Democracy's Midwife Jack Crittenden, 2002-01-01 The philosopher educator John Dewey wrote that Democracy has to be born anew every generation and education is its midwife In an America where every vote though considered equally counts for very little Democracy's Midwife offers the vision of a new kind of democratic system a deliberative democracy energized by an educated citizenry Jack Crittenden's excellent new study looks behind the modern democratic rhetoric to reveal a system of government that excludes citizens from participating directly in decision making The book combines a thorough examination of the theoretical underpinnings of democratic education with radical solutions for the overhaul of a system of civic education dating back to the Founding Fathers Democracy's Midwife is both a denunciation of an education system that has failed to prepare future citizens for participation in public life and a timely blueprint for the creation of a civic minded electorate prepared for the responsibility of self government

Read, Reflect, Write Carmen Collins, 1984 Learning Through Teaching Mathematics Roza Leikin, Rina Zazkis, 2010-04-10 The idea of teachers Learning through Teaching LTT when presented to a naïve bystander appears as an oxymoron Are we not supposed to learn before we teach After all under the usual circumstances learning is the task for those who are being taught not of those who teach However this book is about the learning of teachers not the learning of students It is an ancient wisdom that the best way to truly learn something is to teach it to others Nevertheless once a teacher has taught a particular topic or concept and consequently truly learned it what is left for this teacher to learn As evident in this book the experience of teaching presents teachers with an exciting opportunity for learning throughout their entire career This means acquiring a better understanding of what is being taught and moreover learning a variety of new things What these new things may be and how they are learned is addressed in the collection of chapters in this volume LTT is acknowledged by multiple researchers and mathematics educators In the first chapter Leikin and Zazkis review literature that recognizes this phenomenon and stress that only a small number of studies attend systematically to LTT processes The authors in this volume purposefully analyze the teaching of mathematics as a source for teachers' own learning Literacies, Sexualities, and Gender Barbara J. Guzzetti, Thomas W. Bean, Judith Dunkerly-Bean, 2018-11-15 Offering diverse and wide ranging perspectives on gender sexualities and literacies this volume examines the intersection of these topics from preschool to adulthood With a focus on current events race and the complex role of identity this text starts with an overview of the current research on gender and sexualities in literacies and interrogates them from a range of multimodal contexts Not restricted to any gender identity or age group these chapters provide a much needed and original update to the ways representations and performances of gender and sexualities through literacy practices are viewed in educational and sociocultural contexts Scholars share their insights and transformative visions that respect and embrace difference while creating space for new and deeper understandings of contemporary issues Content-Based Curriculum for Advanced Learners Joyce VanTassel-Baska, Catherine A. Little, 2023-01-23 The fourth edition of Content Based Curriculum for Advanced Learners provides readers with a complete and up to date introduction to core elements of curriculum development in gifted education with implications for school based implementation Written by key experts in the field this text is essential to the development of high powered rich and complex curricula that treat content process product and concept development considerations as equal partners in the task of educating gifted learners Along with revised chapters this edition contains new chapters on culturally responsive curriculum the performing arts robotics and engineering design as well as social and emotional learning Additional material concerning talent trajectories across the lifespan accompanies a discussion of honors curriculum in higher education rounding out this comprehensive resource This master text is a must read for educators interested in executing effective curriculum and instructional interventions to support learning for gifted and advanced learners

Handbook of Reading Research, Volume II Rebecca Barr, Michael L. Kamil, Peter B. Mosenthal, P David Pearson, 2016-11-18 A comprehensive overview of important contemporary issues in the field of reading research from the mid 1980s to mid 1990s this well received volume offers readers an examination of literacy through a variety of lenses some permitting microscopic views and others panoramic views A veritable who's who of specialists in the field chapter authors cover current methodology as well as cumulative research based knowledge Because it deals with society and literacy the first section provides the broadest possible view of literacy The second section defines the range of activities culturally determined to be a part of the enterprise known as literacy The third focuses on the processes that individuals engage in when they perform the act of reading The fourth section visits the environment in which the knowledge that comprises literacy is passed on from one generation to the next The last section an epilogue to the whole enterprise of reading research provides apt philosophical reflection Parents and Families of Students With Special Needs Vicki A. McGinley, Melina Alexander, SAGE Publications, Inc., 2017-01-05 Parents and Families of Students With Special Needs Collaborating Across the Age Span teaches students the skills they need to effectively collaborate with parents and families to ensure a child's success in the classroom The text takes a lifespan approach with a special emphasis on the critical transition points in a child's life Information is provided on what can be seen at each stage of an individual with disabilities development and addresses the concerns and needs that families may have during these unique phases of growth The authors provide an in depth discussion of how parents and families are affected by particular disabilities family system theory the laws that affect individuals with disabilities and assessments for individuals with disabilities Chapters written by academics and professionals who are also parents of students with special needs bring a diverse range of voices into the narrative
