Food in Time and Place Paul Freedman, Joyce E. Chaplin, Ken Albala, 2014-11-24 Food and cuisine are important subjects for historians across many areas of study Food after all is one of the most basic human needs and a foundational part of social and cultural histories Such topics as famines food supply nutrition and public health are addressed by historians specializing in every era and every nation Food in Time and Place delivers an unprecedented review of the state of historical research on food endorsed by the American Historical Association providing readers with a geographically chronologically and topically broad understanding of food cultures from ancient Mediterranean and medieval societies to France and its domination of haute cuisine Teachers students and scholars in food history will appreciate coverage of different thematic concerns such as transfers of crops conquest colonization immigration and modern forms of globalization

Salman Rushdie in the Cultural Marketplace Ana Cristina Mendes, 2016-03-23 Taking up the roles that Salman Rushdie himself has assumed as a cultural broker gatekeeper and mediator in various spheres of public production Ana Cristina Mendes situates his work in terms of the contemporary production circulation and consumption of postcolonial texts within the workings of the cultural industries Mendes pays particular attention to Rushdie as a public performer across various creative platforms not only as a novelist and short story writer but also as a public intellectual reviewer and film critic Mendes argues that how a postcolonial author becomes personally and professionally enmeshed in the dealings of the cultural industries is of particular relevance at a time when the market is strictly regulated by a few multinational corporations She contends that marginality should not be construed exclusively as a basis for understanding Rushdie s work since a critical grounding in marginality will predictably involve a reproduction of the traditional postcolonial binaries of oppressor oppressed and colonizer colonized that the writer subverts Rather she seeks to expand existing interpretations of Rushdie s work itineraries and frameworks in order to take into account the actual conditions of postcolonial cultural production and circulation within a marketplace that is global in both orientation and effects

Diasporic Tastes Paula Torreiro Pazo, 2016 Diasporic Tastes seeks to explore the culinary metaphors present in a selection of Asian American narratives written by a variety of contemporary authors The intricate web of culinary motifs featured in these texts offers a fertile ground for the study of the real and imaginary histories of the Asian American community an ethnic minority that has been persistently racialized through its eating habits Thus this book examines those literary contexts in which the presence of food images becomes especially meaningful as an indicator of the nostalgia of the immigrant the sense of community of the diasporic family the clash between generations and the shocks of arrival and return The reading of Asian American edible metaphors from these perspectives will prove particularly revealing in relation to the notions of home identity and belonging all of them mainstays of the diasporic consciousness Series Contributions to Asian American Literary Studies Vol 8 Subject Asian American Literature Literary Criticism
