Jones, John F. Dovidio, Deborah L. Vietze, 2013-09-10 The Psychology of Diversity presents a captivating social psychological study of diversity the obstacles confronting it and the benefits it provides Goes beyond prejudice and discrimination to discuss the personal and social implications of diversity for both majority and minority group members Considers how historical political economic and societal factors shape the way people think about and respond to diversity Explains why discrimination leads to bias at all levels in society interpersonal institutional cultural and social Describes proven techniques for improving intergroup relations Examines the brain s impact on bias in clear terms for students with little or no background in neuroscience Includes helpful study tools throughout the text as well as an online instructor s manual The Jew; And Other Stories Ivan Sergeevich Turgenev, 2025-08-30 Reproduction of the original The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage Privilege, Risk, and Solidarity Libby Mae Grammer, 2017-02-28 The issue of undocumented immigration cannot be described as either a problem or a possibility in the current political climate it simply is a reality and how individual Christians and churches respond to it relies heavily on their theological understanding of what it means to be an immigrant and what it means to be privileged Taking a combined approach of scriptural exegesis and feminist theology and ethics this book provides new ways to approach the pressing ethical issue of undocumented immigration Rich in immigration law and history along with purposeful looks into the work of feminist scholarship and the stories of immigrants themselves this book asks hard questions of those with privilege about taking risks to stand in solidarity with some of the most marginalized in U S society our undocumented immigrant neighbors The Jew and Other Stories Ivan Turgenev, 2018-04-04 Reproduction of the original The Jew and Other Stories by Ivan Turgenev Restoried Selves Kevin Kumashiro, 2013-04-03 Restoried Selves Autobiographies of Queer Asian Pacific American Activists presents the first person accounts of 20 activists life stories that work against common stereotypes shattering misconceptions and dispelling misinformation These autobiographies challenge familial and cultural expectations and values that have traditionally forced queer Asian Pacific Americans into silent shame because of their sexual orientation and or ethnicity Authors share not only their experiences growing up but also how those experiences led them to become social activists speaking out against oppression Many harmful untruths or stories about queer Asian Pacific Americans have been repeated so often they are accepted as fact Restoried Selves Autobiographies of Queer Asian Pacific American Activists provides a forum for voices often ignored in academic literature to re story themselves addressing a range of experiences that includes cultural differences and values conflicts between different generations in a family or between different groups in a community and difficulties and rewards of coming out Those giving voice to their stories through narrative and other writing genres include the transgendered and intersexed community activists youths and parents The stories told in Restoried Selves Autobiographies of Queer Asian Pacific American Activists reflect on personal experiences based on country of origin educational background religion gender and age populations served by activism including the working poor immigrants adoptees youth women and families different arenas of activism including schools governments social services and the Internet issues targeted by activism including affirmative action HIV AIDS education mental health interracial relationships and sexual violence institutions in need of change including legal religious and educational entities and much more Restoried Selves Autobiographies of Queer Asian Pacific American Activists is an essential read for academics and researchers working in Asian American studies ethnic studies gender studies and queer studies and for LGBTQ youth and their parents teachers and social service providers

The Goths & Other Stories Tis Kaoru Zamler-Carhart, 2023-02-28 In the winter of 476 AD the Ostrogoths hungry and exhausted from wandering for months along the barren confines of the Byzantine Empire write to Emperor Zeno in Constantinople requesting permission to enter the walled city of Epidaurum and just kinda crash and charge their phones Closer to home Orpheus drags behind him a marble still Eurydice through a refrigerator The poetics of car accidents capitalist consumption and anarchist terrorism unfold at a Southern California car dealership The winged messenger Mercury shows up in the apartment of a tax accountant to announce that hell is coming to town Rebels attempt to overthrow the president of Burkina Faso with rotten snails In The Goths Other Stories sexual desire food space and anger are contorted Prose fiction experimental poetry drama letters philosophy and design theory intersect and breed Readers of all centuries will feel at home in this book The smell of seafood and speculative urban planning merge into a 1990s computer game Abidjan has 12 756 streets with no way to go from one to another and an apocalypse of tax law and classical mythology descends upon suburbia and reveals a medieval theology of design theater and light The book s six stories are set in different times and places sometimes within the same narrative but have in common a slippery approach to the boundaries between fiction and theory between ontological planes and between the comical and the moral Together they form a treatise on the nature of writing as a branch of design one whose medium is easier to reveal than to define

Privileged Hands Geerat Vermeij, 1996-08-15 His fingers move across the surface of a shell feeling the ridges and contours searching for clues gathering information unnoticed by the untrained eye For Dr Geerat Vermeij s fingers are his eyes One of the most accomplished evolutionary biologists of our time and the world s leading authority on an ancient arms race among mollusks

Dr Vermeij is blind No ordinary autobiography Privileged Hands is the story of Dr Vermeij's challenge and triumph What makes his story so compelling is how he sees and what his insights reveal about the wonder of life on planet Earth His exhaustive research of ancient and living mollusks particularly shells is extraordinary in its scope and perspective about how species arm themselves compete and survive This is an intriguing irony for someone whose incomparable story is characterized by an unfailing determination to thrive in a sighted world and in the world of science For Dr Vermeij's self portrait is also a portrait of the practice of science his views on evolution and biodiversity and the importance of observation are as much the story as are his family relationships education and position on arritmatic action Privileged Hands is provocative and intelligent storytelling it reveals as much about our own lives as it does about this one remarkable scientist's life Uplifting may smack of sentimentality but Vermeij's life story surely is uplifting and it contributes importantly to evolutionary science Kirkus Reviews

The Amber Gods, and Other Stories Harriet Elizabeth Prescott Spofford, 1889 A widely held vision of nineteenth century American women is of lives lived in naive domestic peace the girls of Little Women making do until father comes home from the war Nothing could be less true of Harriet Prescott Spofford's stories In fact her editor at the Atlantic Monthly at first refused to believe that an unworldly woman from New England had written them Her style though ornate by our 20th century standards adds to its atmosphere like heavy Baroque furniture in a large and creepy house The title story presents a self centered and captivating woman who ruthlessly steals her orphan cousin's lover In Circumstance a pioneer woman returning home through the woods at night is caught by a panther her husband who has come to save her can only watch from the ground as she sings for her life pinned in a tree A train engineer hallucinates again and again that he is running over his wife And Mrs Craven who's a bit weak in the head mindlessly repeats Three men went down cellar and only two came up These stories combine elements of the best ghost stories timing detail and character with just enough chill to make you think twice about turning out your lights at night

Better Melvin Bray, 2017-02-14 What if we could actually change the world by telling better stories What if the world we have with its racism sexism heterosexism ableism religious hatred ecological disregard is exactly the world we have spun into existence through the stories we have told In his new book Melvin Bray insists that a better world is possible if the stories around which we organize our lives begin to match the beauty we imagine is possible Bray puts forth his own daring yet faithful reimaginings of classic faith stories that inspire more beautiful more just more virtue filled ways of being in the world Better offers a spiritual path on which people for whom life has called into question many of their assumptions about God and the world can continue to hold onto their faith while joining others of goodwill in seeking sustainable cooperative and courageous answers to the seemingly intractable problems of our time
