The West and the Word Steffen Wöll, 2020-10-12 Western expansion in North America has mainly been described as either a linear sequence energized by nineteenth century nation building processes at a moving frontier or as the practice of settler colonialism and its exploitation of resources and displacement of nonwhite peoples This book suggests that shifting the focus from this binary pattern towards spatial imaginations and spatialization processes a new theoretical framework developed at SFB 1199 provides novel insights into the placemaking dynamics of the American West It brings to light a discursive diversity that often contradicts unidirectional interpretive patterns It becomes clear that while some discourses solidified into spatial metanarratives like the character shaping clash of civilizations at the frontier or manifest destiny alternative spatial imaginations exist juxtaposed to or obfuscated by canonical interpretations Making use of a variety of sources including works of literature poetry newspapers paintings and speeches to access spatialization processes on several sociocultural scales the book presents a careful exploration of the parameters that informed the creation affirmation and subversion of spatial imagination of the American West throughout the nineteenth century from the perspective of American Studies

Daughters Of Canaan Margaret Ripley Wolfe, 2021-12-14 From Gone with the Wind to Designing Women images of southern females that emerge from fiction and film tend to obscure the diversity of American women from below the Mason Dixon line In a work that deftly lays bare a myriad of myths and stereotypes while presenting true stories of ambition grit and endurance Margaret Ripley Wolfe offers the first professional historical synthesis of southern women's experiences across the centuries In telling their story she considers many ordinary lives those of Native American African American and white women from the Tidewater region and Appalachia to the Mississippi Delta to the Gulf

Coastal Plain women whose varied economic and social circumstances resist simple explanations Wolfe examines critical eras outstanding personalities and groups wives mothers pioneers soldiers suffragists politicians and civil rights activists and the impact of the passage of time and the pressure of historical forces on the region's females The historical southern woman argues Wolfe has operated under a number of handicaps bearing the full weight of southern history mythology and legend Added to these have been the limitations of being female in a patriarchal society and the constraining images of the southern belle and her mentor the southern lady In addition the specter of race has haunted all southern women Gender is a common denominator but according to Wolfe it does not transcend race class point of view or a host of other factors Intrigued by the imagery as well as the irony of biblical stories and southern history Wolfe titles her work Daughters of Canaan Canaan symbolizes promise and for activist women in particular the South has been about promise as much as fulfillment General readers and students of southern and women's history will be drawn to Wolfe's engrossing chronicle Each Mind a Kingdom Beryl Satter, 2001-05-14 Beryl Satter examines New Thought in all its complexity presenting along the way a captivating cast of characters In lively and accessible prose she introduces the people the institutions the texts and the ideas that comprised the New Thought movement The 1930s in America, 2002-10-24 The 1930s in America Facing Depression Grades 6-7 The 1930s in America explores Depression era America from the perspective of many different groups of people utilizing a variety of primary sources to illustrate events and the social political context The unit emphasizes the interplay of changes in geography government the economy and the influence of particular individuals and groups
