Private Secretary (female)/Gold Coast Erica Powell,1984 Private Secretary (female)/Gold Coast Erica Powell,1984 The Second Emancipation Howard W. French,2025-08-26 Named one of the Most Anticipated Books of 2025 by Foreign Policy Howard French's The Second Emancipation stands the second half of the last century on its geopolitical head David Levering Lewis winner of the Pulitzer Prize From the acclaimed author of Born in Blackness comes an extraordinary account of Africa's liberation from colonial oppression a work that fundamentally reshapes our understanding of modern history A work of epic dimension that recasts the liberation of twentieth century Africa through the lens of revolutionary leader Kwame Nkrumah The Second Emancipation the second work in a trilogy from best selling author Howard W French about Africa's pivotal role in shaping world history underscores Adam Hochschild's contention that French is a modern day Copernicus The title referring to a brief period beginning in 1957 when dozens of African colonies gained their freedom positions this liberation at the center of a movement of global Blackness with one charismatic leader Kwame Nkrumah 1909 1972 at its head That so few people today know about Nkrumah is an omission that French demonstrates is typical of our deliberate neglect of Africa's enormous role in the birth of the modern world Determined to re create Nkrumah's life as an epic twentieth century story The Second Emancipation begins with his impoverished unheralded birth in the far western region of Ghana's Gold Coast But blessed with a deep curiosity a young Nkrumah pursued an overseas education in the United States Nowhere is French's consummate style more vivid than in Nkrumah's early years in Depression era America especially in his mesmerizing portrait of a culturally effervescent Harlem that Nkrumah encountered in 1935 before heading to college During his student years in Pennsylvania and later as an activist in London Nkrumah became steeped in a renowned international Black intellectual milieu including Du Bois Garvey Fanon Padmore and C L R James who called him one of the greatest political leaders of our century and formed an ideology that readied him for an extraordinarily swift and peaceful rise to power upon his return to Ghana in 1947 Four years later in a political landslide he engineered while imprisoned Nkrumah stunned Britain by winning the first general election under universal franchise in Africa becoming Ghana's first independent prime minister in 1957 As leader of a sovereign nation Nkrumah wielded his influence to promote the liberation of the entire continent pushing unity as the only pathway to recover from the damages of enslavement and subjugation By the time national military and police forces aided by the CIA overthrew him in 1966 Nkrumah's radical belief in pan African liberation had both galvanized dozens of nascent African states and fired a global agenda of Black power In its dramatic recasting of the American civil rights story and in its tragic depiction of a continent that once exuded all the promise of a newly won freedom The Second Emancipation becomes a generational work that positions Africa at the forefront of modern day history The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography Thula Simpson,Immanuel R. Harisch,2025-05-09 The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography explores history's fortunes in Modern Africa south of the Sahara from the discipline's Golden Age as a handmaiden in struggles against colonialism to difficult decades when its survival has been threatened by capricious political and economic conditions and the uncertain present where the continent's historians struggle to justify their value to frequently sceptical publics. In exploring the discipline's practical role in past struggles for African emancipation the volume speaks directly to these challenging but changing circumstances. The chapters feature contributions from leading experts on historiographical traditions of different regions of the continent. They collectively demonstrate how the process of instrumentalizing the past to advance lay struggles has influenced the choices historians have made regarding sources, methodology, interpretation, audiences and platforms. This practical application has strongly shaped the diverse forms that African historiography has assumed as reflected in this book. The themes discussed offer a platform for inserting Africa into comparative studies of global historiographical traditions whilst also contributing to contemporary debates on decolonization. In offering accessible insights from leading historians this is an essential handbook for students and scholars of African history and historiography as well as all those interested in postcolonial studies.

Fortunes of Africa Martin Meredith, 2014-09-11. In this vast and vivid panorama of history Martin Meredith, bestselling author of The State of Africa, follows the fortunes of Africa over a period of 5 000 years. With compelling narrative he traces the rise and fall of ancient kingdoms and empires, the spread of Christianity and Islam, the enduring quest for gold and other riches, the exploits of explorers and missionaries and the impact of European colonisation. He examines too the fate of modern African states and concludes with a glimpse into their future. This is history on an epic scale.

European Women and the Second British Empire Margaret Strobel, 1991-05-22. It enhances our understanding of intracultural and cross cultural relationships and raises significant questions about the complexities of the colonial phenomenon in the modern era. Journal of World History. Provides a powerful and important analysis foregrounding the ideological construction of whiteness in understandings of gender and sexuality. Margaret Strobel manages to provide a convincing analysis of the contradictory and often challenging space occupied by European women in the project of empire. Signs. Strobel is to be highly commended for an historical analysis that brings critical light to bear on the complex interactions of gender, race and class that have shadowed both European men's and women's participation in colonialism. Women and Politics a clear exposition and synthesis. In this useful introduction to a new field Strobel lays out clearly the arguments on which it is built. Her book makes it possible to acquaint students with the initial array of scholarship that is already growing. She also demonstrates that rewriting an imperial history that is sensitive to gender, culture, race, sexuality and power is an exhilarating enterprise. American Historical Review. Based on the published accounts of travelers and officials, wives, biographies and other materials, this is a lively, fast-paced account of the roles of white women in the British empire from about 1880 to the recent past. The European women of the second British empire carved out a space for themselves amid the options made available to them by British expansion but they too were treated as inferiors the inferior sex within the superior race West Africa ,1984 The International Journal of African Historical Studies ,1986 Race Woman Gerald Horne,2000-09 Horne tells her remarkable story exploring her work as a Harlem Renaissance playwright biographer composer teacher novelist Left political activist advisor and inspiration BOOK JACKET The Fortunes of Africa Martin Meredith,2014-10-14 Africa has been coveted for its riches ever since the era of the Pharaohs In past centuries it was the lure of gold ivory and slaves that drew fortune seekers merchant adventurers and conquerors from afar In modern times the focus of attention is on oil diamonds and other valuable minerals Land was another prize The Romans relied on their colonies in northern Africa for vital grain shipments to feed the population of Rome Arab invaders followed in their wake eventually colonizing the entire region More recently foreign corporations have acquired huge tracts of land to secure food supplies needed abroad just as the Romans did In this vast and vivid panorama of history Martin Meredith follows the fortunes of Africa over a period of 5 000 years With compelling narrative he traces the rise and fall of ancient kingdoms and empires the spread of Christianity and Islam the enduring quest for gold and other riches the exploits of explorers and missionaries and the impact of European colonization He examines too the fate of modern African states and concludes with a glimpse of their future His cast of characters includes religious leaders mining magnates warlords dictators and many other legendary figures among them Mansa Musa ruler of the medieval Mali empire said to be the richest man the world has ever known I speak of Africa Shakespeare wrote and of golden joys This is history on an epic scale Anansi's Gold Yepoka Yeebo,2023-08-01 Catch Me if You Can meets Coming to America in this epic tale of one of the greatest scammers of all time NPR Shortlisted for the Mark Lynton History Prize A New York Times Notable Book of the Year A New Yorker NPR Newsweek The Economist TIME Slate and WIRED Best Book of the Year The astounding never before told story of how an audacious Ghanaian con artist pulled off one of the 20th century s longest running and most spectacular frauds After winning independence in 1957 Ghana instantly became a target for home grown opportunists and rapacious Western interests determined to snatch any assets that British colonialism hadn t already stripped A CIA funded military junta ousted the inspiring president Kwame Nkrumah then falsely accused him of hiding the country s gold overseas Into this big lie stepped one of history s most charismatic scammers a con man to rival the trickster god Anansi Born into poverty in Ghana and trained in the United States John Ackah Blay Miezah declared himself custodian of an alleged Nkrumah trust fund worth billions You too could claim a piece if only you would invest in Blay Miezah s fictitious efforts to release the equally fictitious fund Over the 1970s and 80s he and his accomplices including Ghanaian state officials and Nixon s former attorney general scammed hundreds of millions of dollars out of thousands of believers around the world American prosecutors called his scam one of the most fascinating and lucrative in modern history In Anansi s Gold Yepoka Yeebo chases Blay Miezah s wild trail and discovers at long last what really happened to Ghana s missing wealth She unfolds a riveting account of Cold War entanglements international finance and postcolonial betrayal revealing how what we call history writes itself into being one lie at a time Winner of the Jhalak Prize Winner of the Plutarch Award for Biography Finalist for the 2024 Hurston Wright Foundation Legacy Award in Historical Nonfiction White Malice Susan Williams, 2021-08-10 Filled with fascinating information original research and bold ideas NPR a revelatory account of how African Independence was systematically undermined by the US In 1958 in Accra Ghana the Hands Off Africa conference brought together the leading figures of African independence in a public show of political strength and purpose The charismatic Kwame Nkrumah who had just won Ghana's independence led a determined appeal for Pan Africanism Young idealistic leaders across the continent as well as African Americans seeking civil rights at home heeded his call Yet a moment that signified a new era of African freedom simultaneously marked a new era of foreign intervention and control In White Malice Susan Williams unearths the CIA's covert operations from Ghana to the Congo to the UN which frustrated the attempts of Africa's new generation of nationalist leaders to establish democratic governance These revelations dramatically upend the conventional wisdom that African nations failed to establish effective democratic states on their own accord As the old European powers moved out the US moved in Drawing on original research and recently declassified documents Williams introduces readers to idealistic African leaders and to the secret agents ambassadors and even presidents who deliberately worked against them forever altering the future of a continent The Quills of the Porcupine Jean Marie Allman, 1993-08-01 Bearing the historic symbol of the Asante nation the porcupine the National Liberation Movement NLM stormed onto the Gold Coast's political stage in 1954 mounting one of the first and most significant campaigns to decentralize political power in decolonizing Africa Ghana formerly the Gold Coast was the first colony in sub Saharan Africa to secure political independence from Britain The struggle for full self government was led by Kwame Nkrumah the leading advocate of African nationalism and Pan African unity in the post World War II era The NLM threatened the stability of Nkrumah's preindependence government and destroyed prospects for a smooth transition to full self rule Though NLM demands for Asante autonomy mobilized thousands of members marchers and voters the NLM was unable to forestall plans for a unitary government in a new nation Under Nkrumah Ghana became independent in 1957 Marginalized politically by 1958 the NLM has at times been marginalized by scholars as well Cast into the shadows of academic inquiry where history's losers often dwell the NLM came to be characterized as a tribalist ghost of the past whose foreordained defeat was worthy of some attention but whose spectacular rise was not Today when it is far harder to dismiss decentralizing movements and alternative nationalisms as things of the past Jean Marie Allman's brilliant The Quills of the Porcupine recovers the history of the NLM as a popular movement whose achievements and defeats were rooted in Asante's history and in the social conflicts of the period Allman draws skillfully on her extensive interviews with NLM activists on a variety of published and archival sources in Ghana and on British colonial records many of them recently declassified to provide rich narrative detail Sophisticated in its analysis of the NLM's ideology and of the appeals of the movement to various strata within Asante society The Quills of the Porcupine is a pioneering case study in the social history of African politics. An exciting story firmly situated within the context of the large theoretical and historical literature on class, ethnicity and nationalism, its significance reaches far past the borders of Asante and of Ghana. American Africans in Ghana Kevin K. Gaines, 2012-12-30 In 1957 Ghana became one of the first sub-Saharan African nations to gain independence from colonial rule. Over the next decade hundreds of African Americans including Martin Luther King Jr, George Padmore, Malcolm X, Maya Angelou, Richard Wright, Pauli Murray and Muhammad Ali visited or settled in Ghana. Kevin K. Gaines explains what attracted these Americans to Ghana and how their new community was shaped by the convergence of the Cold War, the rise of the U.S. civil rights movement and the decolonization of Africa. Kwame Nkrumah, Ghana's president, posed a direct challenge to U.S. hegemony by promoting a vision of African liberation, continental unity and West Indian federation. Although the number of African American expatriates in Ghana was small, in espousing a transnational American citizenship defined by solidarities with African peoples, these activists along with their allies in the United States waged a fundamental if largely forgotten struggle over the meaning and content of the cornerstone of American citizenship: the right to vote conferred on African Americans by civil rights reform legislation.

Research Review, 1989 Living with Nkrumahism Jeffrey S. Ahlman, 2017-10-16 In the 1950s Ghana, under the leadership of Kwame Nkrumah and the Convention People's Party, drew the world's attention as anticolonial activists, intellectuals and politicians looked to it as a model for Africa's postcolonial future. Nkrumah was a visionary, a statesman and one of the key makers of contemporary Africa. In Living with Nkrumahism, Jeffrey S. Ahlman reexamines the infrastructure that organized and consolidated Nkrumah's philosophy into a political program. Ahlman draws on newly available source material to portray an organizational and cultural history of Nkrumahism. Taking us inside bureaucracies, offices, salary structures and working routines, he painstakingly reconstructs the political and social milieu of the time and portrays a range of Ghanaians' relationships to their country's unique position in the decolonization process. Through fine attunement to the nuances of statecraft, he demonstrates how political and philosophical ideas shape lived experience. Living with Nkrumahism stands at the crossroads of the rapidly growing fields of African decolonization, postcolonial history and Cold War studies. It provides a much-needed scholarly model through which to reflect on the changing nature of citizenship and political and social participation in Africa and the broader postcolonial world. Crossing the Color Line Carina E. Ray, 2015-10-15 Interracial sex mattered to the British colonial state in West Africa. In Crossing the Color Line, Carina E. Ray goes beyond this fact to reveal how Ghanaians shaped and defined these powerfully charged relations. The interplay between African and European perspectives and practices, argues Ray, transformed these relationships into key sites for consolidating colonial rule and for contesting its hierarchies of power. With rigorous methodology and innovative analyses, Ray brings Ghana and Britain into a single analytic frame to show how intimate relations between black men and white women in the metropole became deeply entangled with those between black women and white men in the colony in ways that were profoundly consequential. Based on rich archival evidence and original interviews, the book moves across different registers, shifting from the micropolitics of individual disciplinary cases brought against colonial officers who kept local women to transatlantic networks of family empire and anticolonial resistance. In this way, Ray cuts to the heart of how interracial sex became a source of colonial anxiety and nationalist agitation during the first half of the twentieth century. Kwame Nkrumah June Milne, 1999

This unique selection of personal correspondence at last fills an extraordinary gap in modern African history. A chronologically structured chronicle of the life and letters of Kwame Nkrumah during his years of exile in Guinea Conakry 1966-1971, compiled by June Milne.
