Making Contact Maps Identity And Travel:

Making Contact Glenn Burger, 2003-02-26 When civilizations first encounter each other a cascade of change is triggered that both challenges and reinforces the identities of all parties Making Contact revisits key encounters between cultures in the medieval and early modern world Contributors cross disciplinary boundaries to explore the implications of contact Scott D Westrem examines the imagined Africa depicted in the Bell Mappamundi Day to day accommodations between the religious identities of Vilnius in the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth are explored by David Frick Steven F Kruger argues that medieval Christian identity was destabilized by the living Talmudic tradition Individual Jesuits who were critical to the success of contact in Japan are evaluated by Nakai Ayako Linda Woodbridge argues that Elizabethan attitudes towards aboriginals paralleled their attitudes towards English vagrants Despite a nod to Arcadian conventions travel narratives of Virginia were preoccupied with finding wealth according to Paul W DePasquale s research Rick H Lee examines the conflicting loyalties of Pierre Raddisson in the New World Richard A Young demonstrates that the Florida shipwreck narratives of Cabeza de Vaca were groomed for intended audiences past and present This rich interdisciplinary collaboration contributes to the debate on boundaries between disciplines as well as boundaries between the Middle Ages and the early modern period and also between historical and theoretical perspectives Making Contact draws our attention to the important ways in which historic encounters with contrasting others have shaped the identities of both individual and corporate selves over a span of five centuries

Natives and Settlers provides a beginning to what should be and should have been a continuing respectful discussion Blanca Schorcht Associate Professor University of Northern British Columbia Is Canada truly postcolonial Burdened by a past that remains refracted in its understanding and treatment of Indigenous peoples this collection reinterprets treaty making and land claims from Indigenous perspectives These five essays not only provide fresh insights to the interpretations of treaties and treaty making processes but also examine land claims still under negotiation Natives and Settlers reclaims the vitality of Indigenous laws and paradigms in Canada a country new to decolonization Foreword by Jonathan Hart Postcolonial Approaches to the European Middle Ages Ananya Jahanara Kabir, Deanne Williams, 2005-03-10 This collection of original essays is dedicated to exploring the intersections between medieval and postcolonial studies Ranging across a variety of academic disciplines from art history to cartography and from Anglo Saxon to Hispanic studies this volume highlights the connections between medieval and postcolonial studies through the exploration of a theme common to both areas of study translation as a mechanism of and metaphor for cultures in contact confrontation and competition Drawing upon the widespread medieval trope of the translation of empire and culture this collection engages the concept of translation from its most narrow lexicographic sense to the broader applications of its literal meaning to carry across It carries the multilingual multicultural realities of medieval studies to postcolonial analyses of the coercive and subversive powers of cultural translation offering a set of case studies of translation as the transfer of language culture and power Brutal Journey Paul Schneider, 2024-09-04 A wonderfully rich account of an incredible cross country journey of survival beautifully crafted Best of all it really happened Jerald T Milanich PhD author of Florida Indians from Ancient Times to the Present One part Heart of Darkness one part Lewis and Clark Brutal Journey tells the story of a group of explorers who came to the new world on the heels of Cort s bound for glory only four of four hundred would survive Eight years and some five thousand miles later three Spaniards and a black Moroccan wandered out of the wilderness to the north of the Rio Grande and into Cortes gold drenched Mexico The four survivors of the Narv ez expedition brought nothing back from their sojourn other than their story but what a tale it was They had become killers and cannibals torturers and torture victims slavers and enslaved They became faith healers arms dealers canoe thieves spider eaters and finally when there were only the four of them left in the high Texas desert they became itinerate messiahs They became in other words whatever it took to stay alive long enough to inch their way toward Mexico the only place where they were certain they would find an outpost of the Spanish empire The journey of the Cabeza De Vaca expedition is one of the greatest survival epics in the history of American exploration By drawing on the accounts of the first explorers and the most recent findings of archaeologists and academic historians Paul Schneider offers a thrilling and authentic narrative to replace a legend of North American exploration A you are there enterprise in the Steven Ambrose vein full of surprising turns and not a few ironies Kirkus Reviews Household knowledges in late-medieval England and France Glenn D. Burger,Rory G. Critten,2019-10-17 This collection investigates how the late medieval household acted as a sorter user and disseminator of different kinds of ready information from the traditional and authoritative to the innovative and newly made Building on work on the noble and bourgeois medieval household it considers bourgeois gentry and collegiate households on both sides of the English Channel The book argues that there is a dynamic and reciprocal relationship between domestic experience and its forms of cultural expression Contributors address a range of cultural productions including conduct texts romances and comic writing estates management literature medical writing household music and drama and manuscript anthologies Their studies provide a fresh illustration of the late medieval household s imaginative scope its extensive internal and external connections and its fundamental centrality to late medieval cultural production Shatterzone of Empires Larry Wolfe,Gregor Thum,Dan Diner,Theodore R. Weeks,Gary B.

Cohen,Pieter M. Judson,Frithjof Benjamin Schenk,Elke Hartmann,Patrice M. Dabrowski,Robert Nemes,Yaroslav Hrytsak,Tomas Balkelis,Taner Akçam,Eyal Ginio,Keith Brown,David Gaunt,Peter Holquist,Alexander V. Prusin,John-Paul Himka,Pamela Ballinger,Myroslav Shkandrij,Paul Robert Magocsi,Kai Struve,Philipp Ther,2013-02-15 Anyone who studies nationalism genocide mass violence or war in these regions from the Enlightenment through the mid 20th century needs to read this Central European History Shatterzone of Empires is a comprehensive analysis of interethnic relations coexistence and violence in Europe s eastern borderlands over the past two centuries In this vast territory extending from the Baltic to the Black Sea four major empires with ethnically and religiously diverse populations encountered each other along often changing and contested borders Examining this geographically widespread multicultural region at several levels local national transnational and empire and through multiple approaches social cultural political and economic this volume offers informed and dispassionate analyses of how the many populations of these borderlands managed to coexist in a previous era and how and why the areas eventually descended into violence An understanding of this specific region will help readers grasp the preconditions of interethnic coexistence and the causes of ethnic violence and war in many of the world s other borderlands both past and present Mathematical Practitioners and the Transformation of Natural Knowledge in Early

Modern Europe Lesley B. Cormack,Steven A. Walton,John A. Schuster,2017-03-15 This book argues that we can only understand transformations of nature studies in the Scientific Revolution if we take seriously the interaction between practitioners those who know by doing and scholars those who know by thinking These are not in opposition however Theory and practice are end points on a continuum with some participants interested only in the practical others only in the theoretical and most in the murky intellectual and material world in between It is this borderland where influence appropriation and collaboration have the potential to lead to new methods new subjects of enquiry and new social structures of natural philosophy and science The case for connection between theory and practice can be most persuasively drawn in the area of mathematics which is the focus of this book Practical mathematics was a growing field in early modern Europe and these essays are organised into three parts which contribute to the debate about the role of mathematical practice in the Scientific Revolution First they demonstrate the variability of the identity of practical mathematicians and of the practices involved in their activities in early modern Europe Second readers are invited to consider what practical mathematics looked like and that although practical mathematical knowledge was transmitted and circulated in a wide variety of ways participants were able to recognize them all as practical mathematics Third the authors show how differences and nuances in practical mathematics typically depended on the different contexts in which it was practiced social cultural political and economic particularities matter Historians of science especially those interested in the Scientific Revolution period and the history of mathematics will find this book and its ground breaking approach of particular interest

Contested and Shared Places of Memory Jorg Hackmann, Marko Lehti, 2013-09-13 The Baltic Russian debates on the past have become a hot spot of European memory politics Violent protests and international tensions accompanying the removal of the Bronze Soldier monument which commemorated the Soviet liberation of Tallinn in 1944 from the city centre in April 2007 have demonstrated the political impact that contested sites of memory may still reveal In this publication collective memories that are related to major traits of the 20th century in North Eastern Europe the Holocaust Nazi and Soviet occupation and re emerging nationalisms are examined through a prism of different approaches They comprise reflections on national templates of collective memory the political use of history cultural and political aspects of war memorials and recent discourses on the Holocaust Furthermore places of memory in architecture and urbanism are addressed and lead to the question of which prospects common trans national forms of memory may unfold After decades of frozen forms of commemoration under Soviet hegemony the Baltic case offers an interesting insight into collective memory and history politics and their linkage to current political and inter ethnic relationships The past seems to be remembered differently in the European peripheries than it is in its centre Europe is diverse and so are its memories This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Baltic Studies

Politics and Reformations Christopher Ocker, 2007 These twenty six essays examine urban rural national and imperial histories in Early Modern Europe and abroad and politics in Reformation Switzerland Burgundy Germany and the Netherlands Instrument of Memory Lisa Lampert-Weissig, 2024-01-18 How can immortality be a curse According to the Wandering Jew legend as Jesus made his way to Calvary a man refused him rest cruelly taunting him to hurry to meet his fate In response Jesus cursed the man to wander until the Second Coming Since the medieval period the legend has inspired hundreds of adaptations by artists and writers Instrument of Memory Encounters with the Wandering Jew the first English language study of the legend in over fifty years is also the first to examine the influence of the legend's medieval and early modern sources over the centuries into the present day Using the lens of memory studies the work shows how the Christian tradition of the legend centered the memory of the Passion at the heart of the Wandering Jew's curse Instrument of Memory also shows how Jewish artists and writers have reimagined the legend through Jewish memory traditions Through this focus on memory Jewish adapters of the legend create complex renderings of the Wandering Jew that recognize not only the entanglement of Jewish and Christian memory but also the impact of that entanglement on Jewish subjects This book presents a complex sympathetic and more fully realized version of the legend while challenging the limits of the presentism of memory studies

Vilnius between Nations, 1795-2000 Theodore R. Weeks, 2015-12-04 The inhabitants of Vilnius the present day capital of Lithuania have spoken various languages and professed different religions while living together in relative harmony over the years The city has played a significant role in the history and development of at least three separate cultures Polish Lithuanian and Jewish and until very recently no single cultural linguistic group composed the clear majority of its population Vilnius between Nations 1795 2000 is the first study to undertake a balanced assessment of this particularly diverse city Theodore Weeks examines Vilnius as a physical entity where people lived worked and died as the object of rhetorical struggles between disparate cultures and as a space where the state attempted to legitimize a specific version of cultural politics through street names monuments and urban planning In investigating these aspects Weeks avoids promoting any one national narrative of the history of the city while acknowledging the importance of national cultures and their opposing myths of the city's identity The story of Vilnius as a multicultural city and the negotiations that allowed several national groups to inhabit a single urban space can provide lessons that are easily applied to other diverse cities This study will appeal to scholars of Eastern Europe urban studies and multiculturalism as well as general readers interested in the region
