On The Pigs Back An Autobiographical Excursion:

On the Pig's Back Bill Naughton, 1991      The Intellectual Life of the British Working Classes Jonathan Rose, 2021-06-08 This is a landmark intellectual history of Britain's working classes from the preindustrial era to the twentieth century Drawing on workers memoirs social surveys library registers and more Jonathan Rose uncovers which books people read how they educated themselves and what they knew A new preface addresses the continuing relevance of the book amidst the upheavals of the present day An astonishing book Ian Sansom The Guardian A passionate work of history Rose has written a work of staggering ambition Daniel Akst Wall Street Journal Winner of the SHARP Book History Prize the American Philosophical Society's Jacques Barzun Prize and the British Council Prize cowinner of the Longman History Today Book of the Year Prize for 2001 named one of the finest books of 2001 by The Economist      The Lancashire Working Classes c.1880-1930 Trevor Griffiths, 2001-10-04 This book examines the experiences and values which shaped working class life in Britain in the half century from 1880 It takes as its focus a region Lancashire which was central to the social and political changes of the period The discussion centres on two towns Bolton and Wigan which while they were geographically close differed significantly in their industrial fortunes and their electoral development The formation of class identity is traced through developments in the world of work from the impact of technological and managerial innovations to the elaboration of collective bargaining procedures Beyond work particular attention is paid to the dynamics of neighbourhood and family life the latter emerging as an important source of continuity in working class life The broader impact of such influences are traced through a close examination of the electoral politics of the period Dr Griffiths conclusions fundamentally challenge the notion that the fifty years around the turn of the century witnessed the emergence of a working class more culturally and politically united than at any other time either before or since Rather an alternative narrative of class development is offered in which broad continuities in working class life in particular the survival of religious ethnic and occupational points of division are emphasised Despite the presence of strong and stable labour institutions from trade unions to Co operative and Friendly Societies the picture emerges of a working class more individualist than collectivist in outlook more flexible in response to economic change and less constrained by the broader solidarities of work and neighbourhood than has previously been supposed      The Literature of the Irish in Britain L. Harte, 2009-02-12 The first critical survey of an unjustly neglected body of literature the autobiographies and memoirs of writers of Irish birth or background who lived and worked in Britain between 1725 and the present day It offers a stimulating and provocative introduction to the themes preoccupations and narrative strategies of a diverse range of writers      Modern Irish Autobiography L. Harte, 2007-04-12 Modern Irish Autobiography provides the first comprehensive critical analysis of the Irish autobiographical tradition from the early nineteenth century to the present day This pioneering collection offers readers a stimulating and provocative introduction to the principal themes modes and narrative strategies of Irish autobiographers

The Historical Contexts and Contemporary Uses of Mass Observation Lucy D. Curzon, Benjamin Jones, 2024-10-17 The Historical Contexts and Contemporary Uses of Mass Observation embraces new approaches and themes that highlight Mass Observation's long history as an innovative research organization, a social movement and an archival project. Spanning the period from Mass Observation's inception to the present day, essay authors discuss a wide range of topics including anthropology, history, popular politics, cultural studies, literature, selfhood, emotion, art and visual studies. Indeed, what emerges across this volume is confirmation that engagement with Mass Observation, whether its historical materials or those produced in the last decade, is crucial to understanding the vast array of experiences that make up British life. Black Market Britain Mark Roodhouse, 2013-03-21 The first study of the underground economy in austerity Britain. Drawing on a wide range of sources including recently declassified material, it reveals the nature and extent of black marketeering in rationed and price-controlled goods during the 1940s and early 1950s. Global Dilemmas Malcolm Hardman, 2017-10-06 No more than there can be time without space, can there be history without locality? This book takes a road less traveled into a locality that provides fresh insights into our global dilemmas. Bolton-le-Moors was a global center of cotton, coal and engineering, whose factory engines were the beating heart of the Victorian world. Commanding the widest range of trades of any town in the Empire, it specialized in papermaking, from pawn tickets to banknotes, via newspapers and syndicated fiction. Responsive to locality yet world-aware, its many independent writers shared a creative forum with authors like Wordsworth, Tennyson, Ruskin, Gaskell, Charlotte Brontë, Tolstoy, Whitman, Thomas Hardy, T.S. Eliot, Virginia Woolf. Other locals include mathematician Thomas Kirkman, father of design theory, Thomas Moran, painter of the American New West, Charles Holden, the Empire's leading Modern architect. Bolton's printed culture was founded on traditions that made it a bulwark of parliamentary puritanism in the days of Reformation and Civil War. These traditions increasingly confronted global dilemmas that the town's own inventiveness and entrepreneurship had helped create, yet its high moorlands also provided a breathing space to generate imaginative, spiritual, political and practical remedies. Global Dilemmas completes the account of Bolton writing initiated in A Kingdom in Two Parishes and continued in Classic Soil, an arc of discourse from Thomas Lever (1521-77) whose social experiments provided the model for the Protestant colonization of the New World to his kinsman W.H. Lever, Lord Leverhulme, sincere Christian, world capitalist, progressive social thinker and pursuing the logic of profit, exploiter of Conrad's African heart of darkness. Family History in Lancashire Andrew Gritt, 2020-07-13 This book explores the history of the family in Lancashire during and after industrialisation. The family is society's most basic building block and as each contributor shows, its ability to adapt to circumstances is one of its most enduring qualities. Economic change created social stresses which, whilst resulting in administrative and institutional change, were primarily absorbed within family groups. Indeed, it could be argued that the family was society's most effective safety valve and shock absorber as individuals responded to the pressures created by industrialisation with its associated problems. This book brings together the work of leading historians who have each made unique contributions to our understanding of the family in the North West

Biography and Children Stuart Hannabuss, Rita Marcella, 1993 This title examines the perceived value of biographical information and the way in which it is used by librarians and educationalists There is an historical view of literature together with a detailed investigation of contemporary material published for children This book provides a critical and biographical guide to such materials some of which are international but with emphasis on British and American publications The Irish in the New Communities Patrick O'Sullivan, 1992 A series of case studies and theoretical chapters to continue the exploration of major themes within Irish migration studies The emphasis is the migrant Irish relationship with the great cities of Britain America and Australia Includes a chapter about Butte Montana which had an Irish population of 8 000 out of a total of 30 000 in 1900 Spring and Port Wine Bill Naughton, 1994 The Heinemann Plays series offers contemporary drama and classic plays in durable classroom editions Many have large casts and an equal mix of boy and girl parts In this play the whole Crompton family becomes entangled in a row in which a good many uncomfortable truths are told The Guardian Index, 1987 Children's Literature Abstracts, 1991 Bookbird, 1990 The Annual Obituary, 1992 Transactions of the Historic Society of Lancashire and Cheshire for the Year ... Historic Society of Lancashire and Cheshire, 1997 List of members in each volume Owners of the Means of Instruction? Jenny Plastow, 2007 Marx and Marxism supposedly dead and buried seem to find ways of staying alive This collection of articles explores how some of these ideas might offer useful ways at looking at children's literature Contributions include views of children's books and periodicals written in Britain during the Great War and a paper on Walter Benjamin Contemporary Dramatists, 1988 Something about the Author Hile, 1996 Provides biographical information on over 100 authors of books for young readers
