Process And Difference Between Cosmological And Poststructuralist Postmodernisms:

Process and Difference Catherine Keller, Anne Daniell, 2012-02-01 The similarities and creative tensions between French based poststructuralism and Whiteheadian process thought are examined here by leading scholars Although both approaches are labeled postmodern their own proponents often take them to be so dissimilar as to be opposed Contributors to this book however argue that processing these differences of theory at a deeper level may cultivate fertile and innovative modes of reflection Through their comparisons contrasts and hybridizations of process and poststructuralist theories the contributors variously redefine concepts of divinity and cosmos advance the interaction between science and religion and engage the sex gender and religious ethics of otherness and subjectivity

Cloud of the Impossible Catherine Keller, 2014-12-02 The experience of the impossible churns up in our epoch whenever a collective dream turns to trauma politically sexually economically and with a certain ultimacy ecologically Out of an ancient theological lineage the figure of the cloud comes to convey possibility in the face of the impossible An old mystical nonknowing of God now hosts a current knowledge of uncertainty of indeterminate and interdependent outcomes possibly catastrophic Yet the connectivity and collectivity of social movements of the fragile unlikely webs of an alternative notion of existence keep materializing a haunting hope densely entangled suggesting a more convivial relational world Catherine Keller brings process feminist and ecopolitical theologies into transdisciplinary conversation with continental philosophy the quantum entanglements of a participatory universe and the writings of Nicholas of Cusa Walt Whitman A N Whitehead Gilles Deleuze and Judith Butler to develop a theopoetics of nonseparable difference Global movements personal embroilments religious diversity the inextricable relations of humans and nonhumans these phenomena in their unsettling togetherness are exceeding our capacity to know and manage By staging a series of encounters between the nonseparable and the unknowable Keller shows what can be born from our cloudiest entanglement

Conditions of Comparison Ming Xie, 2011-08-04 How do we know the other culture How do such inquiries impact on our knowledge of our own culture These questions lie at the heart of comparative intercultural studies As a theoretical inquiry into how conceptual resources of cultures such as explicit and implicit categories of thought may pre figure our perspectives this book re conceives and reorients comparative intercultural inquiry by arguing for the importance of an epistemological approach and for its potential to transform current critical paradigms in contrast to approaches that emphasize primarily the political and the ethical By critically engaging with and developing the insights of scholars and thinkers from both Anglo American and Continental traditions the book makes a significant meta critical contribution to a rethinking of comparative intercultural studies and literary theory It will be of interest to students and scholars in comparative literature English world literature and global and translation studies

The Community of the Weak Hans-Peter Geiser, 2013-03-28 Social postmodernism and systematic theology can be considered the new pair in some of the most creative discussions on the future of theological method on a global scale Both in the academy and in the public square as well as in the manifold local and pastoral moments of ministry and community social activism the social the postmodern and the theological intermingle in engaging and border crossing ways The Community of the Weak presents a new kind of jazzy fundamental theology with a postmodern touch using jazz as a metaphor writing ethnographically messy texts out of the personal windows of lived experiences combining fragments of autobiography with theological reconstruction A comparative perspective on North American and European developments in contemporary systematic theology serves as a hermeneutical horizon to juxtapose two continents in their very different contexts The author proposes a systematic and fundamental theology that is more jazzy global and narrative deeply embedded in pastoral ministry to tell its postmodern story

Spiritual Being and Becoming

Eric J Kyle,2017-05-25 As many as 100 billion neurons make up the human nervous system a system that is incredibly complex and a fundamental part of what makes us who we are But there is far more to human beings than biology Many academic disciplines study the human condition and there are many schools of thought within that study We must also appreciate that the study of human nature did not begin in contemporary times History is full of texts that offer detailed explorations of the human condition However no consensus has yet emerged Consensus or not those working towards religious and spiritual formation pursue the transformation of their communities This book offers a fuller understanding of some of the common views of human nature and also insights into how we might utilise this knowledge in our ministries ministries that strive towards the spiritual being and becoming of our world

Religions in the Making

John B. Cobb,2012-11-06 Whitehead had a place for God in his comprehensive cosmological vision and his theism has long attracted interest from some Christian theologians But Whitehead s ideas have much wider use Some Buddhists have found help in articulating their nontheistic vision and relating it to the current world of thought and action In this book religious writers in seven different traditions articulate how they can benefit from Whitehead's work. So this volume demonstrates that various features of his thought can contribute to many communities. According to his followers, Whitehead shows that the deepest convictions and commitments of the major religious communities can be complementary rather than in conflict. Readers of this book will see how that plays out in some detail. A Whiteheadian Hindu can recognize the truth in a Whiteheadian Judaism and both can appreciate the insights of Chinese Whiteheadians committed to their classical thinking. Perhaps a new day in interreligious understanding has come. Lived Mission in 21st Century Britain Benjamin Aldous, 2024-10-30. Nearly 30 years after South African missiologist David Bosch explored what he called elements of an emerging ecumenical missionary paradigm, Lived Mission in 21st Century Britain proposes that there is still work to be done ecumenically for missiology to inhabit rightfully its role as critical friend, crosser of boundaries, advocate for justice and intellectual ankle biter. Bringing together a unique array of contributors, the book considers what mission as practice looks like both through the eyes of those who are well established as theologians and reflective practitioners and those who are working on the ground and have written little on their daily lived experience. Chapter authors include Jan Nowotnik, Graham Adams, Shemil Mathew, Timothy Boniface, Carroll Bisi Adenekan, Elizabeth Joy Heather, Major Tom Hackett, James Woodward, Raj Bhara Patta, Paul Weller, Niall Cooper, Lisa Adjei Shermara, Fletcher and Anupama Ranawana. Social Theory and Asian Dialogues Ananta Kumar Giri, 2018-03-30. Critically exploring the presuppositions of contemporary social theory, this collection argues for a trans-civilizational dialogue and a deepening of the universe of intellectual discourse in order to transform sociology into a truly planetary conversation on the human condition. Focusing on perspectives from Asia, notably East Asia and India, it interrogates presuppositions in contemporary critical social theory about man, culture and society and considers central themes such as knowledge and power, knowledge and liberation. The diverse contributions tackle key questions such as the globalization of social theory, identity and society in East Asia as well as issues such as biopolitics, social welfare and eurocentrism. They also examine dialogues along multiple trajectories between social theorists from the Euro-American world and from the Asian universe, such as between Kant and Gandhi, Habermas and Sri Aurobindo, the Bildung tradition in Europe and the Confucian traditions. Arguing for a global comparative engagement and cross-cultural dialogue, this is a key read for all those interested in the future of social theory in the wake of globalization and the rise of the global south. Literary Worlds and Deleuze Zornitsa Dimitrova, 2016-12-20. Literary Worlds and Deleuze contributes to debates on mimesis by offering an expressionist take on the matter of the generation of literary worlds in drama. In examining postdramatic plays by Sarah Kane, Martin Crimp, Caryl Churchill and Laura Wade, the book outlines a dynamic ontology of mimesis. Rather than pertaining to a static ontology of being, expressionist mimesis is generative and renews itself constantly without arriving at an entelechial end. In exploring the fluxional field of forces and relations that underlie the order of representation, expressionist mimesis is well suited to account for the ontologically uncertain realities of postdramatic theatre.

The concepts of expression and the event of sense Gilles Deleuze become part of a generative model that incorporates pre linguistic and supra conceptual constituents within the genesis of representation Post-Liberalism Fred

Dallmayr,2019-04-11 Liberal democracy is the dominant political ideology in the West today Taken at face value it suggests an equivalency between its two central components liberalism and democracy but as Fred Dallmayr argues here the two operate in very different registers The two frequently conflict endangering our public life This is evident in the rise of self centered neo liberalism as well as autocratic movements in our world today More specifically the conflict within liberal democracy is between the pursuit of individual or corporate interest on the one hand and a people increasingly fractured by economic and cultural clashes on the other Dallmayr asks whether there is still room for genuine privacy and authentic democracy when all public goods from schools to parks police and armies have been made the target of privatization In this book Dallmayr sets out to rescue democracy as a shared public and post liberal regime Nonetheless post liberalism does not involve the denial of human freedom nor does it suggest the endorsement of illiberal collectivism or nationalism Drawing on a wide range of contemporary political religious and secular thought Dallmayr charts a possible path to a liberal socialism that is devoid of egalitarian imperatives and a private sphere free from acquisitiveness The Dialogic Evangelical Theology of Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen Peter Goodwin Heltzel,Patrick Oden,Amos Yong,2022-02-21 In this book established scholars from different religions regions and disciplines continue the dialogue that Veli Matti Kärkkäinen began in his A Constructive Christian Theology for the Pluralistic World series and respond to his work in light of their diverse expertise and context Each of the three parts focuses on a key area of Kärkkäinen's engaging work 1 highlighting how his method shaped each volume 2 highlighting his commitment to global perspectives and 3 highlighting his interreligious and interdisciplinary dialogue partners Together these essays seek to deepen and extend the impact of Kärkkäinen's work taking it seriously as a substantive model for contemporary systematic theology in listening and engaging with this world Butler on Whitehead

Roland Faber,Michael Halewood,Deena Lin,2012-03-22 This volume is based on the first set of formal conversations which brings together the dynamic philosophies of two eminent thinkers Judith Butler and Alfred North Whitehead Each has drawn from a wide palette of disciplines to develop distinctive theories of becoming of syntactical violence and creative opportunities of limitation In bringing together internationally renowned interpreters of Butler and Whitehead from a variety of fields and disciplines philosophy rhetoric gender and queer studies religion literary and political theory the editors hope to set a standard for the relevance of interdisciplinary philosophical discourse today This volume offers a unique contribution to and for the humanities in the struggles of politics economy ecology and the arts by reaching beyond their closed circles toward understandings that may serve as the basis for the activation of humanity today Considered together Butler and Whitehead delineate a whole new cadre of approaches to long standing problems as well as never before asked questions in the humanities Contingency of Necessity Tyler Tritten,2018-11-30 Rethinks cinematic journeys through history
