Quaternary Geology of the Hominid Fossil Bearing Formations in Java : $ B Report Indonesia-Japan Joint Research Project CTA-41, 1976-1979 ,1985 Quaternary Geology of the Hominid Fossil Bearing Formations in Java
Naotsune Watanabe,Darwin Kadir,1985 The Pleistocene Boundary and the Beginning of the Quaternary John A van Couvering,John A. Van Couvering,2004-12-16 This book documents the agreed geological reference point for the Pleistocene boundary and its worldwide correlation Sangiran: Man, Culture, and Environment in Pleistocene Times Truman Simanjuntak,Bagyo Prasetyo,Retno Handini,2001 Continuity or Replacement Guenter Brauer,Fred H. Smith,2020-08-26 This volume is based on the symposium on controversies in Homo sapiens evolution in Zagreb It examines the competing models for modern human origins within the framework of present day knowledge in the areas of human paleontology paleolithic archaeology and molecular genetics Tropical Forests in Prehistory, History, and Modernity Patrick Roberts,2019-01-04 In popular discourse tropical forests are synonymous with nature and wilderness battlegrounds between apparently pristine floral faunal and human communities and the unrelenting industrial and urban powers of the modern world It is rarely publicly understood that the extent of human adaptation to and alteration of tropical forest environments extends across archaeological historical and anthropological timescales This book is the first attempt to bring together evidence for the nature of human interactions with tropical forests on a global scale from the emergence of hominins in the tropical forests of Africa to modern conservation issues Following a review of the natural history and variability of tropical forest ecosystems this book takes a tour of human and human ancestor occupation and use of tropical forest environments through time Far from being pristine primordial ecosystems this book illustrates how our species has inhabited and modified tropical forests from the earliest stages of its evolution While agricultural strategies and vast urban networks emerged in tropical forests long prior to the arrival of European colonial powers and later industrialization this should not be taken as justification for the massive deforestation and biodiversity threats imposed on tropical forest ecosystems in the 21st century Rather such a long term perspective highlights the ongoing challenges of sustainability faced by forager agricultural and urban societies in these environments setting the stage for more integrated approaches to conservation and policy making and the protection of millennia of ecological and cultural heritage bound up in these habitats

Evolution of Island Mammals Alexandra van der Geer,George Lyras,John de Vos,Michael Dermitzakis,2011-02-14 Evolution on islands differs in a number of important ways from evolution on mainland areas Over millions of years of isolation exceptional and sometimes bizarre mammals evolved on islands such as pig sized elephants and hippos giant rats and gorilla sized lemurs that would have been formidable to their mainland ancestors This timely and innovative book is the first to offer a much needed synthesis of recent advances in the exciting field of the evolution and extinction of fossil insular placental mammals It provides a comprehensive overview of current knowledge on fossil island mammals worldwide ranging from the Oligocene to the onset of the Holocene The book addresses evolutionary processes and key aspects of insular mammal biology exemplified by a variety of fossil species The authors discuss the human factor in past extinction events and loss of insular biodiversity This accessible and richly illustrated textbook is written for graduate level students and professional researchers in evolutionary biology palaeontology biogeography zoology and ecology

Biogeography, Time and Place: Distributions, Barriers and Islands Willem Renema, 2007-09-07 Biogeography considers the distribution of biological units over a wide range of scales The units range from genotypes populations and species to families and higher taxa Processes can be local such as the isolation on islands due to sea level fluctuations or large scale tectonic processes that separates continents and creates oceans In all processes time is an important factor and by combining data on recent patterns with paleontological data the understanding of the distribution of extant taxa can be improved This volume focuses on speciation due to isolation in island like settings and the evolution of large scale diversity as the result of origination maintenance and extinction

The Wisdom of the Bones Alan Walker, Pat Shipman, 1997-09-02 Fascinating As engaging an explanation of how scientists study fossil bones as any I have ever read John R Alden Philadelphia Inquirer In 1984 a team of paleoanthropologists on a dig in northern Kenya found something extraordinary a nearly complete skeleton of Homo erectus a creature that lived 1.5 million years ago and is widely thought to be the missing link between apes and humans The remains belonged to a tall rangy adolescent male The researchers called him Nariokotome boy In this immensely lively book Alan Walker one of the lead researchers and his wife and fellow scientist Pat Shipman tell the story of that epochal find and reveal what it tells us about our earliest ancestors We learn that Nariokotome boy was a highly social predator who walked upright but lacked the capacity for speech In leading us to these conclusions The Wisdom of the Bones also offers an engaging chronicle of the hundred year long search for a missing link a saga of folly heroic dedication and inspired science Brilliantly captures an intellectual odyssey One of the finest examples of a practicing scientist writing for a popular audience

Modern Quaternary Research in Southeast Asia, Volume 18 Susan G. Keates, Juliette M. Pasveer, 2021-06-23 Written for researchers university lecturers and advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students in all fields of archaeological and anthropological study this collection features new research from different excavation sites around Indonesia together with pioneering expert analysis Groundbreaking new theories on early colonization feature alongside a thorough and up to date examination of field methods and techniques and valuable insight into human development in Indonesia and beyond Focused on Java and Sulawesi these research findings highlight important recent advances in quaternary research Results from a cave excavation in Southern Java provide a much needed long term palaeoclimatic record based on a lowland pollen sequence from Central Java while the contributions from South Sulawesi include a pioneering archaeobotanical analysis a new hypothesis on the earliest human colonisation of this island and an attempt to reconstruct preceramic human biological population affinities In addition the little known archaeology of the tiny island of Roti is presented and discussed here with particular attention on prehistoric survival in an impoverished island environment

Conceptual Issues in Modern Human Origins Research Geoffrey A. Clark, Catherine M. Willermet, While those who study human origins now agree that the evolution of modern human form extends back much further in time than the evolution of modern human behavior they disagree sharply as to how to interpret the substantive data Two fundamentally incommensurate interpretations of our origins the Replacement camp and the Continuity camp have now emerged out of pre existing models and theories that go back to the last quarter of the 19th century This book contends that these positions are based on radically different biases and assumptions about what the remote human past was like The purpose of this volume is to examine those conceptual differences not to arrive at a consensus but rather to explore the reasons why a consensus might never be possible
