture and film festivals The book includes reviews of ten films released between 2001 and 2012 by directors who are both established Maryse Sistach Carlos Reygadas and new Jorge Michel Grau Michael Rowe Paula Markovitch There is also an appendix that includes interviews carried out by the author in 2012 with five audiovisual professionals a feature director a festival director an exhibitor a producer and a TV screenwriter Mexican Screen Fiction will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars and essential reading for anyone interested in one of the most vibrant audiovisual industries in the world today

Mexican National Cinema Andrea Noble, 2005 Mexican National Cinema provides a thorough and detailed account of the vital and complex relationship between cinema and national identity in Mexico From Amores Perros and Y Tu Mama Tambien this book delves into the development of Mexican cinema from the intense cultural nationalism of the Mexican Revolution through the Golden Age of the 1930s and 1940s and the nuevo cine of the 1960s to the renaissance in Mexican cinema in the 1990s Individual chapters discuss the relationship with Hollywood cinema the stars of the Golden Age the role of foreign authors in the founding of Mexican cinema tensions in the industry in the 1960s national and international reception of contemporary film and film makers Examining the portrayal of Mexican nationhood through critical analysis of film genres including revolutionary films machismo and mexicanidad the prostitute and the work of female authors Mexican National Cinema is an excellent addition to all media film and cultural studies students

Motherhood in Mexican Cinema, 1941-1991 Isabel Arredondo, 2013-12-19 How were femininity and motherhood understood in Mexican cinema from the 1940s to the early 1990s Film analysis interviews with filmmakers academic articles and film reviews from newspapers are used to answer the question and trace the changes in such depictions Images of mothers in films by so called third wave filmmakers Busi Cortes Maria Novaro Dana Rotberg and Marisa Sistach are contrasted with those in Mexican classical films 1935 1950 and films from the 1970s and 1980s There are some surprising conclusions The most important restrictions in the depiction of mothers in classical cinema came not from the strict sexual norms of the 1940s but in reactions to women shown as having autonomous identities Also in contrast to classical films third wave films show a woman's problems within a social dimension making motherhood political in relation not to militancy within the left but to women's issues Third wave films approach the problems of Latin American society as those of individuals differentiated by gender sexuality and ethnicity in such films mothers are citizens directly affected by laws economic policies and cultural beliefs Cinesonidos Jacqueline Avila,2019-09-16 Author Jacqueline Avila looks at the ways that Mexican cinema and its music during the silent and early sound periods continuously reshaped the contested fluctuating space of Mexican identity functioning both as a sign and symptom of social and political change

Contemporary Mexican Cinema, 1989-1999 Miriam Haddu,2007 This study examines contextualizes and evaluates the significance of contemporary Mexican filmmaking focusing on the so called cine nuevo of 1989 1999 Accordingly the study is divided into three sections representing the key generic discourses that frame the films narratives and underlying aims The first analyzes contemporary Mexican cinema's representation of history on the cinematic screen and the second part of the book examines the rise in the number of women directors comparing it with the previous lack of female participation within the filmmaking arena the last section explores the relocation of cinematic geographies in contemporary cinema

Contemporary Latin American Cinema Deborah Shaw,2007-04-09 This engaging book explores some of the most significant films to emerge from Latin America since 2000 an extraordinary period of international recognition for the region's cinema Each chapter assesses an individual film with some contributors considering the reasons for the unprecedented commercial and critical successes of movies such as City of God The Motorcycle Diaries Y tu mamá también and Nine Queens while others examine why equally important films failed to break out on the international circuit Written by leading specialists the chapters not only offer textual analysis but also trace the films social context and production conditions as well as critical national and transnational issues Their well rounded analyses provide a rich picture of the state of contemporary filmmaking in a range of Latin American countries Nuanced and thought provoking the readings in this book will provide invaluable interpretations for students and scholars of Latin American film Contributions by Sarah Barrow Nuala Finnegan David William Foster Miraim Haddu Geoffrey Kantaris Deborah Shaw Lisa Shaw Rob Stone Else R P Vieira and Claire Williams The Migration of Musical Film Desirée J. Garcia,2014-08-01 Movie musicals are among the most quintessentially American art forms often celebrating mobility self expression and the pursuit of one's dreams But like America itself the Hollywood musical draws from many distinct ethnic traditions In this illuminating new study Desirée J Garcia examines the lesser known folk musicals from early African American Yiddish and Mexican filmmakers revealing how these were essential ingredients in the melting pot of the Hollywood musical The Migration of Musical Film shows how the folk musical was rooted in the challenges faced by immigrants and migrants who had to adapt to new environments balancing American individualism with family values and cultural traditions Uncovering fresh material from film industry archives Garcia considers how folk musicals were initially marginal productions designed to appeal to specific minority audiences and yet introduced themes that were gradually assimilated into the Hollywood mainstream No other book offers a comparative historical study of the folk musical from the first sound films in the 1920s to the genre's resurgence in the 1970s and 1980s Using an illustrative rather than comprehensive approach Garcia focuses on significant moments in the sub genre and rarely studied films such as All en el Rancho Grande along with familiar favorites that drew inspiration from earlier folk musicals everything from The Wizard of Oz to Zoot Suit If you think of movie musicals simply as escapist mainstream entertainment The Migration of Musical Film is sure to leave you singing a different tune Journal of the University Film Association, 1975

Wilt, 2024-10-17 Mexican cinema has largely been overlooked by international film scholars because of a lack of English language information and the fact that Spanish language information was difficult to find and often out of date This comprehensive filmography helps fill the need Arranged by year of release and then by title the filmography contains entries that include basic information film and translated title production company genre director cast a plot summary and additional information about the film Inclusion criteria a film must be a Mexican production or co production feature length one hour or more silent films excepted fictional documentaries and compilation films are not included unless the topic relates to Mexican cinema some docudramas and films with recreated or staged scenes are included and theatrically released or intended for theatrical release An Introduction to Octavio Paz Alberto Ruy Sanchez, 2018-07-06 An Introduction to Octavio Paz is a valuable and concise primer to the ideas of the world renowned Mexican writer and Nobel Prize winner

Research Libraries, 1979 Making Cinelandia Laura Isabel Serna, 2014-03-03 In the 1920s as American films came to dominate Mexico's cinemas many of its cultural and political elites feared that this Yankee invasion would turn Mexico into a cultural vassal of the United States In Making Cinelandia Laura Isabel Serna contends that Hollywood films were not simply tools of cultural imperialism Instead they offered Mexicans on both sides of the border an imaginative and crucial means of participating in global modernity even as these films and their producers and distributors frequently displayed anti Mexican bias Before the Golden Age of Mexican cinema Mexican audiences used their encounters with American films to construct a national film culture Drawing on extensive archival research Serna explores the popular experience of cinemagoing from the perspective of exhibitors cinema workers journalists censors and fans showing how Mexican audiences actively engaged with American films to identify more deeply with Mexico
