The Maturing Marketplace Euehun Lee, Anil Mathur, George Moschis, Jennifer Strautman, 2000-04-30 The buying habits of baby boomers really do differ from those of their parents The authors show how marketers can use each group's consumption patterns to reach both markets most effectively Another insight buying habits of these groups differ according to the product or service offered By analyzing each cohort's buying habits in various purchasing situations the book dramatizes the need for customized marketing strategies Based on two national surveys conducted by the Center for Mature Studies Georgia State University the book will be essential for marketing professionals and their academic colleagues Moschis and his coauthors concentrate on food products apparel footwear drugs and cosmetics housing technology products and telecommunications services health care travel and leisure and financial and insurance services They cover preferences for selected products and services patronage habits methods of purchasing motives for preferences for specific brands and services and for payment methods and reasons for buying direct Each chapter addresses a specific product or service category and includes analyses of survey respondents by demographic and lifestyle characteristics and media use habits The book concludes with a discussion of the implications of their research and the ways in which it will lead marketers to design more effective strategies not only today but in the future

Design for Assisted Living Victor Regnier, 2003-02-28 Destined to become the defining work on the subject this timely reference addresses the single fastest growing segment of the senior living industry assisted living for those who are unable to live independently but who do not need intensive nursing home care meals housekeeping or twenty four hour access to medical assistance Victor Regnier's visually rich guide includes dozens of design solutions from successful assisted living facilities along with fifteen case studies from the U S and Europe The book also covers recent developments in the industry including major changes in financing growth of dementia and interest in aging in place All in all this is the most comprehensive guide to assisted living design that you'll find in any single volume

The Art of the Possible G. Richard Ambrosius, 1991

Human Development in Adulthood Lewis R. Aiken, 2005-12-21 Human Development in Adulthood is a comprehensive multidisciplinary overview of adult development in a number of areas both personal and societal from mental and physical health to economic and social conditions Variables including race gender economic status and political and religious affiliation are considered in the discussion of such human issues as love and marital relations economic concerns including employment and living conditions violence in its various forms including crime and war aging and death The numerous illustrations chapter summaries and glossary will prove especially useful to students

Aging Independently Klaus Warner Schaie, 2003 This volume is based on the conference Aging in the Community Living Arrangements and Mobility organised by the German Centre for Research on Aging at the University of Heidelberg in cooperation with Pennsylvania State University It explores the similarities and differences of living arrangements and outdoor mobility in both cultures and the impact on older persons roles in community life and sustainable community development Considers the future of aging theoretically from an environmental gerontology perspective and practically in terms of available technology the central tenet of this volume is that future indoor and outdoor environments will become much more intertwined than is the case today Merging the concerns of living arrangements and mobility this volume leads us to a new understanding of distance and nearness even in the presence for example of severe chronic illness

Assisted Living for the Aged and Frail Victor Regnier, Jennifer Hamilton, Suzie Yatabe, 1995 How will patterns of human interaction with the earth's eco system impact on biodiversity loss over the long term not in the next ten or even fifty years but on the vast temporal scale be dealt with by earth scientists This volume brings together data from population biology community ecology comparative biology and paleontology to answer this question
