Paved With Good Intentions The Ngo Experience In North Korea:

Paved with Good Intentions L. Gordon Flake, Scott A. Snyder, 2003-08-30 Includes statistics Famine in North Korea Stephan Haggard, Marcus Noland, 2009-06-22 In the mid 1990s as many as one million North Koreans died in one of the worst famines of the twentieth century Stephan Haggard and Marcus Noland present the most comprehensive and penetrating account of the famine to date examining not only the origins and aftermath of the crisis but also the regime's response to outside aid and the effect of its current policies on the country's economic future North Korea's famine exemplified the depredations that can arise from tyrannical rule and the dilemmas such regimes pose for the humanitarian community To reveal the state's culpability is a vital project of historical recovery especially in light of our current engagement with the North Korean question North Korea Paul French, 2007-07-15 This reissue of Paul French's acclaimed introduction to North Korea provides an up to the minute overview of the politics economics and history of the DPRK with added chapters dealing with recent events A new foreword examines why North Korea remains an issue in world politics and argues that an understanding of the country is more important now than ever A new in depth postscript offers analysis of recent years why Pyongyang felt compelled to test a bomb and revert to blatant nuclear diplomacy and how the crisis can be resolved peacefully North Korea: The Politics of Regime Survival Young Whan Kihl, Hong Nack Kim, 2014-12-18 Featuring contributions by some of the leading experts in Korean studies this book examines the political content of Kim Jong Il's regime maintenance including both the domestic strategy for regime survival and North Korea's foreign relations with South Korea Russia China Japan and the United States It considers how and why the Democratic People's Republic of Korea DPRK became a hermit kingdom in the name of Juche self reliance ideology and the potential for the barriers of isolationism to endure This up to date analysis of the DPRK's domestic and external policy linkages also includes a discussion of the ongoing North Korean nuclear standoff in the region Non-Traditional Security Issues in North Korea Kyung-Ae Park, 2013-07-31 The concept of security has undergone significant change in the past few decades Traditionally thought of in terms of the state centric militarily focused realist discourse the concept of security has been broadened to include a greater number of potential threats and an increased number of relevant actors Yet despite the great changes in security scholarship the vast majority of studies on North Korea continue to focus primarily on the country's nuclear weapons program its military and other traditional security issues surrounding Pyongyang While North Korea captures headlines with its aggressive behavior and growing nuclear arsenal the ground level threats to average everyday North Koreans go largely unnoticed This groundbreaking volume seeks to refocus research on North Korean security from the traditional to largely unexplored non traditional security NTS issues In the wake of political succession to Kim Jung Un the issue of non traditional security is increasingly important From the lasting effects of the famine of the 1990s to continued food shortages and the growing marketization of North Korean society the Pyongyang regime is facing diverse and unprecedented challenges This book offers cutting edge analyses of emerging North Korean NTS issues by the world's leading specialists in the field. It looks at these issues and their effects at the local, regional and international level as well as examining the international community's efforts to promote an NTS approach to North Korea. More specifically, the volume addresses the traditional and non-traditional security paradigms: energy security, gender security, transnational organized crime, the internal and external dimensions of North Korea's food security, the Responsibility to Protect, refugee issues and international law and the role of NGOs in promoting NTS in North Korea. As the global community begins to move toward a more people-centered approach to security and foreign policy work such as that presented in this thought-provoking volume will be increasingly vital to scholars, policymakers and interested citizens.

North Korea's Foreign Policy under Kim Jong Il Seung-Ho Joo, 2016-12-05. The Democratic People's Republic of Korea (North Korea) joined the rank of nuclear powers in October 2006 after exploding its first nuclear device. The test was not fully successful yet it unequivocally demonstrated North Korea's nuclear weapons capability. North Korea under the leadership of Kim Jong-il remains as unpredictable and mysterious as ever. This comprehensive study brings together leading scholars in the field to examine the country's current foreign policy under Kim Jong-il as well as its bilateral relations with the USA, China, Russia, Japan and South Korea.

Kim Jong Il and North Korea Andrew Scobell, 2006. In the first decade of the 21st century, few national security challenges facing the United States are as vexing as that posed by North Korea. It is a paradox because it appears to be a very powerful state possessing the world's fourth largest armed forces, a sizeable arsenal of ballistic missiles and a worrying nuclear program, but it is also an economic basket case in terms of agricultural output, industrial production and foreign trade exports. Virtually every aspect of the Pyongyang regime is mysterious and puzzling. In short, North Korea is difficult for Americans to understand and analyze, beginning with confusion about what kind of political system North Korea has and what kind of man leads it. The author explores Pyongyang's political dynamics and seeks to shed light on the political system of North Korea and its leader.

The New Famines Stephen Devereux, 2006-11-22. The recent occurrences of famine in Ethiopia and Southern Africa have propelled this key issue back into the public arena for the first time since 1984, as once again it becomes a priority not only for lesser developed countries but also for the international community. Exploring the paradox that is the persistence of famine in the contemporary world, this book looks at the way the nature of famine is changing in the face of globalization and shifting geo-political forces. The book challenges perceived wisdom about the causes of famine and analyzes the worst cases of recent years, including close analysis of food scarcity in North Korea, Ethiopia, Sudan and Malawi, and less well-known cases in Madagascar, Iraq and Bosnia. With fresh conceptual frameworks and analytical tools, major theoretical constructs which have previously been applied to analyze famines such as the democracy ends famine argument, Sen's entitlement approach and the complex political emergency framework are confronted. This volume assembles an international team of contributors including Marcus Noland Alex de Waal and Dan Maxwell an impressive roster which helps make this book an important resource for those in the fields of development studies and political economics

The consequences of any escalation of these two conflicts and the difficulties in resolving them necessitate a fresh look at designing new strategies to prevent and contain conflict as well as highlighting the limitations of existing measures. Presenting both a theoretical and practical examination of conflict prevention and management, the volume provides a comparative analysis of the Korean Peninsula and the Taiwan Strait, identifying lessons that could be transferred between the two cases but also the obstacles to this. The experiences of other regions and the role of third parties are also examined. This is a valuable addition to the literature for students of peace and conflict studies as well as policy makers with an interest in Northeast Asia.
