Bennion,2015-07-09 Excerpt from Principles of Teaching That ever old question How to Teach becomes ever new when made to read How to Teach Better This volume aims to raise those problems which every teacher sooner or later faces and it attempts to suggest an approach by way of solution which will insure at least some degree of growth towards efficiency These chapters originally were prepared for the course offered to teacher trainers in the Summer School of the Brigham Young University in 1920 The teachers in that course were an inspiration to the author and are responsible for many of the thoughts expressed in the pages of this book The successful teacher ever views his calling as an opportunity not as an obligation To associate with young people is a rare privilege to teach them is an inspiration to lead them into the glorious truths of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is heavenly joy itself This little volume hopes to push open the door of opportunity a little wider that more of that joy may be realized Perchance in heaven one day to me Some blessed Saint will come and say All hail beloved but for thee My soul to death had fallen a prey And oh what rapture in the thought One soul to glory to have brought Adam S Bennion About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Principles of Teaching Based on Psychology Edward Lee Thorndike,1922
