The Seven Matrices Alan M. Olson,1992-09-01

The Herbaceous Layer in Forests of Eastern North America

Frank S. Gilliam,Mark R. Roberts,2003-07-24 Focusing on the oft overlooked herbaceous layer of eastern forests this volume combines perspectives from different levels of biological organization ecophysiology to ecosystems and forest types from the eastern boreal forest to southeastern pine forests into a synthesis of our knowledge of the ecology of this important forest layer This is the first book of its kind to synthesise information concerning herbaceous layer structure composition and dynamics of a variety of forest ecosystem types in eastern North America With over 1 200 references cited in the 14 chapters this book represents the most comprehensive review of literature on the ecology of the herbaceous layer Canadian Journal of Forest Research ,2007 Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004 Diversity and Interaction in a Temperate Forest Community Tohru Nakashizuka,Yoosuke Matsumoto,2013-11-11 The studies in the Ogawa Forest Reserve OPR were initiated by a group of plant ecologists and gradually expanded into a comprehensive project covering various aspects of biology soil science and silviculture The project was integrated as part of the Forest Ecosystem Team under the BIO COSMOS Program funded by the Ministry of Agriculture Forestry and Fisheries As the coordinators of the Forest Ecosystem Team we are pleased that reports of the long term studies carried out in the OFR are being published in this first volume on Japanese ecosystems in the Ecological Studies series Scientists and researchers have made numerous contributions to the field of forest ecology during more than 10 years of studies in the OFR Two reasons can be cited for the success of the project scientists from various disciplines concentrated on a single target forest ecosystem and the research continued over a relatively long term It is now recognized that ecological processes include complicated mechanisms supported by interactions among organisms and large temporal variations The researchers in the OFR project were motivated by their interest in the history of ecosystems and the interactions of diverse creatures in the forest 17th Conference, Agricultural and Forest Meteorology and Seventh Conference, Biometeorology and Aerobiology ,1985 Zoo Conservation Biology John E. Fa,Stephan M. Funk,Donnamarie O'Connell,2011-08-18 In the face of ever declining biodiversity zoos have a major role to play in species conservation Written by professionals involved in in situ conservation and restoration projects internationally this is a critical assessment of the contribution of zoos to species conservation through evidence amassed from a wide range of sources The first part outlines the biodiversity context within which zoos should operate introducing the origins and global spread of zoos and exploring animal collection composition The second part focuses on the basic elements of keeping viable captive animal populations It considers the consequences of captivity on animals the genetics of captive populations and the performance of zoos in captive breeding The final part examines ways in which zoos can make a significant difference to conservation now and in the future Bridging the gap between pure science and applied conservation this is an ideal resource for both conservation biologists and zoo professionals Proceedings of a

Symposium on the Kings River Sustainable Forest Ecosystems Project ,2002 Modelling Forest Growth and Yield

Jerome K. Vanclay,1994 This book provides an introduction to growth modeling in mixed forests with emphasis on the tropics It is not intended as a how to manual with step by step instructions as there is no single best way to model such forests Rather it reviews different approaches highlighting their strengths and limitations It emphasizes empirical statistical models rather than physiological process type models because of the proven utility of the former in forest management Each chapter includes exercises that can be completed manually or on PC and spreadsheet The book will serve as a reference manual for practitioners and as a text for advanced level students taking courses in forest modeling Population Dynamics in Variable Environments Shripad Tuljapurkar,2013-04-17 Demography relates observable facts about individuals to the dynamics of populations If the dynamics are linear and do not change over time the classical theory of Lotka 1907 and Leslie 1945 is the central tool of demography This book addresses the situation when the assumption of constancy is dropped In many practical situations a population will display unpredictable variation over time in its vital rates which must then be described in statistical terms Most of this book is concerned with the theory of populations which are subject to random temporal changes in their vital rates although other kinds of variation e g cyclical are also dealt with The central questions are how does temporal variation work its way into a population s future and how does it affect our interpretation of a population s past The results here are directed at demographers of humans and at population biologists The uneven mathematical level is dictated by the material but the book should be accessible to readers interested in population theory Readers looking for background or prerequisites will find much of it in Hal Caswell s Matrix population models construction analysis and interpretation Sinauer 1989 This book is in essence a progress report and is deliberately brief I hope that it is not mystifying I have not attempted to be complete about either the history or the subject although most significant results and methods are presented
