Edited by J.J. Crooks J. J. Crooks, 1973 Missionary Practices on the Gold Coast, 1832-1895, Maritime Culture and Everyday Life in Nineteenth- and Twentieth-Century Coastal Ghana Kwaku Nti, 2024-01-02 The communities along the coastline of Ghana boast a long and vibrant maritime culture In the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the region experienced creeping British imperialism and incorporation into the British Gold Coast colony Drawing on a wealth of Ghanaian archival sources historian Kwaku Nti shows how many aspects of traditional maritime daily life customary ritual performances fishing and concepts of ownership and land served as a means of resistance and allowed residents to contest and influence the socio political transformations of the era Nti explored how the Ebusua female and Asafo male local social groups especially in Cape Coast became bastions of indigenous identity and traditions during British colonial rule while at the same time functioning as focal points for demanding a share of emerging economic opportunities A convincing demonstration of the power of the indigenous everyday life to complicate the reach of empire Maritime Culture and Everyday Life in Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Coastal Ghana reveals a fuller history of West African coastal communities Where the Negroes Are Masters Randy J. Sparks, 2014-01-06 Annamaboe largest slave trading port on the Gold Coast was home to wily African merchants whose partnerships with Europeans made the town an integral part of Atlantic webs of exchange Randy Sparks recreates the outpost s feverish bustle and brutality tracing the entrepreneurs black and white who thrived on a lucrative traffic in human beings Imperial Frontier in the Tropics W. David McIntyre, 1967-06-18 The Image of Africa Philip D. Rebecca Shumway, 2011 The history of Ghana attracts popular interest out of proportion to its small size and marginal importance to the global economy Ghana is the land of Kwame Nkrumah and the Pan Africanist movement of the 1960s it has been a temporary home to famous African Americans like W E B DuBois and Maya Angelou and its Asante Kingdom and signature kente cloth global symbols of African culture and pride are well known Ghana also attracts a continuous flow of international tourists because of two historical sites that are among the most notorious monuments of the transatlantic slave trade Cape Coast and Elmina Castles These looming structures are a vivid reminder of the horrific trade that gave birth to the black population of the Americas The Fante and the Transatlantic Slave Trade explores the fascinating history of the transatlantic slave trade on Ghana's coast between 1700 and 1807 Here author Rebecca Shumway brings to life the survival experiences of southern Ghanaians as they became both victims of continuous violence and successful brokers of enslaved human beings The era of the slave trade gave birth to a new culture in this part of West Africa just as it was giving birth to new cultures across the Americas The Fante and the Transatlantic Slave Trade pushes Asante scholarship to the forefront of African diaspora and Atlantic World studies by showing the integral role of Fante middlemen and transatlantic trade in the development of the Asante economy prior to 1807 Rebecca Shumway is Assistant Professor of History at the University of Pittsburgh

Britain and International Law in West Africa Inge Van Hulle, 2020 In the past few decades the understanding of the relationship between nations has undergone a radical transformation The role of the traditional nation state is diminishing along with many of the traditional vocabularies which were once used to describe what has been called ever since Jeremy Bentham coined the phrase in 1780 international law The older boundaries between states are growing evermore fluid new conceptions and new languages have emerged which are slowly coming to replace the image of a world of sovereign independent nation states which has dominated the study of international relations since the early nineteenth century This redefinition of the international arena demands a new understanding of classical and contemporary questions in international and legal theory It is the editors conviction that the best way to achieve this is by bridging the traditional divide between international legal theory intellectual history and legal and political history The aim of the series therefore is to provide a forum for historical studies from classical antiquity to the twenty first century that are theoretically informed and for philosophical work that is historically conscious in the hope that a new vision of the rapidly evolving international world its past and its possible future may emerge Book jacket

Slave Traders by Invitation Finn Fuglestad, 2018-07-01 The Slave Coast situated in what is now the West African state of Benin was the epicentre of the Atlantic Slave Trade But it was also an inhospitable surf ridden coastline subject to crashing breakers and devoid of permanent human settlement Nor was it easily accessible from the interior due to a lagoon which ran parallel to the coast The local inhabitants were not only sheltered against incursions from the sea but were also locked off from it Yet paradoxically it was this coastline that witnessed a thriving long term commercial relation ship between Europeans and Africans based on the trans Atlantic slave trade How did it come about How was it all organised And how did the locals react to the opportunities these new trading relations offered them The Kingdom of Dahomey is usually cited as the Slave Coast s archetypical slave raiding and slave trading polity An inland realm it was a latecomer to the slave trade and simply incorporated a pre existing system by dint of military prowess which ultimately was to prove radically counterproductive Fuglestad s book seeks to explain the Dahomean anomaly and its impact on the Slave Coast s societies and polities
