Sharia or Shura Sakah Saidu Mahmud,2013-08-01

This book explores the differences in Muslim attitudes and approaches to the public square in sub Saharan Africa via a comparative historical analysis of Muslim politics in Northern Nigeria and Senegal since independence in 1960 While Northern Nigeria has been mired in intermittent religious conflicts and violence Senegal has maintained peaceful and tolerant relationships in inter faith and public affairs Yet the two Muslim societies had similar Islamic backgrounds in Sufi orders Qadiriya and Tijaniya in Northern Nigeria and Tijaniya Muridiya Qadiriya and Lahiniya in Senegal known for their peaceful approach to public affairs Furthermore the two Muslim societies belong to the black African Islamic cultural zone These common traits would suggest similar approaches to public affairs but this has not been the case The salient factors which are analyzed in the book include the historical factors the success or failure to establish an Islamic state and the impact of different colonial administrations and ideologies the extent of homogeneity of the social structure in each country and strength of the contemporary state in both countries The combination of these factors illustrates the experiences of the Muslims which further determine their divergent approaches to the public square

Changing US Security Strategy

Anthony H. Cordesman, 2013-10-01 More than a decade into the war on terrorism much of the political debate in the United States is still fixated on the legacy of 9 11 US politics has a partisan fixation on Benghazi the Boston Marathon bombing intelligence intercepts and Guantanamo Far too much attention still focuses on terrorism at a time the United States faces a much broader range of threats from the instability in the Middle East North Africa and the Islamic world Moreover much of the US debate ignores the fact that the United States has not actually fought a war on terrorism over the last decade as well as the US failures in using military force and civil aid in Afghanistan and Iraq

Islamic Law and Society in Indonesia Alfitri, 2022-04-07 No corporation is enthusiastic about paying tax yet Islamic banks in Indonesia voluntarily pay corporate zakat Why The book analyzes corporate zakat norms and practices in Indonesia by investigating how Muslim jurists have interpreted shar'a of zakat and how these have been imposed through the legislative and regulatory framework. It also presents original case studies based on sociolegal field research on the reception of the new obligations in the Islamic banks that choose to pay and choose not to pay what is effectively a new tax. The book argues that the dynamics of shar'a interpretation, imposition and compliance in Indonesia are too complex to be defined using the binaries of the religious versus the secular public versus private or tradition versus modernity. The corporate zakat context has revitalized the existing governance strategy in Islamic legal tradition and created a shared Islamic law vision between Islam and the state. Consequently, this fusion generates a mixed legal and religious consciousness toward corporate zakat. Addressing broader discussions on Islamic law and modernity, the book will be of interest to academics working on Asian and Comparative Law, sociolegal studies, anthropology of Indonesia, business studies of the Islamic world, Islamic shar'a, economics, Islamic law and politics, Islamic legal studies, Muslim society and Islam in Southeast Asia.

Religious Authority and Local Governance in Eastern Indonesia Jeremy J Kingsley, 2018-07-16 Religion plays a key role in everyday affairs in Indonesia including governance at the local, regional and national level. This book investigates the local governance landscape of the world's largest Muslim majority state, Indonesia, by providing a detailed account of local communities and religious authority on the eastern Indonesian island of Lombok, one of the nation's most pious areas. In particular, this book considers the interaction of state and non-state actors and institutions and how these institutions are interwoven into a fabric of governance. Through an ethnographic case study of an Islamic boarding school, Darul Falah, and the community committed to it, this book trains its focus upon local Muslim religious leaders, Tuan Guru, who are central to local governance. Drawing upon the notion of the fabric of governance, this book shows how governance is woven from multiple strands which are made up of a combination of institutions, rules and actors to be interpreted within dynamic social, legal and political processes. In doing so, this book employs a new means to theorise governance frameworks and understand how religion and governance are tightly intertwined. Religious Authority and Local Governance in Eastern Indonesia seeks to re-orient discussions of Indonesian political and legal affairs from the ground up and use local governance as a means to speak to larger social, legal and political issues. Islamic Studies Series, Volume 25.

Religion and the Global Politics of Human Rights Thomas F. Banchoff, Robert Wuthnow, 2011 Are human rights universal or the product of specific cultures? Is democracy a necessary condition for the achievement of human rights in practice? This book surveys the religious politics of human rights across the world's major regions, political systems and faith traditions.

Politics in Pacific Asia Xiaoming Huang, Jason Young, 2017-09-16 This lively and accessible new edition provides a uniquely broad-ranging introduction to the governance and politics of Pacific Asia. Thematically structured around the key institutions and issues, it is genuinely comparative in its approach to the whole region. A range of representative countries—China, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia, Vietnam and the Philippines—are used as key case examples throughout and each of them is subject to a detailed full page country profile This diverse region is a fascinating area for study Politics in Pacific Asia provides a framework to form a coherent understanding of the region s politics it balances persistent patterns with the latest developments and general characteristics with the differing cultures histories and institutions of individual countries The Shari'a Aryn Sajoo, 2018-03-30 2019 Choice Outstanding Academic title I B Tauris in association with the Institute of Ismaili Studies Why is the term shari a the mention of which conjures up images of a politicised religion in many parts of the world understood in the ways that it is today For Muslims and non Muslims alike much is read into this term often with scant regard for its historical cultural or theological underpinnings The politics of identity has a profound effect on contemporary life both secular and religious and this includes our understandings of the shari a Yet at the core of this concept for Muslims is the quest for a moral compass by which to navigate a path through life Qur an 45 18 informed deeply by revelation and its interpretation by the Prophet Muhammad as well as his closest Companions Built on this foundation is an ongoing human endeavour to grasp and lend expression to that teaching elaborately in law but no less so in devotional ethical and customary practices in diverse Shi i and Sunni Muslim communities including in the West Popular myths about the shari a that it is divine law that it is contained in a single code recognised by all Muslims that it is about controlling behavior that it defines Islam are challenged in this volume by leading scholars with a view to illuminating how we arrived here and where we might be headed The claims of the modern state as the custodian of the shari a are put into perspective alongside the vital role of a pluralist civil society From bioethics human development family law and finance to constitutional and human rights issues this fifth volume in the Muslim Heritage Series offers an accessible account of the ideals and realities of the shari a As such it will appeal not only to specialists in the humanities and social sciences but also to the general reader with an interest in global affairs and informed citizenship
