Seldin,1997 The Library owns the volumes of the American Jewish Yearbook from 1899 current H.V. Evatt and the Establishment of Israel Daniel Mandel,2004 This book provides a valuable study of Evatt the Zionist as well as illuminating a fascinating political figure Networked Community Sue Silberberg,2020-04-28 In 1835 a renegade group of Tasmanians wishing to expand their landholdings disembarked in what was to become Melbourne This colonising expedition was funded by a group of investors including the Jewish emancipist Joseph Solomon Thus in Melbourne as in the settlement of the continent itself Jews were at the foundation of colonisation Unlike many other settlers these Jews predominantly came from urban backgrounds Although principally from London some of them had experienced other forms of Jewish urbanism in central and eastern Europe the Ottoman Empire and the Caribbean and applied their experience to the formation of a new emancipated conceptualisation of urban Judaism In Victoria as in the other new Australian colonies there were no civil or political restrictions on the Jewish community With the establishment of Melbourne Jewish settlers were required to create new communal frameworks and the religious bodies of an active Jewish life The community s structure and the institutions they founded were a pragmatic response to the necessities of communal formation and the realities of maintaining Judaism within this colonial outpost. As with other Jewish communities in the large centres of the world they responded to the freedoms of an emancipated society while the political and social environment of a new city such as Melbourne provided a unique set of opportunities. Unlike in other cities where Jewish property ownership was restricted here Jews could live and work where they chose becoming from the first land sales investors in property. Subsequently as the city expanded as developers and builders they influenced the formation of the urban fabric while their intellectual and economic connections brought new political and intellectual ideas and networks to the colonial experience. International

Bibliography of Sociology 1995, 1996 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences. In Their Merit Rodney Gouttman, 2015-03-06 Australia entered the Great War of 1914-18 on the coattails of her imperial mother Great Britain. Some 420 000 of her citizens fought in the islands off New Guinea Gallipoli the Western Front and the Middle East. Among them was a relatively large chunk of the countrys small Jewish population. The precise number remains unknown since many enlisted as Christians. The Jewish story of World War I is far more complex than the current communal narrative monopolised as it is by the superb military leadership of General Sir John Monash and the avowals of passionate loyalty of Australian Jewry to king country and empire. It is claimed that this was manifest in its relatively large enlistment and war effort on the home front. At all times an edgy Anglo Australian Jewish leadership was looking over its shoulder worried by possible accusations of disloyalty. The sketchy account of the Australian Jewish involvement in World War I is due to a lack of evidence from that era and little enthusiasm for collecting whatever was available subsequently. Much of what does exist lacks a grassroots Jewish voice except for a few diaries and letters. Nonetheless it is most likely that the capacity of Jewish communal leaders to influence the average Australian Jews attitude to enlistment or home front activities was minimal. One matter is certain and that is that a strong belief in social integration helped prevent the formation of any communal organisation to care for ill and wounded Jewish veterans. Who's who in Australia, 2006. A Subject Index to Current Literature Australian Public Affairs Information Service, Journal of the Royal Australian Historical Society Royal Australian Historical Society, 2003 Includes the Society's Annual report and statement of accounts. Who's who in Australia 2008, 2007 A biographic reference to notable people in Australia. Entrants are drawn from all areas of Australian life including the arts politics education medicine defence business diplomatic service and recipients of honours and awards. The Forgotten Fifties John Murphy, Judith Smart, 1997 Some of Australia's leading historians present new perspectives on social and cultural life in the 1950s. The 1950s is usually treated in the popular media as a metaphor for an Australia that was complacent monocultural banal and domesticated. On the other hand historical writing about the decade has long been dominated by accounts of political and foreign policy conflict the Labor Split the Cold War and the seemingly endless long summer of Robert Menzies This collection assembles some of Australia's leading historians to present new perspectives on the 1950s Focusing on social and cultural themes they reveal a decade full of contradictions which belie the common simplistic accounts of the time Ranging from the education of the young Barry Humphries to the idea of an Australian identity in the lead up to the 1956 Olympics these essays also include the personal recollections of three leading historians providing a lively and critical insight into the Australia of the period Drawing out themes such as style sexuality modernism the suburbs travel writing and immigrant assimilation the authors excavate the experience of everyday life and the attitudes that characterised the 1950s They present a past that despite having shaped our lives continues to be disputed in contemporary Australia APAIS, Australian Public Affairs
