Services And Resources For Children And Young Adults And Public Libraries:

Services and Resources for Children and Young Adults in Public Libraries Sheila Heaviside, 1995 the findings are presented of 1994 surveys on services and resources for children and young adults ages 12-18 in public libraries. Each survey was conducted with a different nationally representative sample of public libraries. Data was collected for individual buildings rather than for library systems. Findings indicate the following: 1. children and young adults represent 60% of public library patronage; 2. 30% of public librarians specialize in youth services; 3. 39% of libraries employ a children's librarian, 11% have a young adult librarian, and 24% have a youth services specialist on staff; 4. 30% of all public libraries have only one librarian on staff; 5. ethnic diversity of children and young adult patrons has increased over 40% in the last 5 years; 6. computer technologies are among the most heavily used children's and young adult resources in public libraries and are also the most scarce; 7. many library programs primarily target preschool and kindergarten children; 8. only 76% of public libraries report working with schools; 9. only one in seven libraries offer homework assistance programs; 10. 11% of public libraries have neither a young adult collection or section; and 11. insufficient library staff is a leading barrier to increasing services and resources for children and young adults. Survey data is provided in 21 tables and 14 figures. Appendices present survey methodology and data reliability, a list of tables with standard errors, and survey forms. Services and Resources for Children and Young Adults in Public Libraries, 1995 Resources in Education, 1998 Services and Resources for Young Adults in Public Libraries, 1988 Handbook of Research on Children's and Young Adult Literature Shelby Wolf, Karen Coats, Patricia Enciso, Christine Jenkins, 2011-04-27 This landmark volume is the first to bring together leading scholarship on children's and young adult literature from three intersecting disciplines: Education, English, and Library and Information Science. Distinguished by its multidisciplinary approach, it describes and analyzes the different aspects of literary reading texts and contexts to illuminate how the book is transformed within and across different academic figurations of reading and interpreting children's literature. Part one considers perspectives on readers and reading literature in home, school, library, and community settings. Part two introduces analytic frames for studying young adult novels, picturebooks, indigenous literature, graphic novels, and other genres. Chapters include commentary on literary experiences and creative production from renowned authors and illustrators. Part three focuses on the social contexts of literary study with chapters on censorship, awards, marketing, and literary museums. The singular contribution of this Handbook is to lay the groundwork for colleagues across disciplines to redraw the map of their separately figured worlds, thus to enlarge the scope of scholarship and dialogue as well as push ahead into uncharted territory. *Library Services for Children and Young People*Carolynn Rankin, Avril Brock, 2012-11-23 A vision for children's library services in the next decade. This book provides a sound background to all aspects of library provision for 6-18 year olds. It is designed to support the strategic planning and delivery of library services and programmes at a local community level or in schools. The book outlines a vision for children's library services in the next decade and carves out a strategy for engaging with the challenges and opportunities for children's librarians and policy makers in the digital environment. This book is accessible, informative and inspiring and offers practitioners the knowledge, ideas and confidence to work in partnership with other key professionals in delivering services and programmes. It provides an evidence base which promotes and encourages the development of effective library services for children and young people. The case studies, scenarios and vignettes drawn from UK and international sources show that the key issues have an international dimension and the similarities and differences in service provision will be of interest to many. In addition to the two editors, chapters are contributed by a range of internationally known practitioners and academics offering a wide perspective. Case studies at the end of each section complement themes and practices from previous chapters while rooting the discussion in a specific context. The book is organized into four parts: Children's library services; policy, people and partnerships; Connecting and engaging; reaching your audience and catching the latest wave; acknowledging the role of technology; Buildings, design and spaces; libraries for children and young people; Issues for professional practice; Readership. This book is essential reading for all senior library practitioners, children's librarians and school librarians, subject coordinators and managers in schools. It will also be of value for all postgraduate students on CILIP accredited library and information management courses.
