Personal Coping Theory Research And Application:

Personal Coping Bruce N. Carpenter,1992-10-13 This volume presents current models of coping describes the coping process and relates that process to environmental factors person variables and desirable outcomes Unlike most treatments of coping which are organized around stress this volume emphasizes features of the coping process that have broad relevance across many potential stressors Although each model in the book tends to emphasize different aspects of coping the organization around models gives each chapter a theoretical focus which will be attractive to researchers and to those applying current research to applied problems such as interventions The most obvious audience is made up of researchers and scholars in the broad area of stress and coping With the emerging emphasis within applied programs on more common psychological and health problems coping theory is well suited to train students in the principles and issues relevant to everyday problems and functioning This volume is well suited to assist in such training

Organizational Stress Cary L. Cooper,Philip Dewe,Michael P. O'Driscoll,2001-02-06 The book is comprehensive thought provoking resource for Ph D students academics and professionals working to minimize or eliminate the sources of stress in the workplace Jacket

Handbook of Research on Contemporary Theoretical Models in Information Systems Dwivedi, Yogesh K.,Lal, Banita,Williams, Michael D.,Schneberger, Scott L.,Wade, Michael,2009-05-31 This book provides a comprehensive understanding and coverage of the various theories models and related research approaches used within IS research Provided by publisher

Action Theory and Communication Research Karsten Renckstorf,2004 The action theoretical approach has already proved its value as a framework for communication research most especially in the study of media audiences and media use The approach privileges the perspective of the acting individual but offers guidelines for connecting the subjective orientation with networks of social interaction and for treating behaviour as a social process Research within this framework takes account of the wider social context and calls for a careful combination of empirical observation and interpretation with a corresponding diversity of methodologies The contributions to the volume shed light on the significance of media use in everyday experience and contribute to an understanding of communication in society
