Recovery Strategy For Europe:

Recovery Strategy for Europe Harry Cowie, John Pinder, Federal Trust for Education and Research, 1993 Here the Federal trust has gathered a mainly British team of experts to give their critical analyses of what needs to be done to build Europe's competitive position and to create worthwhile jobs They address the agenda inspired during 1993 by EC Commission President Jacques Delors Ways are suggested for how the EC national regional and local government should move forward together to tackle the big social and environmental problems of the next decades The contributors conclude that only closer intergration will create the necessary political conditions for sustained recovery European Recovery Program

Europe's Poly-Crises Jozef Bátora, John Erik Fossum, 2024-05-15 Against the backdrop of a more differentiated European Union this book discusses the relationship between differentiation and domination in the EU in relation to how it has been transformed through the financial and refugee crises the COVID 19 pandemic the Russian invasion of Ukraine and in general a more volatile and less rule bound global context In doing so it assesses to what extent these adaptations represent significant change generating new problems and challenges or on the other hand providing an opportunity for new solutions or even signalling a new approach to governance that can mitigate problems associated with domination Differentiation is discussed not only from a legal perspective but with special attention to structural and institutional arrangements which includes patterns of path dependence and built in biases This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of public sector crisis management international organisations and EU politics and studies Legal Foundations of EU Economic Governance

Antonio Estella de Noriega, 2018-09-06 A critical analysis of the legal dimension of European Union economic governance Legal Foundations of EU Economic Governance Antonio Estella, 2018-09-06 Since the economic crisis unfolded in 2008 the European Union economic governance framework has been profoundly transformed from a legal perspective The EU has adopted new tools institutions and rules to tackle the changes and is arguably better prepared to combat any future crises This book analyses the basic legal framework of EU economic governance and considers the economic underpinnings which underlie legal institutions in this area It uses analytical dialectics as a method of analysis and the paradigm of law as credibility as the main model through which the substantive parts of EU economic governance are accounted for Important issues such as access exit and expulsion from the euro the independence of the European Central Bank the Stability and Growth Pact bail outs to member states and the EU's economic strategy are addressed in a clear critical and innovative way A European Economic Recovery Plan European Commission, 2009 Recoge 1 Explanatory notes to the statistical graphs and data 2 Assessment of the national reform programmes

Europe in Law and Literature Laura Anina Zander, Nicola Kramp-Seidel, 2023-05-08 Europe is a broad and multifaceted construct variously understood as a geographical political legal institutional social or cultural formation It is characterized by numerous conflicts and processes of negotiation that have accompanied or sustained the development of normative orders and divergent conceptions of law both in relation to individual states and to Europe as a whole The same applies to the field of literature language and aesthetics numerous myths and ideologies have shaped today s understanding of Europe and still support it today This volume examines how such processes were legally structured and literarily addressed criticized and complemented Its interdisciplinary perspective and open and dynamic both dialogical and dialectical format intends to replicate the fragmented sometimes conflicting but always productive mosaic of voices ideas and concepts that have constituted and still constitute Europe whether in the past present or future Instead of resolving any of the complexities and contradictions that frame discussions on law literature and Europe it aims to induce further engagement and confrontations with new and alternative visions of Europe

The EU Recovery Strategy Silvia Rainone,Philippe Pochet,2022 Affordable Rental Housing: Making It Part of Europe's Recovery Khalid ElFayoumi,Ms. Izabela Karpowicz,Ms. Jenny Lee,Ms. Marina Marinkov,Ms.

Aiko Mineshima,Jorge Salas,Andreas Tudyka,Ms. Andrea Schaechter,2021-05-24 Many European economies have faced pressure from rental housing affordability that has widened social and economic divergence While significant country and regional differences exist this departmental paper finds that in many advanced European economies a large and rising share of low income renters the young and those living in cities is overburdened In several locations middle income groups also increasingly face rental affordability issues

The COVID 19 pandemic plunged the EU into its worst ever recession and risks increasing inequalities notably between regions Thanks to a bold and innovative policy response including a common instrument to finance national recovery plans Next Generation EU growth is rebounding but ambitious reforms will be essential to heal the scars of the pandemic and succeed in the green and digital transitions Green Finance Strategies for Post-COVID-19 Economic Recovery in Southeast Asia Asian Development Bank,2020-10-01 The coronavirus disease COVID 19 pandemic has seen governments across developing Asia move significant amounts of capital into relief efforts that have saved countless lives and livelihoods But emerging economic recovery packages must not upset the sensitive balance between economic growth and the region s natural capital Many global thinkers are advocating the critical role of green infrastructure in supporting economic growth and livelihoods while safeguarding the Paris Agreement targets This publication examines green and innovative finance mechanisms that can be incorporated into government recovery strategies to incentivize green infrastructure investment These mechanisms can play a key role in catalyzing much needed funds from private capital for a green and sustainable regional recovery Governing Social Inclusion Kenneth A. Armstrong,2010-08-19 In May 1997

European leaders met in Amsterdam to agree a further round of revisions to the founding Treaties of the European Union. Embedded within its new social policy provisions was an objective for the EU and the Member States to combat social exclusion. By 2000 a new governance technique the Open Method of Co ordination had emerged as the means of taking forward this objective utilising a combination of EU level objective setting and decentralised policy making. May 1997 also saw a new Labour government sweep to power promising constitutional change including devolution of powers to Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland and pledging to tackle poverty and social exclusion. Strategies to tackle social exclusion are now conducted in a multi level context. On the one hand the EU is seeking to steer national systems through the open method of co ordination. On the other hand in the United Kingdom it is not only central government policies that aim to tackle social exclusion but also the devolved administrations and local government. It is not only the levels of governance that have changed but also the techniques and the actors involved. New forms of partnership have emerged at EU national and sub national levels between governmental and non governmental organisations. All of which raises challenges to orthodox democratic constitutionalism and possibilities for democratic experimentalism. In all of this law and in particular European Union law seems to have been decentred in favour of new normalising practices associated with social indicators and the mapping of exclusion. By exploring this changing governance context the book addresses the impact of new modes of governance on the conduct of social inclusion strategies in the EU and UK. Elements in European Recovery, 1948

Marshall Plan Days (Routledge Revivals) Charles P. Kindleberger, 2009-10-15. Financial Times Best Books of 2023 in Economics. The global battle among the three dominant digital powers, the United States, China and the European Union, is intensifying. All three regimes are racing to regulate tech companies, with each advancing a competing vision for the digital economy while attempting to expand its sphere of influence in the digital world. In Digital Empires, her provocative follow up to The Brussels Effect, Anu Bradford explores a rivalry that will shape the world in the decades to come. Across the globe, people dependent on digital technologies have become increasingly alarmed that their rapid adoption and transformation have ushered in an exceedingly concentrated economy where a few powerful companies control vast economic wealth and political power, undermine data privacy and widen the gap between economic winners and losers. In response, world leaders are variously embracing the idea of reining in the most dominant tech companies. Bradford examines three competing regulatory approaches: the American market driven model, the Chinese state driven model and the European rights driven regulatory model and discusses how governments and tech companies navigate the inevitable conflicts that arise when these regulatory approaches collide in the international domain Which digital empire will prevail in the contest for global influence remains an open question yet their contrasting strategies are increasingly clear Digital societies are at an inflection point In the midst of these unfolding regulatory battles governments tech companies and digital citizens are making important choices that will shape the future ethos of the digital society Digital Empires lays bare the choices we face as societies and individuals explains the forces that shape those choices and illuminates the immense stakes involved for everyone who uses digital technologies European Recovery Program. Assistance to European Economic Recovery. Jan 8-10, 12-5, 1948 United States. Congress. Senate. Foreign Relations,1940 Slippery Slope Giles Merritt,2016 Shortlisted for 2016 European Book Prize Giles Merritt describes himself as a sceptical europhile For many years among the foremost commentators on the politics and economics shaping Europe he was named by the Financial Times as one of 30 Eurostars who are the most influential voices in Brussels Slippery Slope is far from the usual run of uncritical EU related studies Its aim is to set alarm bells ringing across Europe with its revealing insights into our increasingly troubled future Giles Merritt argues that the steepness and suddenness of Europe s decline in the Asian century will depend on the actions we Europeans undertake And there are two key lessons that we need to face from the beginning Firstly the good times aren t coming back without a massive effort on our part And secondly in a fast developing world of 9 10 billion people no single European country can survive and prosper on its own Merritt sets out to sort fact from fiction in his analysis of Europe s weaknesses and the policies needed to address them Placing the outlook for Europe in its global context he assesses Europe s decline in relative as well as absolute terms and puts forward an ambitious but realistic to do list for Europe s policymakers if our comparatively privileged life styles are not to be seriously threatened in the coming years In the wake of Brexit this is a hard hitting warning that unless Europeans shake themselves awake their future will be increasingly gloomy Anyone who believes that the economic crisis that began in 2008 is just a blip will find this book a salutary lesson in the reality of Europe s position Tax Law in Times of Crisis and Recovery Dominic de Cogan,Alexis Brassey,Peter Harris,2023-05-04 This book examines the relationship between tax law and crisis In times of environmental financial and public health breakdown policymakers look to tax for solutions Yet these crises also constrain the ways in which tax liabilities can be imposed and administered and limit the revenues that can be collected What should governments do in these circumstances and what are the wider consequences for states societies and institutions such as the EU The book shows how crises place strain on the basic functions of tax including revenue raising institution building regulation redistribution and the structuring of society These strains bear more heavily on some sections of business and society than others This makes the tax consequences of crisis unpredictable It also means that the best choice of legal response is not merely a technical matter Instead it engages deeper attitudes towards crisis relief change social values and democratic control These issues are highlighted by COVID 19 but are of utmost lasting importance The book takes a comprehensive approach and looks in more depth at the systemic roles that crises play in contemporary tax systems It features an impressive cast of leading researchers across multiple jurisdictions and is essential for policymakers and scholars alike

Africa, the EU and the Samoa Agreement Sophia Price, Mark Langan, 2025-03-31 This edited volume provides a timely and critical analysis of Africa EU Relations in the new Samoa Agreement phase of the long standing Eurafrican relationship Drawing on a range of critical perspectives and contributions it moves beyond Eurocentric visions of policy co operation on development to highlight three core themes that frame the analysis within this volume the new scramble for Africa Europe s ontological security and the securitisation of development and African agency In doing so it assesses EU actors engagement with African institutions in relation to key areas of policy collaboration including trade development health migration and security In this context it examines whether the partnership offers African states and regional institutions a genuine pathway to development or whether historical power asymmetries remain entrenched and perhaps even exacerbated through the new Africa EU Agreement This book will be of key interest to scholars students and practitioners involved in Development Studies EU studies Africa EU Relations African politics and International Relations and more broadly to International Political Economy and Comparative Regionalism
