Toward Environmental Justice Committee on Environmental Justice, Institute of Medicine, 1999-03-11 Driven by community based organizations and supported by a growing body of literature the environmental justice movement contends that poor and minority populations are burdened with more than their share of toxic waste pesticide runoff and other hazardous byproducts of our modern economic life Is environmental degradation worse in poor and minority communities Do these communities suffer more adverse health effects as a result The committee addresses these questions and explores how current fragmentation in health policy could be replaced with greater coordination among federal state and local parties The book is highlighted with case studies from five locations where the committee traveled to hear citizen and researcher testimony It offers detailed examinations in these areas Identifying environmental hazards and assessing risk for populations of varying ethnic social and economic backgrounds and the need for methodologies that uniquely suit the populations at risk Identifying basic clinical and occupational research needs and meeting challenges to research on minorities Expanding environmental education from an ecological focus to a public health focus for all levels of health professionals Legal and ethical aspects of environmental health issues The book makes recommendations to decisionmakers in the areas of public health research and education of health professionals and outlines health policy considerations

American Indian Health Everett R. Rhoades, 2003-05-22 Disease processes among American Indians and Alaska Natives often have distinct manifestations that need to be considered by clinicians and health policy makers involved with these populations Equally important all aspects of Indian life including health are governed by the special relationship between Indian tribes and the U S federal government For American Indian Health Everett R Rhoades has gathered a distinguished group of scholars and practitioners to present a comprehensive assessment of the health of American Indian peoples today and the delivery of health services to them

Tobacco Use Among United States Racial/ethnic Minority Groups United States. Department of Health and Human Services, 1998 This Surgeon General s report on tobacco use summarizes current information on risk factors and patterns related to tobacco use among members of four major racial and ethnic minority groups in the United States African Americans American Indians and Alaska Natives Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders and Hispanics In addition this report presents information on national and regional efforts to curtail consumption of tobacco products among members of these four groups Previous Surgeon General s reports on smoking and health have briefly summarized findings related to one or more of the racial ethnic groups covered in this report but this is the first Surgeon General s report to concentrate specifically on the four major racial ethnic groups in the United States Several factors prompted the development of this report First the information in this report has never before been compiled in one source Consequently policymakers community leaders researchers and public health workers have had difficulty determining the extent of the problem identifying gaps in information regarding tobacco use among members of the four groups or being aware of existing tobacco control programs that have demonstrated effectiveness Thus incorporating such information into the design and implementation of culturally appropriate services has been difficult Second the four racial ethnic groups currently constitute about one fourth of the population of this country and the Bureau of the Census projects that by 2050 the non Hispanic white population in the United States will total only 53 percent Day 1996 Preventing health problems related to tobacco use among the individuals in racial and ethnic groups will be integral to achieving U S public health objectives such as those proposed in Healthy People 2000 National Health Promotion and Disease Prevention Objectives U S Department of Health and Human Services USDHHS 1991 1995 National Center for Health Statistics NCHS 1994 This report contributes essential knowledge that must be incorporated into efforts to accomplish the Healthy People 2000 objectives Racial/ethnic Patterns of Cancer in the United States, 1988-1992, 1996

Sickness and Healing Robert A. Hahn,1995 The ways in which people respond to sickness differ greatly from society to society In this book anthropologist and epidemiologist Robert A Hahn examines how Western and non Western cultures influence the definition experience and treatment of sickness Hahn begins by developing a definition of sickness that is based on the patient s perception of suffering and disturbance rather than on the physician s assessment of biomedical signs After reviewing the principal theories that account for the forms of sickness and healing found in different historical and cultural situations he explores the relevance of both anthropological and epidemiological approaches to sickness focusing on the persistent gap between white and black infant mortality in the United States Hahn then describes contemporary Western medicine as it might be seen by a visiting foreign anthropologist He delineates the culture of Western medicine and portrays the world of one physician at work traces the evolution of obstetrics since 1903 by analyzing the principal textbook Williams Obstetrics through its first eighteen editions and explores the gulf between physicians and their patients by examining the accounts of physicians who have written about their own illnesses He concludes by proposing ways in which some of the ills of contemporary Western medicine might be remedied by applying anthropological principles to medical training and practice

The Top Books of the Year Racial Ethnic Patterns Of Cancer In The Us 1988 199 The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Racial Ethnic Patterns Of Cancer In The Us 1988 199 : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
