Main Currents Of Marxism Its Rise Growth And Dissolution I Founders:

Main Currents of Marxism Leszek Kołakowski, 1978 Modes of Production and Archaeology Robert M. Rosenswig, Jeremy J. Cunningham, 2017-05-15 This volume challenges the historical materialistic non capitalist modes that are used by archaeologists as not all that useful and instead considers how social labor is organized to transform nature into culturally refined and useful resources and how this can either maintain or change a culture Rather than describe what a society is using the theoretical framework of Marx and materialism a mode of production approach explores what a society does in a more dynamic sense Handbook of Critical Psychology Ian Parker, 2015-04-17 Choice Recommended Read Critical psychology has developed over time from different standpoints and in different cultural contexts embracing a variety of perspectives This cutting edge and comprehensive handbook values and reflects this diversity of approaches to critical psychology today providing a definitive state of the art account of the field and an opening to the lines of argument that will take it forward in the years to come The individual chapters by leading and emerging scholars plot the development of a critical perspective on different elements of the host discipline of psychology The book begins by systematically addressing each separate specialist area of psychology before going on to consider how aspects of critical psychology transcend the divisions that mark the discipline The final part of the volume explores the variety of cultural and political standpoints that have made critical psychology such a vibrant contested terrain of debate The Handbook of Critical Psychology represents a key resource for researchers and practitioners across all relevant disciplines It will be of particular interest to students and researchers in psychology psychosocial studies sociology social anthropology and cultural studies and to discourse analysts of different traditions including those in critical linguistics and political theory Mass Education, Global Capital, and the World T. Griffiths, R. Imre, 2013-12-18 By presenting a series of intricate analyses of educational phenomena through the theoretical lenses offered by Immanuel Wallerstein and István Mészáros the book engages readers and helps them to critically analyze their own participation in the global economy as citizens policy makers and academics or teachers Rationality Standards of Social Life Zbigniew Drozdowicz, 2013 The standards of rationality are treated in this book as certain regulators of social life They are compared to the rudders of the great vessels constituted by social communities The diversity exhibited by those standards do not only result from the differences of time and space of their implementation but also from the differences in the sets of ideas put forward by the leading social thinkers accompanied by the different characteristics of their designated audiences Series Development in Humanities Vol 7 The Political Economy of Marx (2nd Edition) Michael Charles Howard, 1988-09 This edition of The political economy of Marx Second edition is published by arrangement with Longman Group UK Limited T p verso Cognition and Practice Rafał Banka, 2022-07-01 This is the first book on the role of cognition in the aesthetic theory of Li Zehou 1930 2021 one of China's most important and influential contemporary philosophers The cognitive dimension and its integration with practice is discussed by examining one of Li's pivotal concepts subjectivity a human subject shaped by the world in which they live including beauty and aesthetic experience Li's theory is also contextualized in the threefold inspiration coming from Confucian Kantian and Marxist philosophies which differently conceptualize the aesthetic and cognitive dimensions in humans By referring to different aesthetic theories and interdisciplinary approaches to cognition the book aims to show how Li's cognitively oriented project can contribute to contemporary research into aesthetics Although primarily written for philosophers working in aesthetics Chinese and comparative philosophy the book is also addressed to anyone interested in contemporary Chinese thought The Incarcerated Modern Golnar Nikpour, 2024-02-06 Iran's prison system is a foundational institution of Iranian political modernity The Incarcerated Modern traces the transformation of Iran from a decentralized empire with few imprisoned persons at the turn of the twentieth century into a modern nation state with over a quarter million prisoners today In policing the line between bad criminal and good citizen the carceral system has shaped and reshaped Iranian understandings of citizenship freedom and political belonging Golnar Nikpour explores the interplay between the concrete space of the Iranian prison and the role of prisons in producing new public cultures and political languages in Iran From prison writings of 1920s leftist prisoners and communists of 1950s militant Islamists to paintings of 1970s revolutionary guerrillas and mapping projects organized by contemporary dissident prisoners carceral confinement has shaped modern Iranian political movements Today mass incarceration is a global phenomenon The Incarcerated Modern connects Iranian history to transnational carceral histories to illuminate the shared architectures economies and techniques of modern punishment

The House in the Garden John Randolph, 2018-07-05 Aspiring thinkers require a stage for their performance and an audience to help give their actions distinction and meaning To be made durable and influential their charismatic stories have to be framed by supporting ideals practices and institutions Although the biographies of the Empire's most famous thinkers have a comfortable platform in modern Russia's printed record scholars have yet to explore fully the intimate context surrounding their activities in the early nineteenth century There is as a result a certain homeless quality to our understandings of Imperial Russian culture which this history of one extremely productive home will help us correct from The House in the Garden The House in the Garden explores the role played by domesticity in the making of Imperial Russian intellectual traditions It tells the story of the Bakunins a distinguished noble family who in 1779 chose to abandon their home in St Petersburg for a rustic manor house in central Russia's Tver Province At the time the Russian government was encouraging its elite subjects to see their private lives as a forum for the representation of imperial virtues and norms Drawing on the family's vast archive Randolph describes the Bakunins attempts to live up to this ideal and to convert their new home Priamukhino into an example of modern civilization In particular Randolph shows how the Bakunin home fostered the development of a group of charismatic young students from Moscow University who in the 1830s sought to use their experiences at Priamukhino to reimagine themselves as agents of Russia's enlightenment Some of the story Randolph tells is familiar to historians The anarchist Mikhail Bakunin whose early philosophical evolution Randolph describes was born at Priamukhino while the radical critic Vissarion Belinsky claimed to have been transformed by his experiences there When Tom Stoppard sought to portray the spiritual history of the Russian intelligentsia in his trilogy The Coast of Utopia he chose Priamukhino as the scene for act 1 Yet Randolph's research allows us to watch this drama from a radically different perspective It shows how the culture of Russian Idealism so long presumed to be a product of alienation actually relied on the support provided by the cult of distinction that the Russian government had built around noble homes It also allows us to see the other actors and agents of private life and most notably the Bakunin women as participants in the creation of modern Russian social thought The result is a work that revises our understanding of Russian intellectual history while also contributing to the histories of women gender private life and memory in nineteenth century Russia

Postmodern Marx
Terrell Carver, 2010-11-01 Marx has changed What we read how we read and why we read Marx have all altered dramatically This book explores these multiple new Marxes In ten thematic chapters Carver examines unfamiliar texts and new aspects of Marx's writings ranging from vampires in Capital to his vision of communism in recently re-edited manuscripts Marx's career in democratic politics is re-evaluated and his relationship to the gender politics of his day and ours is explored Most importantly Carver re-assesses the strengths and weaknesses of Marx as a theorist and critic of capitalist society This book will appeal to anyone who wants a fresh perspective on Marx arising from a reconciliation of historical scholarship with the de-centredness of postmodern writing

Apocalypse without God Ben Jones, 2022-04-21 Apocalypse it seems is everywhere Preachers with vast followings proclaim the world's end Apocalyptic fears grip even the nonreligious amid climate change pandemics and threats of nuclear war As these ideas pervade popular discourse grasping their logic remains elusive Ben Jones argues that we can gain insight into apocalyptic thought through secular thinkers He starts with a puzzle Why would secular thinkers draw on Christian apocalyptic beliefs often dismissed as bizarre to interpret politics The apocalyptic tradition proves appealing in part because it theorizes a relation between crisis and utopia Apocalyptic thought points to crisis as the vehicle to bring the previously impossible within reach offering resources for navigating challenges in ideal theory which involves imagining the best most just society By examining apocalyptic thought's appeal and risks this study arrives at new insights on the limits of utopian hope This title is available as open access on Cambridge Core

The Anthropology of Johannes Scottus Eriugena Willemien Otten, 1991 This book deals with Eriugena's view of man in the context of his thinking on universal nature Although man is seen as possessing a sinful created state this does not prevent him from entertaining a free and direct relationship with God and the surrounding universe It is shown that while man is governed by nature's unfolding he can also exercise significant control over it

Fire in the Minds of Men James Billington, 2017-10-24 This book traces the origins of a faith perhaps the faith of the century Modern revolutionaries are believers no less committed and intense than were Christians or Muslims of an earlier era What is new is the belief that a perfect secular order will emerge from forcible overthrow of traditional authority This inherently implausible idea energized Europe in the nineteenth century and became the most pronounced ideological export of the West to the rest of the world in the twentieth century Billington is interested in revolutionaries the innovative creators of a new tradition His historical frame extends from the waning of the French Revolution in the late eighteenth century to the beginnings of the Russian Revolution in the early twentieth century The theater was Europe of the industrial era the main stage was the journalistic offices within great cities such as Paris Berlin London and St Petersburg Billington claims with considerable evidence that revolutionary ideologies were shaped as much by the occultism and proto romanticism of Germany as the critical rationalism of the French Enlightenment The conversion of social theory to political practice was essentially the work of three Russian revolutions in 1905 March 1917 and November 1917 Events in the outer rim of the European world brought discussions about revolution out of the school rooms and press rooms of Paris and Berlin into the halls of power Despite his hard realism about the adverse practical consequences of revolutionary dogma Billington appreciates the identity of its best sponsors people who preached social justice transcending traditional national ethnic and gender boundaries When this book originally appeared The New Republic hailed it as remarkable learned and lively while The New Yorker noted that Billington pays great attention to the lives and emotions of individuals and this makes his book absorbing It is an invaluable work of history and contribution to our understanding of political life

The Concept of Affectivity in Early Modern Philosophy Ádám Smrcz, Maximilian Kiener, Jan Forsman, Hanna Vandenbussche, Davide Monaco, Filip Buyse, Keith Green, Brian Glenney, Christopher Davidson, Zsolt Bagi, Dávid Bartha, Dan O'Brien, Hans D. Muller, Csaba Olay, 2017-09-01 There is no need to argue for the relevance of affectivity in early modern philosophy When doing research and conceptualizing affectivity in this period we hope to attain a basic interpretive framework for philosophy in general one that is independent of and cutting across such unfruitful divisions as the time honored interpretive distinction between rationalists and empiricists which we consider untenable when applied to 17th century thinkers Our volume consists of papers based on the contributions to the First Budapest Seminar in Early Modern Philosophy held on 14 15 October 2016 at E t v s Lor nd University Budapest When composing this volume our aim was not to present a systematic survey of affectivity in early modern philosophy Rather our more modest goal was to foster collaboration among researchers working in different countries and different traditions Many of the papers published here are already in implicit or explicit dialogue with others We hope that they will generate more of an exchange of ideas in the broader field of early modern scholarship

A Companion to Nineteenth-Century Philosophy John Shand, 2019-04-16 Investigate the challenging and nuanced philosophy of the long nineteenth century from Kant to Bergson Philosophy in the nineteenth century was characterized by new ways of thinking a desperate searching for new truths As science art and religion were transformed by social pressures and changing worldviews old certainties fell away leaving many with a terrifying sense of loss and a realization that our view of things needed to be profoundly rethought

Friedrich Engels and the Dialectics of Nature Kaan Kangal, 2020-01-27 Reading different or controversial intentions into Marx and Engels works has been a common but somewhat unquestioned practice in the history of Marxist scholarship Engels Dialectics of Nature a torso for some and a great book for others is a case in point The entire Engels debate separates into two opposite views Engels the contaminator of Marx's new materialism vs Engels the self-educated genius of dialectical materialism What Engels unlike Marx has not enjoyed so far is a critical reading that considers the relationship between different layers of this standard text authorial textual editorial and interpretational Informed by a historical hermeneutic this book questions the elements that structure the debate on the Dialectics of Nature It analyzes different political and philosophical functions attached to Engels text and relocates the meaning of the term dialectics into a more precise context Arguing that Engels dialectics is less complete than we usually think it is but that he achieved more than most scholars would like to admit this book fully documents and critically analyzes Engels intentions and concerns in the Dialectics of Nature the process of writing and its reception and edition history in order to reconstruct the solved and unsolved philosophical problems in this unfinished work

Sidney Hook Reconsidered Matthew J. Cotter, 2010-08-25 Afterword by Richard Rorty The current intensification of scholarly interest in the response of American intellectuals to the rise and fall of American and Soviet Communism the Cold War the student movement and Neo Conservatism has brought the controversial and fascinating work of Sidney Hook once again to the attention of scholars of American political thought and culture Beginning his career as the first American scholar of Marxism a leading disciple of John Dewey and an early supporter of Soviet Communism Hook eventually renounced Marxism and came to be one of the most vehement supporters of the Cold War Throughout his long and unquiet life Hook was revered as the heir to Dewey's legacy feared as a fierce polemicist and criticized from all points of the political spectrum The essays in this volume are the outcome of a centennial celebration honoring his life and career In addition to some of his former students colleagues allies and adversaries this volume contains several essays by relatively unknown scholars The value of their contributions is measured by fresh insights into Hook's philosophical significance as well as the underlying argument that adequate distance is needed to evaluate his historical relevance. Despite the contentious nature of these two approaches, ultimately these essays represent the comprehensive attempt to both reexamine Hook's legacy and celebrate his life. The contributors include Jo Ann Boydston, Gary Bullert, Steven Cahn, Matthew Cotter, Michael Eldridge, Barbara Forrest, Nathan Glazer, Neil Jumonville, Marvin Kohl, Paul Kurtz, Tibor Machan, Christopher Phelps, Kathleen Poulos, Edward Shapiro, David Sidorsky, Robert Talisse, and Bruce Wilshire. With a completely revised and updated bibliography of Hook's works plus an afterword by Richard Rorty, this outstanding collection of essays examining the rich and varied experience of one of America's most misunderstood intellectuals will be of great interest to students and scholars of American intellectual history and philosophy.

Matthew J. Cotter, Brooklyn, NY, has been a lecturer at William Paterson University, Baruch College, and Hunter College at the City University of New York (CUNY). He is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in American history at the City University of New York's Graduate Center.

Labour and the Politics of Disloyalty in Belfast, 1921-39 Christopher J. V. Loughlin, 2018-02-05. This book provides the first history from below of the inter-war Belfast labour movement. It is a social history of the politics of Belfast labour and applies methodology from history, sociology, and political science. Christopher J. V. Loughlin questions previous narratives that asserted the centrality of religion and sectarian conflict in the establishment of Northern Ireland. Labour and the Politics of Disloyalty in Belfast, 1921-39 suggests that political division and violence were key to the foundation and maintenance of the democratic ancien régime in Northern Ireland. It examines the relationship between Belfast Labour, sectarianism, electoral politics, security, and industrial relations policy, and women's politics in the city.

A Humean Critique of David Hume's Theory of Knowledge Jeremy J. White, 1998. A Humean Critique of David Hume's Theory of Knowledge provides the first full-length Aristotelian-Thomistic critique of Hume's most mature and familiar work. While giving Hume proper respect and appreciation for his achievement, Jeremy White engages in a thoughtful critique through an approach based in Hume's own method. He successfully uncovers Hume's unconscious indebtedness to his seventeenth-century predecessors including Locke and Bacon, whom he persistently discredited. White's discovery of Hume's assumptions and premises for building his philosophy provide much enlightenment regarding his ideas. The author's intimacy with the processes of Hume's mind and from where he drew his conclusions translates into a tremendous ease and comfort in gaining an understanding of Hume's epistemology and his underlying metaphysical assumptions.

North Korean Ideology Thomas Stock, 2025-06-30. Where lie the origins of North Korean ideology? When, why, and to what extent did North Korean ideology begin to transform into the idiosyncratic ideology that it is today? In this first comprehensive Cold War history of North Korean ideology, Thomas Stock traces its development from Soviet Marxism-Leninism to the distinct North Korean ideology of today. Stock uncovers the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK)'s historical investment in the Marxist-Leninist tradition, a global intellectual force whose internal debates and philosophy structured the evolution of North Korean ideology Marxism Leninism varied across space and time whirling in a constant process of mutation in relation to which North Korea's own ideology developed Using Eastern European archival materials North Korean party documents and other new sources this book provides an unprecedented and empirically grounded look into the exact evolutionary process of North Korea's state ideology from its Soviet origins all the way to the iconic chuch'e ideology This process was driven not so much by historical legacies such as Confucianism or Kim Il Sung's guerrilla experience than by worldwide Marxist Leninist controversies geopolitical shifts and the interests of party elites Throughout the Cold War North Korea was anything but a spiritually isolated country As a result North Korean ideology too constituted a thoroughly global product not the hermetic construct it is often made out to be
