Tradición Revista ,2005 The Retablo de Isabel la Católica by Juan de Flandes and Michel Sittow Chiyo

Ishikawa,2004 This book is the first serious monograph about the Retablo de Isabel la Católica ca 1496 1504 painted by Juan de Flandes and Michel Sittow Tracing the critical history of the altarpiece and publishing some archival material for the first time it presents the first discussion and technical examination of the individual panels including infrared reflectography and microscopic examination of the painted surface Technical examination also reveals the subject matter was closely related to the religious and political issues that concerned Queen Isabella in the waning years of her reign The conservatism inherent in the austere painted treatment of the lives of Christ and the Virgin Mary is compared to conservative works of religious literature commissioned by or dedicated to the Queen in the years that the altarpiece was being painted Finally a brief catalogue of the surviving twenty eight panels will restore a degree of narrative coherence to a project that is too little understood in large part because of the early dispersal of its paintings Art, Nature, and Religion in the Central

Andes Mary Strong,2012-05-01 From prehistory to the present the Indigenous peoples of the Andes have used a visual symbol system that is art to express their sense of the sacred and its immanence in the natural world Many visual motifs that originated prior to the Incas still appear in Andean art today despite the onslaught of cultural disruption that native Andeans have endured over several centuries Indeed art has always been a unifying power through which Andeans maintain their spirituality pride and culture while resisting the oppression of the dominant society In this book Mary Strong takes a significantly new approach to Andean art that links prehistoric to contemporary forms through an ethnographic understanding of Indigenous Andean culture In the first part of the book she provides a broad historical survey of Andean art that explores how Andean religious concepts have been expressed in art and how artists have responded to cultural encounters and impositions ranging from invasion and conquest to international labor migration and the internet In the second part Strong looks at eight contemporary art types the scissors dance danza de tijeras home altars retablos carved gourds mates ceramics cerámica painted boards tablas weavings textiles tinware hojalatería and Huamanga stone carvings piedra de Huamanga She includes prehistoric and historic information about each art form its religious meaning the natural environment and sociopolitical processes that help to shape its expression and how it is constructed or performed by today's artists many of whom are quoted in the book Fray Angélico Chavez Phyllis S.
