Making Of An English Underclass The Social Divisions Of Welfare And Labour:

The Making of an English "underclass"? Kirk Mann,1992      The Making of an English "underclass"? Kirk Mann,1992 Provides a theoretical and historical review of social divisions and their relationship to welfare The empirical evidence of social divisions in the last part of the 20th century is examined along with the idea of an underclass      British Social Welfare in the Twentieth Century Robert Page,Richard Silburn,1999-03-31 This major thematic and historical overview provides a clear guide to key welfare practices and developments in the public private voluntary and informal welfare sectors in twentieth century Britain outlining the dominant ideas about welfare in the period in question As such it offers an effective bridge between historical and contemporary concerns drawing out some of the more rarely articulated premises of courses in the history of social policy and illuminating the social political and economic dimensions of its subject      Postmodernity and the Fragmentation of Welfare John Carter,2012-10-12 Postmodern ideas have been vastly influential in the social sciences and beyond However their impact on the study of social policy has been minimal Postmodernity and the Fragmentation of Welfare analyses the potential for a postmodern or cultural turn in welfare as it treats postmodernity as an evolving canon from the seminal works of Baudrillard Foucault and Lyotard through to recent theories of the risk society Already disorientated by globalisation new technologies and the years of new right ascendancy welfare faces a significant challenge in the postmodern It suggests that rather than universality and state provision the new social policy will be consumerised and fragmented a welfare state of ambivalence With contributions from authors coming from a variety of fields offering very different perspectives on postmodernity and welfare Postmodernity and the Fragmentation of Welfare also keeps social policy's intellectual inheritance in view By exploring ways in which theorisations of postmodernity might improve understanding of welfare issues in the 1990s and assessing the relevance of theories of diversity and difference to mainstream and critical social policy traditions this book will be an essential text for all students of social policy social administration social work and sociology      Underclass John Welshman,2007-03-10 This book is the first to look systematically at the question of underclass and poverty bringing new insights on the contemporary debate about behaviour and welfare reform      State Schooling and the Reproduction of Social Inequalities Sharon Jones,2022-12-30 This book critically explores the role of state schooling in the reproduction of social class inequalities in the UK By uniquely combining critical ethnographic methods with participatory and visual research it foregrounds the experiences and recollections of working class adults in relation to their past schooling Drawing upon her own lived experiences Jones theorises the experiences of her participants using an analysis of Marxist Bourdieusian and Freirean frameworks to uncover relations of power and illustrate how schooling has reduced individual agency and sustained lived inequalities By creating space for a Visual Intervention within Critical Ethnography VICE alongside her analysis of class and society Jones successfully illuminates that working class struggles are not permanent and that agency can be activated The book also addresses an important need by centring research from the lived educational experiences of the working class and in particular working class adults Making a unique theoretical and methodological contribution using an innovative combined methodology approach the text ultimately highlights the potential of empowering disadvantaged individuals by raising critical consciousness Though it is focused on the experiences of adults this book has important understandings for all sectors of education and will be of interest to academics researchers and students interested in the sociology of education research methods in education social inequality social class and education politics
