Prismatic Metropolis Inequality In Los Angeles The Multi City Study Of Urban Inequality:

Prismatic Metropolis Lawrence D. Bobo, Melvin L. Oliver, Jr. James H. Johnson, Abel, Jr. Valenzuela, 2000-11-02 This book cuts through the powerful mythology surrounding Los Angeles to reveal the causes of inequality in a city that has weathered rapid population change economic restructuring and fractious ethnic relations The sources of disadvantage and the means of getting ahead differ greatly among the city's myriad ethnic groups The demand for unskilled labor is stronger here than in other cities allowing Los Angeles's large population of immigrant workers with little education to find work in light manufacturing and low paid service jobs A less beneficial result of this trend is the increased marginalization of the city's low skilled black workers who do not enjoy the extended ethnic networks of many of the new immigrant groups and who must contend with persistent negative racial stereotypes Patterns of residential segregation are also more diffuse in Los Angeles with many once black neighborhoods now split evenly between blacks Hispanics Asians and other minorities Inequality in Los Angeles cannot be reduced to a simple black white divide Nonetheless in this thoroughly multicultural city race remains a crucial factor shaping economic fortunes A Volume in the Multi City Study of Urban Inequality Prismatic Metropolis Abel, Jr. Valenzuela, 2002-09-05 This book cuts through the powerful mythology surrounding Los Angeles to reveal the causes of inequality in a city that has weathered rapid population change economic restructuring and fractious ethnic relations The sources of disadvantage and the means of getting ahead differ greatly among the city's myriad ethnic groups The demand for unskilled labor is stronger here than in other cities allowing Los Angeles's large population of immigrant workers with little education to find work in light manufacturing and low paid service jobs A less beneficial result of this trend is the increased marginalization of the city's low skilled black workers who do not enjoy the extended ethnic networks of many of the new immigrant groups and who must contend with persistent negative racial stereotypes Patterns of residential segregation are also more diffuse in Los Angeles with many once black neighborhoods now split evenly between blacks Hispanics Asians and other minorities Inequality in Los Angeles cannot be reduced to a simple black white divide Nonetheless in this thoroughly multicultural city race remains a crucial factor shaping economic fortunes A Volume in the Multi City Study of Urban Inequality Urban Inequality Alice O'Connor, Chris Tilly, Lawrence Bobo, 2001-03-08 Despite today's booming economy secure work and upward mobility remain out of reach for many central city residents Urban Inequality presents an authoritative new look at the racial and economic divisions that continue to beset our nation's cities Drawing upon a landmark survey of employers and households in four U S metropolises Atlanta Boston Detroit and Los Angeles the study links both sides of the labor market inquiring into the job requirements and hiring procedures of employers as well as the skills housing situation and job search strategies of workers Using this wealth of evidence the authors discuss the merits of rival explanations of urban inequality Do racial minorities lack the skills and education demanded by employers in today's global economy Have the jobs best matched to the skills of inner city workers moved to outlying suburbs Or is inequality the result of racial discrimination in hiring pay and housing Each of these explanations may provide part of the story and the authors shed new light on the links between labor market disadvantage residential segregation and exclusionary racial attitudes In each of the four cities old industries have declined and new commercial centers have sprung up outside the traditional city limits while new immigrant groups have entered all levels of the labor market Despite these transformations longstanding hostilities and lines of segregation between racial and ethnic communities are still apparent in each city This book reveals how the disadvantaged position of many minority workers is compounded by racial antipathies and stereotypes that count against them in their search for housing and jobs Until now there has been little agreement on the sources of urban disadvantage and no convincing way of adjudicating between rival theories Urban Inequality aims to advance our understanding of the causes of urban inequality as a first step toward ensuring that the nation's cities can prosper in the future without leaving their minority residents further behind A Volume in the Multi City Study of Urban Inequality

Won't You be My Neighbor Camille Zubrinsky Charles, 2006-10-19 Los Angeles is a city of delicate racial and ethnic balance As evidenced by the 1965 Watts violence the 1992 Rodney King riots and this year's award winning film Crash the city's myriad racial groups coexist uneasily together often on the brink of confrontation In fact Los Angeles is highly segregated with racial and ethnic groups clustered in homogeneous neighborhoods These residential groupings have profound effects on the economic well being and quality of life of residents dictating which jobs they can access which social networks they can tap in to and which schools they attend In Won't You Be My Neighbor sociologist Camille Zubrinsky Charles explores how modern racial attitudes shape and are shaped by the places in which people live Using in depth survey data and information from focus groups with members of L A's largest racial and ethnic groups Won't You Be My Neighbor explores why Los Angeles remains a segregated city Charles finds that people of all backgrounds prefer both racial integration and a critical mass of same race neighbors When asked to reveal their preferred level of racial integration people of all races show a clear and consistent order of preference with whites considered the most highly desired neighbors and blacks the least desirable This is even true among recent immigrants who have little experience with American race relations Charles finds that these preferences which are driven primarily by racial prejudice and minority group fears of white hostility taken together with financial considerations strongly affect people's decisions about where they live Still Charles offers reasons for optimism over time and with increased exposure to other racial and ethnic groups people show an increased willingness to live with neighbors of other races In a racially and ethnically diverse city segregated neighborhoods can foster distrust reinforce stereotypes and agitate inter group tensions Won't You Be My Neighbor zeroes in on segregated neighborhoods to provide a compelling examination of the way contemporary racial attitudes shape and are shaped by the places where we live

South Central Dreams Pierrette Hondagneu-Sotelo, Manuel Pastor, 2021-07-13 Winner of the 2022 Latino a Section Best Book Award given by the American Sociological Association Honorable Mention for the Robert E Park

Award given by the Community and Urban Sociology Section of the American Sociological Association Finalist for the 2021 C Wright Mills Award given by the Society for the Study of Social Problems

Race and identity in a changing urban America Over the last five decades South Los Angeles has undergone a remarkable demographic transition In South Central Dreams eminent scholars Pierrette Hondagneu Sotelo and Manuel Pastor follow its transformation from a historically Black neighborhood into a predominantly Latino one providing a fresh inside look at the fascinating and constantly changing relationships between these two racial and ethnic groups in California Drawing on almost two hundred interviews and statistical data Hondagneu Sotelo and Pastor explore the experiences of first and second generation Latino residents their long time Black neighbors and local civic leaders seeking to build coalitions Acknowledging early tensions between Black and Brown communities they show how Latino immigrants settled into a new country and a new neighborhood finding various ways to co exist cooperate and most recently demonstrate Black Brown solidarity at a time when both racial and ethnic communities have come under threat Hondagneu Sotelo and Pastor show how Latino and Black residents have practiced and adapted innovative strategies of belonging in a historically Black context ultimately crafting a new route to place based identity and political representation South Central Dreams illuminates how racial and ethnic demographic shifts as well as the search for identity and belonging are dramatically shaping American cities and neighborhoods around the country

Race, Class, and the Postindustrial City Frank Harold Wilson, 2004-05-26 An overview and critical appraisal of the work of influential sociologist and public intellectual William Julius Wilson Racism without Racists Eduardo Bonilla-Silva, 2006-08-03 The first edition of this best selling book showed that alongside the subtle forms of discrimination typical of the post Civil Rights era new powerful ideology of color blind racism has emerged Bonilla Silva documented how beneath the rhetorical maze of contemporary racial discourse lies a full blown arsenal of arguments phrases and stories that whites use to account for and ultimately justify racial inequities In the new edition Bonilla Silva has added a chapter dealing with the future of racial stratification in America that goes beyond the white black dichotomy He argues that the U S is developing a more complex and apparently plural racial order that will mimic Latin American patterns of racial stratification Another new chapter addresses a variety of questions from readers of the first edition And he has updated the book throughout with new information data and references where appropriate The book ends with a new Postscript What is to be Done For Real As in the highly acclaimed first edition Bonilla Silva continues to challenge color blind thinking Urban Confrontations in Literature and Social Science, 1848-2001 Edward J. Ahearn, 2016-02-11 In an innovative contribution to the challenging of disciplinary boundaries Edward J Ahearn juxtaposes works of literature with the writings of social scientists to discover how together they illuminate city life in ways that neither can accomplish separately Ahearn s argument spans from the second half of the nineteenth century in Western Europe to the present day United States and encompasses a wide range of literary genres and sociological schools For example Charles Baudelaire s essays on the city are viewed alongside the work of Emile Durkheim and Georg Simmel Bertolt Brecht's Jungle of Cities heightens the arguments of Louis Wirth and Robert Park Richard Wright's Native Son and Saul Bellow's The Adventures of Augie March are re-visioned in tandem with works by William Julius Wilson and others Herman Melville's Bartleby the Scrivener poses a challenge to James Q Wilson's Bureaucracy Toni Morrison's historical novel Jazz is buttressed by the career of Robert Moses and the revisionist work of historians Hilary Ballon and Kenneth T Jackson and Don DeLillo's Cosmopolis comes into brilliant focus in the light of arguments on world cybercities by David Harvey Saskia Sassen and Manuel Castells Resisting the temptation to ignore contradictions for the sake of interpretation Ahearn instead offers the reader a view of the modern city as complex as his subject matter Here the methodologies and knowledge generated by the social sciences are both complemented and subverted by the experience of city life as portrayed in literature With its diverse narrative tactics and shifting points of view which can be as disorienting to the reader as a foreign city is to an arriving immigrant literature reinforces the importance of method and outlook in the social sciences Ultimately Ahearn suggests neither literature nor the social sciences can capture the experience of urban misery

White Identity Politics Ashley Jardina, 2019-02-28 Amidst discontent over diversity racial identity is a lens through which many US white Americans now view the political world The Handbook of Community Practice Marie Weil, Michael Reisch, 2005 Encompassing community development organizing planning and social change as well as globalisation this book is grounded in participatory and empowerment practice The 36 chapters assess practice theory and research methods
