Trade and Nation Emily Erikson, 2021-06-29 In the seventeenth century English economic theorists lost interest in the moral status of exchange and became increasingly concerned with the roots of national prosperity This shift marked the origins of classical political economy and provided the foundation for the contemporary discipline of economics The seventeenth century revolution in economic thought fundamentally reshaped the way economic processes have been interpreted and understood In Trade and Nation Emily Erikson brings together historical comparative and computational methods to explain the institutional forces that brought about this transformation Erikson pinpoints how the rise of the company form in confluence with the political marginalization of English merchants created an opening for public argumentation over economic matters Independent merchants who were excluded from state institutions and vast areas of trade confronted the power and influence of crown endorsed chartered companies Their distance from the halls of government drove them to take their case to the public sphere The number of merchant authored economic texts rose as members of this class sought to show that their preferred policies would contribute to the benefit of the state and commonwealth In doing so they created and disseminated a new moral framework of growth prosperity and wealth for evaluating economic behavior By using computational methods to document these processes Trade and Nation provides both compelling evidence and a prototype for how methodological innovations can help to provide new insights into large scale social processes

Building the Modern Church Robert Proctor, 2016-05-23 Fifty years after the Second Vatican Council architectural historian Robert Proctor examines the transformations in British Roman Catholic church architecture that took place in the two decades surrounding this crucial event Inspired by new thinking in theology and changing practices of worship and by a growing acceptance of modern art and architecture architects designed radical new forms of church building in a campaign of new buildings for new urban contexts A focussed study of mid twentieth century church architecture Building the Modern Church considers how architects and clergy constructed the image and reality of the Church as an institution through its buildings The author examines changing conceptions of tradition and modernity and the development of a modern church architecture that drew from the ideas of the liturgical movement The role of Catholic clergy as patrons of modern architecture and art and the changing attitudes of the Church and its architects to modernity are examined explaining how different strands of post war architecture were adopted in the field of ecclesiastical buildings The church building s social role in defining communities through rituals and symbols is also considered together with the relationships between churches and modernist urban planning in new towns and suburbs Case studies analysed in detail

Cull John Ogilvie, 1865 Humanism and the Reform of Sacred Music in Early Modern England Hyun-Ah Kim, 2016-05-13 John Merbecke c 1505 c 1585 is most famous as the composer of the first musical setting of the English liturgy The Booke of Common Praier Noted BCPN published in 1550 Not only was Merbecke a pioneer in setting English prose to music but also the compiler of the first Concordance of the whole English Bible 1550 and of the first English encyclopaedia of biblical and theological studies A Booke of Notes and Common Places 1581 By situating Merbecke and his work within a broader intellectual and religio cultural context of Tudor England this book challenges the existing studies of Merbecke based on the narrow theological approach to the Reformation Furthermore it suggests a re thinking of the prevailing interpretative framework of Reformation musical history On the basis of the new contextual study of Merbecke this book seeks to re interpret his work particularly BCPN in the light of humanist rhetoric It sees Merbecke as embodying the ideal of the Christian musical orator demonstrating that BCPN is an Anglican epitome of the Erasmian synthesis of eloquence theology and music The book thus depicts Merbecke as a humanist reformer through re evaluation of his contributions to the developments of vernacular music and literature in early modern England As such it will be of interest not only to church musicians but also to historians of the Reformation and students of wider Tudor culture The Printed Image in Early Modern London Joseph Monteyne, 2017-07-05 Presenting an inventive body of research that explores the connections between urban movements space and visual representation this study offers the first sustained analysis of the vital interrelationship between printed images and urban life in early modern London The study differs from all other books on early modern British print culture in that it seeks out printed forms that were active in shaping and negotiating the urban milieu prints that troubled categories of high and low culture images that emerged when the political became infused with the creative as well as prints that bear traces of the roles they performed and the ways they were used in the city It is distinguished by its close and sustained readings of individual prints from the likes of such artists as Wenceslaus Hollar Francis Barlow and William Faithorne and this visual analysis is complemented with a thorough examination of the dynamics of print production as a commercial exchange that takes place within a wider set of exchanges of goods people ideas and money across the city and the nation This study challenges scholars to re imagine the function of popular prints as a highly responsive form of cultural production capable not only of recording events spaces and social actions but profoundly shaping the way these entities are conceived in the moment and also recast within cultural memory It offers historians of print culture and British art a sophisticated and innovative model of how to mobilize rigorous archival research in the service of a thoroughly historicized and theorized analysis of visual representation and its relationship to space and social identity

Dictionary of the English Language Robert Hunter, Charles Morris, 1905 The Churchman, 1892 The Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1888 The Journal and Messenger, 1918 The Ecclesiastical gazette, or, Monthly register of the affairs of the Church of England, 1865 Episcopal Reform and Politics in Early Modern Europe Jennifer Mara DeSilva, 2012-09-18 In the tumultuous period of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries when ecclesiastical reform spread across Europe the traditional role of the bishop as a public exemplar of piety morality and communal administration came under attack In communities where there was tension between religious groups or between spiritual and secular governing bodies the bishop became a lightning rod for struggles over hierarchical authority and institutional autonomy These struggles were intensified by the ongoing negotiation of the episcopal role and by increased criticism of the cleric especially during periods of religious war and in areas that embraced reformed churches This volume contextualizes the diversity of episcopal experience across early modern Europe while showing the similarity of goals and challenges among various confessional social and geographical communities Until now there have been few studies that examine the spectrum of responses to contemporary challenges the high expectations and the continuing pressure bishops faced in their public role as living examples of Christian ideals Contributors include William V Hudon Jennifer Mara DeSilva Raymond A Powell Hans Cools Antonella Perin John Alexander John Christopoulos Jill Fehleison Linda Lierheimer Celeste McNamara Jean Pascal Gay Fabricating Founders in Early Modern England

Lauren Horn Griffin, 2023-09-14 This book argues that in order to understand nationalisms we need a clearer understanding of the types of cultural myths symbols and traditions that legitimate them Myths of origin and election memories of a greater and purer past and narratives of persecution and mission are required for the production and maintenance of powerful national sentiments Through an investigation of how early modern Catholics and Protestants reimagined reinterpreted and rewrote the lives of the founder saints who spread Christianity in England this book offers a theoretical framework for the study of origin narratives Analyzing the discursive construction of time and place the invocation of forces beyond the human to naturalize and authorize and the role of visual and ritual culture in fabrications of the past this book provides a case study for how to approach claims about founding figures Serving as a timely example of the dependence of national identity on key religious resources Griffin shows how origin narratives particularly the founding figures that anchor them function as uniquely powerful rhetorical tools for the cultural production of regional and national identity The Modern British Essayists Francis Jeffrey, 1854
