available to the firm the second volume provided an introduction to the general legal aspects of generic investment contracts and payment obligations. This volume discusses funding transactions, exit, and a particular category of decisions raising existential questions: business acquisitions. Transactions which can be regarded as funding transactions from the perspective of a firm raising the funding can be regarded as investment transactions from the perspective of an investor that provides the funding. Although the perspective chosen in this volume is that of a firm raising funding, this volume will simultaneously provide information about the legal aspects of many investment transactions.

1.2 Funding Exit Acquisitions

Funding transactions are obviously an important way to manage cash flow. All investments will have to be funded in some way or another. The firm's funding mix will also influence risk in many ways.

Funding: The most important way to raise funding is through retained profits and by using existing assets more efficiently. The firm can also borrow money from a bank or issue debt, equity, or mezzanine securities to a small group of investors.
