Regionalism, Trade and Economic Development in the Asia-Pacific Region Muhammed Abu B. Siddique, 2007-01-01 The editor of this book is to be congratulated for providing us with the works of a group of authors who combine proficient technical skills with elegant and lucid writing capabilities. This book would make excellent recommended reading for both undergraduate and graduate classes in international trade and finance. Herb Thompson, Journal of Contemporary Asia. This book is based on the premise that Regional Trade Agreements (RTAs) in the Asia Pacific significantly impact on the material progress of the peoples of this region. These impacts in terms of the benefits and costs associated with RTAs will vary greatly from country to country. The internationally acclaimed contributors examine the theoretical perspective of RTAs in relation to exchange rates, the role and goals of the WTO and agriculture. The tensions and trade frictions resulting from the formation of trade blocs and their conflicts with the roles and goals of the WTO are also examined in the book. Those economies that are considered the economic powerhouses of the region including China, Japan, South Korea, major ASEAN countries, and Australia are discussed in depth. The findings of the book suggest that RTAs are becoming increasingly popular in the Asia Pacific region. However, the associated costs and benefits depend on a number of complex factors including exchange rates, negotiation skills, the sectors included or excluded from the RTA, and the level of economic development of the nations signing the RTAs. The book will be particularly useful to academics, researchers, consultants, students, policy makers, including trade negotiators and practitioners involved in trade and development in the Asia Pacific region.

Economic Issues in SAARC Context Anil Bhumali, Chandan Kumar Mukhopadhyay, 2008 Countries of the world today are in favour of free trade globally. Before the formation of WTO in 1995, the GATT had been trying to achieve free trade throughout the world. The similar activity is being done by the WTO since its inception. In spite of all such efforts, many countries in groups are trying to form unions separately to protect their group interest. One such group is the SAARC, the eight South Asian Nations coalition. The present book is the result of SAP DRS programme of the UGC started in the Department of Economics, North Bengal University since 2004. The
