contemporary music from the point of view of the inquisitive music loving amateur rather than the professional critic or musicologist Readers can eavesdrop on conversations in which composers are asked a number of questions about their professional lives and practices with the emphasis on the aesthetic sensibilities and psychological processes behind composing rather than technique Throughout the book seeks to explore why composers write the kind of music they write and what they want their music to do Along the way readers are confronted with an unspoken but equally important question if some composers are writing music that the public doesn't want to engage with who's to blame for that Are composers out of touch with their public or are we too lazy to give their music the attention it deserves
