Handbook of Classroom Management Carolyn M. Evertson, Carol S. Weinstein, 2013-10-31 Classroom management is a topic of enduring concern for teachers administrators and the public It consistently ranks as the first or second most serious educational problem in the eyes of the general public and beginning teachers consistently rank it as their most pressing concern during their early teaching years Management problems continue to be a major cause of teacher burnout and job dissatisfaction Strangely despite this enduring concern on the part of educators and the public few researchers have chosen to focus on classroom management or to identify themselves with this critical field The Handbook of Classroom Management has four primary goals 1 to clarify the term classroom management 2 to demonstrate to scholars and practitioners that there is a distinct body of knowledge that directly addresses teachers managerial tasks 3 to bring together disparate lines of research and encourage conversations across different areas of inquiry and 4 to promote a vigorous agenda for future research in this area To this end 47 chapters have been organized into 10 sections each chapter written by a recognized expert in that area Cutting across the sections and chapters are the following themes First positive teacher student relationships are seen as the very core of effective classroom management Second classroom management is viewed as a social and moral curriculum Third external reward and punishment strategies are not seen as optimal for promoting academic and social emotional growth and self regulated behavior Fourth to create orderly productive environments teachers must take into account student characteristics such as age developmental level race ethnicity cultural background socioeconomic status and ableness Like other research handbooks the Handbook of Classroom Management provides an indispensable reference volume for scholars teacher educators in service practitioners and the academic libraries serving these audiences It is also appropriate for graduate courses wholly or partly devoted to the study of classroom management

Intersectionality of Race, Ethnicity, Class, and Gender in Teaching and Teacher Education Norvella P. Carter, Michael Vavrus, 2018-04-16 In Intersectionality of Race Ethnicity Class and Gender in Teaching and Teacher Education the editors bring together scholarship that employs an intersectionality approach to conditions that affect public school children teachers and teacher educators Chapter authors use intersectionality to examine group identities not only for their differences and experiences of oppression but also for differences within groups that contribute to conflicts among groups This collection moves beyond single dimension conceptions that undermines legal thinking disciplinary knowledge and social justice Intersectionality in this collection helps complicate static notions of race ethnicity class and gender in education Hence this book stands as an addition to research on educational equity in relation to institutional systems of power and privilege Teaching

Contested Narratives Zvi Bekerman, Michalinos Zembylas, 2014-01-30 In troubled societies narratives about the past tend to be partial and explain a conflict from narrow perspectives that justify the national self and condemn exclude and devalue the enemy and their narrative Through a detailed analysis Teaching Contested Narratives reveals the works of identity historical narratives and memory as these are enacted in classroom dialogues canonical texts and school ceremonies Presenting ethnographic data from local contexts in Cyprus and Israel and demonstrating the relevance to educational settings in countries which suffer from conflicts all over the world the authors explore the challenges of teaching narratives about the past in such societies discuss how historical trauma and suffering are dealt with in the context of teaching and highlight the potential of pedagogical interventions for reconciliation The book shows how the notions of identity memory and reconciliation can perpetuate or challenge attachments to essentialized ideas about peace and conflict Educating

Languages John Hobson, Kevin Lowe, Susan Poetsch, Michael Walsh, 2018-08-30 The Indigenous languages of Australia have been undergoing a renaissance over recent decades Many languages that had long ceased to be heard in public and consequently deemed dead or extinct have begun to emerge Geographically and linguistically isolated revitalisers of Indigenous Australian languages have often struggled to find guidance for their circumstances unaware of the others walking a similar path In this context Re awakening Languages seeks to provide the first comprehensive snapshot of the actions and aspirations of Indigenous people and their supporters for the revitalisation of Australian languages in the 21st century The contributions to this volume describe the satisfactions and tensions of this ongoing struggle They also draw attention to the need for effective planning and strong advocacy at the highest political and administrative levels if language revitalisation in Australia is to be successful and people s efforts are to have longevity

The Politics of Survival in Academia Lila Jacobs, José Cintrón, Cecil E. Canton, 2002 This volume presents the personal accounts of African American Asian American and Latino faculty who describe in their narratives of struggles the challenges they faced in order to become bona fide members of the United States Academy These narratives show how survival and success require a sophisticated knowledge of the politics of academia insider knowledge of the requirements of legitimacy in scholarly efforts and a resourceful approach to facing dilemmas between cultural values traditional racist practices and academic resilience The book also explores the empowerment process of these individuals who have created a new self without rejecting their enduring self the self strongly connected to their ethno racial cultures and groups Within the process of self redefinition this new faculty confronted racism sexism rejection the clash of cultural values and structural indifference to cultural diversity The faculty recounts how they ultimately learned the skillful accommodation to all of these issues It is through the analysis of survival and self definition that faculty of color and women will establish a powerful foothold in the new academy of the twenty first century

Education Policies in Europe Stavros Moutsios, Hans-Georg Kotthoff, Innovations in Educational Ethnography George Spindler, Lorie Hammond, 2012-10-12 This volume focuses on and exemplifies how ethnography a research tool devoted to looking at human interaction as a cultural process rather than individual psychology can shed light on educational processes framed by the complex internationalized societies in which we live today Part I offers theoretical chapters about ethnography and examples of innovative ethnography from particular perspectives In Part II the emphasis is on the application of ethnographic approaches to educational settings Each contribution not only takes the reader on a thoughtful and enlightening journey but raises issues that are important to both educators and ethnographers including the relationship of researcher to subject the meaning of participant in participant observation and ways to give voice to disenfranchised players and on the complex ways in which all parties experience identities such as race in the modern world Innovations in Educational Ethnography Theory Methods and Results is a product of both continuity and change It presents current writings from mentors in the field of ethnography and education as well of the work of their students and of educators engaged in cultural studies of their work In many ways it provides fresh new vistas on the old questions that have always guided ethnographic research and can be used as a survey both of what ethnography has been and what it is becoming This book is the work of many hands and provides excellent examples of trends in both basic and applied ethnography of education These two kinds of work augment and reinforce each other and also represent important current research directions in depth reflection on the process of ethnography itself and an application of its insights to teaching and learning in schools universities and communities No one philosophy guides the contributions to this volume nor were they chosen as exemplary of a particular approach yet foundational understandings and principles of ethnography shine through the work in both predictable and unexpected ways Video Research in the Learning Sciences Ricki Goldman,Roy Pea,Brigid Barron,Sharon J. Derry,2014-05-01 Video Research in the Learning Sciences is a comprehensive exploration of key theoretical methodological and technological advances concerning uses of digital video as data in the learning sciences as a way of knowing about learning teaching and educational processes The aim of the contributors a community of scholars using video in their own work is to help usher in video scholarship and supportive technologies and to mentor video scholars so that video research will meet its maximum potential to contribute to the growing knowledge base about teaching and learning This volume contributes deeply to both to the science of learning through in depth video studies of human interaction in learning environments whether classrooms or other contexts and to the uses of video for creating descriptive explanatory or expository accounts of learning and teaching It is designed around four themes each with a cornerstone chapter that introduces and synthesizes the cluster of chapters related to it Theoretical frameworks for video research Video research on peer family and informal learning Video research on classroom and teacher learning and Video collaboratories and technological futures Video Research in the Learning Sciences is intended for researchers university faculty teacher educators and graduate students in education and for anyone interested in how knowledge is expanded using video based technologies for inquiries about learning and teaching Visit the Web site affiliated with this book www.videoresearch.org
