New Directions for Parents of Persons who are Retarded Robert Perske, 1978 Programs for the Handicapped, 1982
A Guide and Handbook for Parents of Mentally Retarded Children Olga F. Pader, 1981 DHEW Publication, 1976
A Reader's Guide for Parents of Children with Mental, Physical, Or Emotional Disabilities Cory Moore, Kathryn Gorham Morton, Joni B. Mills, 1977 Out of the Darkness and Into the Light Robert L. Schalock, David L. Braddock, 2002

The Nebraska model for dealing with the condition of mental retardation has been emulated worldwide. This book contains an inspiring collection of articles on how the change occurred and is written by those who made the change happen. The Social and Rehabilitation Record, 1974 Parents as Educators Keith J. Topping, 2025-08-05

Modern practice in the 1980s was to involve parents increasingly in the education of their children and was supported by legislation. Particularly when children had special needs, parents required structured training and support to ensure they affectively sustained their vital role as educators at home. Many large scale programmes to provide this had been developed throughout the world at the time for example Home Start, Portage, Home Visiting Projects and Paired Reading Projects. However not all of these had been thoroughly evaluated and the existing literature was scattered and difficult to access. Some projects demonstrated spectacular results and high cost effectiveness while others proved more disappointing. Originally published in 1986, this book critically analyses over 600 international English language research reports on the effectiveness of parent training programmes. In addition, a detailed guide to the practicalities of planning projects is provided together with a comprehensive directory of useful resource materials. After an introductory overview, the evidence on the effects on child progress of parental involvement in school activities is reviewed, as is research on the impact of schemes of regular structured communication between home and school. Programmes designed to train parents to accelerate the development of their children at home are considered in the subsequent chapters, starting with ordinary children. Much of the book reviews projects targeted on children with some sort of special educational need, from children whose special needs stem from a widespread difficulty such as poverty or second language learning, systematically through to children whose needs stem from rarer and more severe issues. Each chapter has its own summary for ease of reader use, while an overall summary chapter points out best buys and directions for future developments. This volume will be of major interest to teachers, psychologists, social workers, community health personnel, community educationalists, researchers, many others working with parents and children, and to some parents themselves. This book is a re-issue originally published in 1986. The language used is a reflection of its era and no offence is meant by the Publishers to any reader by this re-publication. Mutual Help Groups Phyllis R. Silverman, 1978 PCMR Message United States. President's Committee on Mental Retardation, 1974 New Directions in Health, Education, and Welfare United States. Social Role Valorization Robert John Flynn, Raymond A. Lemay, 1999 During the late 1960s Normalization and Social Role Valorization SRV enabled the widespread emergence of community residential options and then provided the philosophical climate within which educational integration supported employment and community participation were able to take firm root This book is unique in tracing the evolution and impact of Normalization and SRV over the last quarter century with many of the chapter authors personally involved in a still evolving international movement Published in English Differential Diagnosis and Treatment in Social Work Francis Joseph Turner, 1983 Life-Span Development and Behavior David L. Featherman, Richard M. Lerner, 2019-05-24 The final volume in this significant series this publication mirrors the broad scientific attention given to ideas and issues associated with the life span perspective constancy and change in human development opportunities for and constraints on plasticity in structure and function across life the potential for intervention across the entire life course and thus for the creation of an applied developmental science individual differences diversity in life paths in contexts or the ecology of human development and in changing relations between people and contexts interconnections and discontinuities across age levels and developmental periods and the importance of integrating biological psychological social cultural and historical levels of organization in order to understand human development
