New Greenland:

Phasing Out the Colonial Status of Greenland, 1945-54 Jens Elo Rytter, 2010 With the Constitution of 1953 the colonial status of Greenland came to an end and Greenlanders were granted equal rights as citizens within the Danish realm In 1954 this new arrangement was supported by the UN General Assembly The decision to change Greenland's status was conditioned both by internal and external circumstances In the UN context Danes increasingly felt the strain of being a colonial power and they feared the possibility of future UN interference in Greenlandic affairs

Greenland's Stolen Indigenous Children Helene Thiesen, 2022-11-10 In this book author Helene Thiesen recounts her experience of being removed from her family in Greenland as a young Inuk child to be re educated in Denmark and an orphanage in Greenland The practice of forcible assimilation of Indigenous children into colonial societies through education has echoes in North America and Australasia and the painful legacy of these practices remains under acknowledged In this poignant book Helene recounts in detail the process of being taken from her family in 1951 aged seven along with twenty one other children in the attempt to re make them into model Danish citizens in a social experiment led by the Danish government and Save the Children Denmark When the children returned to Greenland a year and a half later they were sent to live in a Danish Red Cross orphanage where they were forbidden to speak their native languages and were compelled to adopt Danish language culture and customs With a detailed introductory analysis from Dr Stephen James Minton who also provides the translation Helene's account serves as a compelling and powerful testimony of a devastating colonial experiment Richly illustrated with forty photos to help to situate the reader this book provides an invaluable case study for researchers and students in the fields of Indigenous Studies Critical Pedagogy and Education Psychology European History and Cultural Studies

The Greenland Entomofauna Jens Böcher, N.P. Kristensen (†), Thomas Pape, Lars Vilhelmsen, 2015-05-26 In The Greenland Entomofauna an international team of 64 taxonomic specialists provide for the first time a richly illustrated guide to the identification of the 1200 species of Hexapods Insects Arachnids and Myriapods so far known to occur in the country While the composition origin and adaptations of the Greenland fauna has always been a challenge to biogeographers and ecologists ecophysiologicalists the provision of a tool for detailed identification of its constituent species is now particularly timely since global climate change will expectedly have a particularly noticeable impact on biota at high latitudes This obviously renders the feasibility of monitoring distributional range shifts of the principal components of this biota a matter of some urgency Contributors are Achterberg Cornelius van Ahola Matti Bartk Miroslav Behan Pelletier Valerie Bird Jeremy M B g Katrine Brodo Fenja Buhl Peter N Dahl Christine Disney R Henry L Dittmar Katharina Fjellberg Arne Gammelmo ivind Forshage Mattias Gerecke Reinhard Gertsson Carl Axel Haastrieter Michael M L Haenni Jean Paul Heie Ole E Heraty John M Hodgson Chris Hodgkinson Ian D Horsfield David Huber John T Jaschoff Matthias Jensen Frank Johanson Kjell A Jussila Reijo Karsholt Ole Krzeminska Ewa Lantsov Vladimir I L ska Pavel Lindegaard Claus Lyneborg Leif Makarova Olga Marusik Yura M Mathis

Greenland views itself as being on the way to sovereignty This image and the tensions involved in it structure the triangular relation between the EU Greenland and Denmark The central Other of Greenland has for a couple of centuries been Denmark the colonial overlord The national identity discourses of Greenland and Denmark both idealize national homogeneity A central condition for a continuation of Rigsf llesskabet the community of the realm including Greenland and Denmark is the idea that Greenland still needs external assistance in its development towards independence and that this idea can be formulated in a way which does not infantilize Greenland metaphorically As part of the postcolonial diversification of Greenland s dependency the bilateral relation between Denmark and Greenland has gradually been opened up to involve other others Meanwhile a discourse prognosticates that climate change is opening up the Arctic to minerals extraction and commerce In these circumstances the triangular relation with the EU is played out as a series of rhetorical and practical sovereignty games in Nuuk Copenhagen and Brussels Particularly a number of strategies are employed to minimize the apparent role of Denmark for the Greenlandic relations to the EU The book approaches these changes in national identity discourse and practical foreign policy in five analytical steps The core concepts organizing Danish and Greenlandic identity are identified in discourse analyses Political debates are read as political identity negotiations The practical diplomatic management of clashing identity discourses is uncovered via qualitative interviews with key actors politicians diplomats and civil servants from Greenland Denmark and the EU Legal texts are approached as the frozen outcome of rhetorical and practical sovereignty games Finally the book develops scenarios for the future and concludes by pointing out how the continuation of the community of the realm may have a better chance if conceived as an ever looser union One way for Denmark of facilitating this image would be to employ its diplomacy in the service of diversifying Greenland's dependence following the example set in relation to the EU

The Building News and Engineering Journal, 1904 Arctic Bibliography Arctic Institute of North America, 1953 Works Issued by the Hakluyt Society, 1855 Arctic Cinemas and the Documentary Ethos Lilya Kaganovsky, Scott MacKenzie, Anna Westerstahl Stenport, 2019-02-18 Beginning with Robert Flaherty's Nanook of the North 1922 the majority of films that have been made in about and by filmmakers from the Arctic region have been documentary cinema Focused on a hostile environment that few people visit these documentaries have heavily shaped ideas about the contemporary global Far North In Arctic Cinemas and the Documentary Ethos contributors from a variety of scholarly and artistic backgrounds come together to provide a comprehensive study of Arctic documentary cinemas from a transnational perspective This book offers a thorough analysis of the concept of the Arctic as it is represented in documentary filmmaking while challenging the notion of The Arctic as a homogenous entity that obscures the environmental historical geographic political and cultural differences that characterize the region By examining how the Arctic is imagined understood and appropriated in documentary work the contributors argue that such films are key in contextualizing environmental indigenous political cultural sociological and ethnographic understandings of the Arctic from early cinema to the present Understanding the role of these films becomes all the more urgent in the present day as conversations around resource extraction climate change and sovereignty take center stage in the Arctic's representation

Prophets Male and Female, 2013-06-05 Because gender is an essential component of societies of all times and places it is no surprise that every prophetic expression in the ancient social world was a gendered one In this volume scholars of the biblical literature and of the ancient Mediterranean consider a wide array of prophetic phenomena In addition to prophetic texts of the Hebrew Bible the essays also look at prophecy in ancient Mesopotamia and early Christianity Using the most current theoretical categories the volume demonstrates how essential a broad definition of gender is for understanding its connection to both the delivery and the content of ancient prophecy Attention to gender dynamics will continue to reveal the fluidity of prophetic gender performance and to open up the ancient contexts of prophetic texts The contributors are Roland Boer Corrine Carvalho Lester L Grabbe Anselm C Hagedorn Esther J Hamori Dale Launderville Antti Marjanen Martti Nissinen Jonathan St kl Hanna Tervanotko and Ilona Zsolnay Current Issues in Climate Research Anver Ghazi,R. Governing the North American Arctic Dawn Alexandra Berry,Nigel Bowles,Halbert Jones,2016-04-08 Though it has been home for centuries to indigenous peoples who have mastered its conditions the Arctic has historically proven to be a difficult region for governments to administer Extreme temperatures vast distances and widely dispersed patterns of settlement have made it impossible for bureaucracies based in far off capitals to erect and maintain the kind of infrastructure and institutions that they have built elsewhere As climate change transforms the polar regions this book seeks to explore how the challenges of governance are developing and being met in Alaska the Canadian Far North and Greenland while also drawing upon lessons from the region s past Though the experience of each of these jurisdictions is unique their place within democratic federal systems and the prominence within each of them of issues relating to the rights of indigenous peoples situates them as part of an identifiably North American Arctic Today as this volume shows their institutions are evolving to address contemporary issues of security environmental protection indigenous rights and economic development
