Islamic NGOs in Bangladesh Mohammad Musfequs Salehin, 2016-01-13 NGOs (Non Governmental Organizations) have emerged in both a development and aid capacity in Bangladesh providing wide reaching public services to the country's population living in extreme poverty. However resistance to and limitations of NGO led development which in conjunction with Bangladesh's social transformation led to a new religious based NGO development practice. Looking at the role of Islamic NGOs in Bangladesh the book investigates new forms of neoliberal governmentality supported by international donors. It discusses how this form of social regulation produces and reproduces subjectivities particularly Muslim women subjectivity and has combined religious and economic rationality further complicating the boundaries and the relationship between Islam, modernity and development. The book argues that both secular and Islamic NGOs target women in the name of empowerment but more importantly as the most reliable partners to meet their debt obligations of micro financing schemes including shari'a based financing. The targeted women in turn experience Islamic NGOs as less coercive and more sensitive to their religious environment in the rural village community than are secular NGOs. Providing a comparative study of the role of religious and secular NGOs in the implementation of neoliberal policies and development strategies this book will be a significant addition to research on South Asian Politics, Development Studies, Gender Studies and Religion.

Pamphlets Foreign Policy Association, 1929 Brick and Clay Record, 1912 Homes Fit For Heroes Mark Swenarton, 2018-11-09 Homes fit for Heroes looks at the pledge made 100 years ago by the Lloyd George government to build half a million homes fit for heroes the pledge which made council housing a major part of the housing system in the UK. Originally published in 1981 the book is the only full scale study of the provision and design of state housing in the period following the 1918 Armistice and remains the standard work on the subject. It looks at the municipal garden suburbs of the 1920s which were completely different from traditional working class housing inside and out. Instead of being packed onto the ground in long terraces the houses were set in spacious gardens surrounded by trees and open spaces and often they contained luxuries like upstairs bathrooms unheard of in the working class houses of the past. The book shows that in the turbulent period following the First World War the British government launched the housing campaign as a way of persuading the troops and the people that their aspirations would be met under the existing system without any need for revolution. The design of the houses based on the famous Tudor Walters Report of 1918 was a central element in this strategy the large and comfortable houses provided by the state were intended as visible
