Multilevel Regulation of Military and Security Contractors Christine Bakker, Mirko Sossai, 2012-02-10 The outsourcing of military and security services is the object of intense legal debate States employ private military and security companies PMSCs to perform functions previously exercised by regular armed forces and increasingly international organisations NGOs and business corporations do the same to provide security particularly in crisis situations Much of the public attention on PMSCs has been in response to incidents in which PMSC employees have been accused of violating international humanitarian law Therefore initiatives have been launched to introduce uniform international standards amidst what is currently very uneven national regulation This book analyses and discusses the interplay between international European and domestic regulatory measures in the field of PMSCs It presents a comprehensive assessment of the existing domestic legislation in EU Member States and relevant Third States and identifies implications for future international regulation The book also addresses the crucial questions whether and how the EU can potentially play a more active future role in the regulation of PMSCs to ensure compliance with human rights and international humanitarian law The Kant's Search for the Supreme Principle of Morality Samuel J. Kerstein, 2002-05-02 At the core of Kant's ethics lies the claim that if there is a supreme principle of morality then it cannot be a principle based on utilitarianism or Aristotelian perfectionism or the Ten Commandments The only viable candidate for such a principle is the categorical imperative This book is the most detailed investigation of this claim It constructs a new criterial reading of Kant's derivation of one version of the categorical imperative the Formula of Universal Law This reading shows this derivation to be far more compelling than contemporary philosophers tend to believe It also reveals a novel approach to deriving another version of the categorical imperative the Formula of Humanity a principle widely considered to be the most attractive Kantian candidate for the supreme principle of morality This book will be important not just for Kant scholars but for a broad swathe of students of philosophy

Making Morality Work Holly M. Smith, 2018-04-13 Most of us hope to do what morality requires of us But what if we can't figure out what it does require A soldier may know that morality requires him not to kill an innocent civilian but he can't tell whether the driver of a suspicious car is an innocent civilian or a terrorist about to detonate a bomb Holly M Smith addresses this problem in Making Morality Work by asking whether we should reject moral codes that can't be used by anyone hampered by inadequate information When considering questions of morality we call on moral theories to play both a theoretical and a practical role These theories provide accounts of what makes actions right or wrong and also provide a standard by which agents can guide their own conduct It is usually assumed that a single theory can serve both roles but limited knowledge often prevents people from using traditional normative theories to make decisions Smith examines three major strategies for addressing this epistemic problem in morality before developing an innovative solution that overcomes the weaknesses of prior approaches Making Morality Work opens a path towards resolving a deep problem in moral life

Ethics of Belief: Essays in Tribute to D.Z. Phillips Eugene Thomas Long, Patrick Horn, 2008-02-28 Eugene Thomas Long Originally published in the International Journal for Philosophy of Religion Volume 63 Nos 1-3 DOI 10.1007/s11153-007-9155-4 Springer Science Business Media B.V. 2007 This volume is presented as a tribute to the life and work of D.Z. Phillips Six of the articles were originally presented at the annual conference on the philosophy of religion organized by Phillips and held at Claremont Graduate University February 9-10 2007 Unfortunately Phillips did not live to participate in the conference itself He died unexpectedly July 25 2006 in the library of his beloved University of Wales Swansea Previously published volumes of essays based on conferences organized by Phillips in Claremont included a chapter entitled Voices in Discussion in which Phillips provided his own reactions to the discussions written almost immediately after the conference Sadly this volume appears without the addition of his voice Born in Morriston near Swansea Phillips was a Welsh speaker a strong supporter of Welsh speaking schools and the author of many works in philosophy and literature in Welsh and English Known widely as the leading representative of the movement in the philosophy of religion called Wittgensteinianism Phillips spent much of his effort challenging the tendency of philosophers to elevate one kind of discourse to the point where it becomes the norm by which other forms of discourse are to be judged Method in the Physical Sciences G Schlesinger, 2014-04-04 Originally published in 1963 Can one discern certain regularities in the manoeuvrings and techniques employed by scientists and can these be formulated into the methodological principles of science What is the origin and basis of such principles Are they imposed by objective realities do they derive from conceptual necessities or are they rooted in our own deep seated predilections This volume investigates these questions and sheds light on the growth mechanism of the evolving structure of science itself
