On The Mysteries Of Unemployment Causes Consequences And Policies:

On the Mysteries of Unemployment, 2013-04-09 Since the beginning of the economic crisis of the 1980s considerable research has been dedicated to the study of the unemployment problem Nevertheless the phenomenon has not become fully understood nor are its consequences adequately prevented In this important new volume On the Mysteries of Unemployment economists and social scientists come together to offer the reader the latest insights on unemployment and policies regarding unemployment from the perspectives of both disciplines On the Mysteries of Unemployment contains four main sections Part One provides an introductory chapter and general overview Part Two contains rich contributions that provide new insights from an economic science perspective while Part Three offers a balanced view from social scientists The final section is devoted to the examination of policy issues concerning unemployment This volume unique in its field will be of interest to researchers students politicians and policy makers Ibss: Political Science: 1992 British Library of Political and Economic Science, 1993 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences

Engaging Public Sector Clients John Alford, 2009-04-08 Exploring three rich cases across three countries this book shows how government organizations need their clients to contribute time and effort to co producing public services and how organizations can better elicit this work from them by providing good client service and appealing to their intrinsic needs and social values Advances in Quality of Life Theory and Research Ed Diener, Don Rahtz, 2012-12-06 The International Society for Quality of Life Studies held its first conference in Charlotte North Carolina in 1997 Participants at the conference were allowed to submit their papers for the present volume The submitted manuscripts went through a review and revision process and the papers in this book represent the best articles from that process Because the society sponsoring this volume is international in character it is not surprising that the 11 contributions are from 4 different countries Canada 3 India 1 Netherlands 3 and the United States 4 Thus the volume is cross national in authorship although we hope that future works can include more papers from additional nations Ten of the eleven papers consider quality of life in terms of some aspect of subjective well being The book is broken into three sections the first section presenting material on broad theories of subjective well being the second section covering how work and income are related to subjective well being and the third section containing one chapter on health and one on political representation I am proud to present these broad ranging chapters on quality of life On the Challenges of Unemployment in a Regional Europe Cornelis Henricus Antonius Verhaar, 1996 Offers insight into unemployment related issues as studied in various disciplines in a number of European regions and gives some surprising examples of the flexibility needed in thinking about these issues Contending Liberalisms in World Politics James L. Richardson, 2001 After introducing the theme of contending liberalisms Richardson traces the emergence over time of a distinctive liberal view of international relations and reviews the present state of liberal

N. (Raja) Junankar,2016-01-12 The global crisis has led to dramatic increases in unemployment rates over most of the countries of the OECD This book provides alternative explanations of this phenomenon Junankar begins with surveys of the labour market labour demand labour supply and labour force participation He argues that the growth of unemployment and long term unemployment is mainly due to a lack of aggregated demand and not due to high unemployment benefits Economics of the Labour Market shows that unemployment and long term unemployment impose serious and significant costs on individuals families and society in general Raja Junankar focuses on vital social issues arising from the malfunctioning of economies and this collection of essays tackles the real cost of unemployment Youth Martijn P. M. de Goede,1996 Comprises 12 papers on sociological and economic aspects of youth unemployment Includes papers on the role of education and training in the UK transition from school to work in the UK and Germany psychological well being and identity development in the Netherlands long term unemployment among young women in Belgium effects of father s employment on school careers and values of children in Belgium family relations and the influence of local culture on youth training schemes in the Netherlands Includes results of a number of surveys Journal of Economic Psychology ,2001 Institutions and Regional Labour Markets in Europe Lambert van der Laan,Santos M.
