Making Architecture Alison King, Eddie Jones, 2019-11      Making Architecture Through Being Human Philip D. Plowright, 2019-11-26 Architecture can seem complicated mysterious or even ill defined especially to a student being introduced to architectural ideas for the first time One way to approach architecture is simply as the design of human environments When we consider architecture in this way there is a good place to start ourselves Our engagement in our environment has shaped the way we think which we in turn use to then shape that environment It is from this foundation that we produce meaning make sense of our surroundings structure relationships and even frame more complex and abstract ideas This is the start of architectural design Making Architecture Through Being Human is a reference book that presents 51 concepts notions ideas and actions that are fundamental to human thinking and how we interpret the environment around us The book focuses on the application of these ideas by architectural designers to produce meaningful spaces that make sense to people Each idea is isolated for clarity in the manner of a dictionary with short and concise definitions examples and illustrations They are organized in five sections of increasing complexity or changing focus While many of the entries might be familiar to the reader they are presented here as instances of a larger system of human thinking rather than simply graphic or formal principles The cognitive approach to these design ideas allows a designer to understand the greater context and application when aligned with their own purpose or intentions      The Making of Mexican Modernist Architecture Celia Esther Arredondo Zambrano, 2023-05-03 This book presents the making of Mexican Modernist architecture through five power structures academic social status economic political gender and postcolonial and by interviews and analysis of 13 key Mexican architects These include Luis Barrag n Jos Villagr n Garc a Juan O Gorman Pedro Ram rez V zquez Agust n Hern ndez Abraham Zabludovsky Carlos Mijares Ricardo Legorreta Juan Jos D az Infante Enrique Norton Alberto Kalach Javier Sordo Madaleno and Clara de Buen Although the five power structures framed what was built the testimony of these Mexican architects helps us to recognize and discover subtleties and nuances Their views thereby shed light on what contributed to making Mexican Modernist architecture so distinctive globally Even if these architects were not always aware of the power structures their projects nonetheless supported discrimination marginalization and subjugation In that sense the book also reveals the extent to which these power structures are still present today The Making of Mexican Modernist Architecture s uniqueness lies in uncovering the remarkable buildings that arose amid the five power structures while at the same time questioning their validity It also voices the urgent need today for a new kind of architecture outside these boundaries The book is essential reading for anyone studying Mexican and Latin American architecture

Making Dystopia James Stevens Curl,2018-08-23 In Making Dystopia distinguished architectural historian James Stevens Curl tells the story of the advent of architectural Modernism in the aftermath of the First World War its protagonists and its astonishing almost global acceptance after 1945 He argues forcefully that the triumph of architectural Modernism in the second half of the twentieth century led to massive destruction the creation of alien urban landscapes and a huge waste of resources Moreover the coming of Modernism was not an inevitable seamless evolution as many have insisted but a massive unparalleled disruption that demanded a clean slate and the elimination of all ornament decoration and choice Tracing the effects of the Modernist revolution in architecture to the present Stevens Curl argues that with each passing year so called iconic architecture by supposed star architects has become more and more bizarre unsettling and expensive ignoring established contexts and proving to be stratospherically remote from the aspirations and needs of humanity In the elite world of contemporary architecture form increasingly follows finance and in a society in which the haves have more and more and the have nots are ever more marginalized he warns that contemporary architecture continues to stack up huge potential problems for the future as housing costs spiral out of control resources are squandered on architectural bling and society fractures This courageous passionate deeply researched and profoundly argued book should be read by everyone concerned with what is around us Its combative critique of the entire Modernist architectural project and its apologists will be highly controversial to many But it contains salutary warnings that we ignore at our peril And it asks awkward questions to which answers are long overdue

Think Like an Architect Hal Box, 2010-01-01 An award winning architect and educator demystifies the process of making architecture and explains why good architectural design matters The design of cities and buildings affects the quality of our lives Making the built environments in which we live work and play useful safe comfortable efficient and as beautiful as possible is a universal quest What many don't realize is that professional architects design only about five percent of the built environment While much of what non architects build is beautiful and useful the ugliness and inconveniences that blight many urban areas demonstrate that an understanding of good architectural design is vital for creating livable buildings and public spaces To help promote this understanding among non architects and those considering architecture as a profession award winning architect and professor Hal Box explains the process from concept to completed building using real life examples to illustrate the principles involved To cause what we build to become architecture we have three choices hire an architect become an architect or learn to think like an architect In this book organized as a series of letters to students and friends Box covers what architecture should be and do how to look at and appreciate good buildings how to understand the design process work with an architect or become an architect an overview of architectural history with lists of books to read and buildings to see practical guidance about what goes into constructing a building an architect's typical training and career path how architecture relates to the city where the art of architecture is headed why good architecture matters

The Crisis of the African-American Architect Melvin L. Mitchell, 2003 another missing piece of our rich history and profound contribution to western civilization For history buffs please put this book on your must read list George C Fraser Author of Race For Success and Success Runs In Our Race Mitchell believes that the entire future of blacks in the field of architecture is in jeopardy He then discusses the impact of the Harlem Renaissance on black architecture and the subsequent emergence of Howard University as the center of the black architectural universe The Journal of Blacks in Higher Education seminal Architecture Magazine In this long overdue book aimed at Black America and her allies Melvin Mitchell poses the question why haven't black architects developed a Black Architecture that complements modernist black culture that is rooted in world class blues jazz hip hop music and other black aesthetic forms His provocative thesis inspired by Harold Cruse's landmark book The Crisis of the Negro Intellectual exposes the roots of an eighty year old estrangement between black architects and Black America Along the way he provides interesting details about the politics of downtown development in the Marion Barry era of Washington DC Mitchell calls for a bold and inclusive New Black Urbanism He sees the radical reform and re missioning of the handful of accredited HBCU based architecture schools as a critical tool in refashioning a rapprochement between black architects and Black America
