Remembering A Phenomenological Study Studies In Phenomenology And Existential Philosophy:

Remembering Edward S. Casey, 1987-01-01      Traveling Spirit Masters Deborah Kapchan, 2007-10-26 The sacred and musical phenomenon of trance      Edmund Husserl Bibliography Steven Spileers, 2013-03-09 This bibliography contains the publications of Husserl and the main secondary literature on Husserl from Husserl's earliest publication 1887 till today 1997 As the collection of material was concluded in June 1997 the list of publications for the year 1997 is of course incomplete In this bibliography publications in the following languages have been included German English French Italian Spanish Portuguese and Dutch for both primary and secondary literature Since this bibliography has been based primarily on the consultation of the included documents and not restricted to copying already existing bibliographies it was not possible to include publications in languages other than those mentioned The bibliography has been constructed in the following way 1 The list of Husserl's works and secondary literature by individual authors is preceded by a list of all edited volumes in which a text by or on Husserl is published This list is ordered chronologically and runs from 1921 till 1997 inclusive Edited volumes of the same year are classified according to language and this in the order mentioned above German English French etc Edited volumes with a title in more than one language are classified according to the above order of languages this of course concerns only the title of the edited volume not the titles of the individual contributions This order is maintained throughout the other parts of the bibliography      Maxwell Street Tim Cresswell, 2019-03-22 What is the nature of place and how does one undertake to write about it To answer these questions geographer and poet Tim Cresswell looks to Chicago's iconic Maxwell Street Market area Maxwell Street was for decades a place where people from all corners of the city mingled to buy and sell goods play and listen to the blues and encounter new foods and cultures Now redeveloped and renamed University Village it could hardly be more different In Maxwell Street Cresswell advocates approaching the study of place as an assemblage of things meanings and practices He models this innovative approach through a montage format that exposes the different types of texts primary secondary and photographic sources that have attempted to capture the essence of the area Cresswell studies his historical sources just as he explores the different elements of Maxwell Street exposing them layer by layer Brilliantly interweaving words and images Maxwell Street sheds light on a historic Chicago neighborhood and offers a new model for how to write about place that will interest anyone in the fields of geography urban studies or cultural history      Recycling the Past or Researching History? Philip E. Thompson, Anthony R. Cross, 2007-10-01 Recycling the Past or Researching History brings together an international group of Baptist scholars who explore various issues in Baptist historiography and myths Contributors examine and re-examine areas of Baptist life and thought about which either little is known or the received wisdom is in need of revision Historiographical studies include the date Oxford Baptists joined the Abingdon Association the death of the Fifth Monarchist John Pendarves eighteenth century Calvinistic Baptists and the political realm confessional identity and denominational institutions Baptist community ecclesiology the priesthood of all believers soteriology Baptist spirituality Strict and Reformed Baptists the role of women among British Baptists while various myths challenged include the nature of high Calvinism in eighteenth century England baptismal anti sacramentalism episcopacy and Baptists and change The common theme tying these studies together is that research into Baptist history should deal with the primary sources and not as has too often been the case rely uncritically on the scholarship of previous generations

Work and Livelihoods Susana Narotzky, Victoria Goddard, 2016-12-01 Winner of the Society for the Anthropology of Work book prize 2017 This volume presents a global range of ethnographic case studies to explore the ways in which in the context of the restructuring of industrial work the ongoing financial crisis and the surge in unemployment and precarious employment local and global actors engage with complex social processes and devise ideological political and economic responses to them It shows how the reorganization and re signification of work notably shifts in the perception and valorization of work affect domestic and community arrangements and shape the conditions of life of workers and their families

Being Human, Being Migrant Anne Sigfrid Grønseth, 2013-10-01 Migrant experiences accentuate general aspects of the human condition Therefore this volume explores migrant s movements not only as geographical movements from here to there but also as movements that constitute an embodied cognitive and existential experience of living in between or on the borderlands between differently figured life worlds Focusing on memories nostalgia the here and now social experiences of daily living and the hopes and dreams for the future the volume demonstrates how all interact in migrants and refugees experience of identity and quest for well being

Live Cinema Sarah Atkinson, Helen W. Kennedy, 2017-12-28 Live Cinema is a term used to capture a diverse range of experiences that incorporate a live element in relation to a film s exhibition The live augmentation of cinema screenings is not a new phenomenon indeed this tendency is present throughout the entire history of cinema in the form of live musical accompaniments to silent screenings showmanship practices and cult film audience behaviours The contemporary revival of experiential cinema captured within this volume presents instances where the live transcends the mediated and escapes beyond the boundaries of the auditorium Our contributors investigate film exhibition practices that include synchronous live performance site specific screenings technological intervention social media engagement and all manner of simultaneous interactive moments including singing dancing eating and drinking These investigations reveal new cultures of reception and practice new experiential aesthetics and emergent economies of engagement This collection brings together fifteen contributions that together trace the emergence of a vivid new area of study Drawing on rich diverse and interdisciplinary fields of enquiry this volume encapsulates a broad range of innovative methodological approaches offers new conceptual frameworks and new critical vocabularies through which to describe and analyse the emergent phenomena of Live Cinema

Perspectives on Dance Fusion in the Caribbean and Dance Sustainability Aminata Cairo, Laura Donnelly, Neri Torres, 2019-10-07 This volume examines the theme of fusion in Caribbean dance from a wide range of perspectives including its socio cultural historical formation The contributions are drawn from a conference entitled Caribbean Fusion Dance Works Rituals of Modern Society which focused primarily on the Caribbean as a unique locale However chapters on dance fusions in other diasporic locations and the sustainability of dance as an art form are also included here in order to offer a sense of an inevitable and in some instances desirable evolution due to the globalizing forces that continue to influence dance The Journal of Philosophy

,1987 Presenting Difficult Pasts Through Architecture Rumiko Handa,2021-03-24 Architectural design can play a role in helping make the past present in meaningful ways when applied to preexisting buildings and places that carry notable and troubling pasts In this comparative analysis Rumiko Handa establishes the critical role architectural designs play in presenting difficult pasts by examining documentation centers on National Socialism in Germany Presenting Difficult Pasts Through Architecture analyzes four centers Cologne Nuremberg Berlin and Munich from the point of view of their shared intent to make the past present at National Socialists perpetrator sites Applying original frameworks Handa considers what more architectural design could do toward meaningful representations and interpretations of difficult pasts This book is a must read for students practitioners and academics interested in how architectural design can participate in presenting the difficult pasts of historical places in meaningful ways Proceedings and Addresses of the American Philosophical Association
