Women Living Zen Paula Kane Robinson Arai,1999-08-26 In this study based on both historical evidence and ethnographic data Paula Arai shows that nuns were central agents in the foundation of Buddhism in Japan in the sixth century They were active participants in the Soto Zen sect and have continued to contribute to the advancement of the sect to the present day Drawing on her fieldwork among the Soto nuns Arai demonstrates that the lives of many of these women embody classical Buddhist ideals They have chosen to lead a strictly disciplined monastic life over against successful careers and the unconstrained contemporary secular lifestyle In this and other respects they can be shown to stand in stark contrast to their male counterparts to Native American s Corn Mother and White Buffalo Woman The Annual Review of Women in World Religions Arvind Sharma, Katherine K. Young, 1993-11-18 Just as a mirror captures a large area within its small limit this journal reflects the otherwise far ranging and far reaching phenomena that are categorized as women and religion The Annual Review of Women in World Religions has been conceived as a forum for the latest historical and anthropological research on women in all religions It is also a form for discussion of contemporary trends such as the influence of secularism fundamentalism or feminism on women and religion Accordingly it contributes to the on going project to add to our basic knowledge about women and helps evaluate the past as well as the present through insights generated by gender studies today Within the boundaries of academic scholarship the editors seek to include the research of those who are both inside and outside the traditions Moreover the book encourages women and men of all beliefs to participate in the on going dialogue which it represents and promotes This journal is polymethodic interdisciplinary and multitradeational in its approach to the study of women and religion It not only allows the comparative dimension to appear in bolder relief but also helps to establish a dialogue between the two solitudes of humanistic and social scientific studies in the field Volume III contains the following essays Rabi ah as Mystic Muslim and Woman by Barbara Lois Helms Slighted Grandmothers The Need for Increased Study of Female Spirits and Spirituality in Native American Religions by Jordan Paper Women of Medieval South India in Hindu Temple Ritual Text and Practice by Leslie C Orr and Confucianism and Women in Modern Korea Continuity Change and Conflict by Edward Y J Chung New Books on Women and Feminism ,1991 Chinese Religion in Western Languages: 1991-1995 Laurence G. Furthermore through highlighting marginalized but significant models and historical moments of cultural exchange between Muslim and Western cultures through female dress the book tells a third story beyond the binary model of an assumed modest oppressed traditional Muslim woman vis vis consumer emancipated modern Western woman in mainstream Western discourse and literary representation Paperbound Books in Print ,1992 Journal of Chinese Religions ,1998
