Globalization and New Geographies of Conservation Karl S. Zimmerer,2006-09-15 Examining the geographical dimensions of environmental management and conservation activities implemented on landscapes worldwide Globalization and New Geographies of Conservation creates a new framework and collects original case studies to explore recent developments in the interaction of humans and their environment Globalization and New Geographies of Conservation makes four important arguments about the recent coupling of conservation and globalization that is reshaping the place of nature in human environmental change First it has led to an unprecedented number of spatial arrangements whose environmental management goals and prescribed activities vary along a spectrum from strict biodiversity protection to sustainable utilization involving agriculture food production and extractive activities Conservation and globalization are also leading by necessity to new scales of management in these activities that rely on environmental science thus shifting the spatial patterning of humans and the environment This interaction results as well in the unprecedented importance of boundaries and borders transnational border issues pose both opportunities and threats to global conservation proposed by organizations and institutions that are themselves international Lastly Globalization and New Geographies of Conservation argues that the local level has been integral to globalization while the regional level is often eclipsed at the peril of the successful implementation of conservation and management programs Bridging the gap between geography and life science Globalization and New Geographies of Conservation will appeal to a broad range of students of the environment conservation planning biodiversity management and development and globalization studies

Megacity Nadine Reis, Michael Lukas, 2022-03-01 Beyond the Megacity connects and reconnects the global debate on the contemporary urban condition to the Latin American tradition of seeing considering and theorizing urbanization from the margins It develops the approach of peripheral urbanization as a way to integrate the theoretical agendas belonging to global suburbanisms neo Marxist accounts of planetary urbanization and postcolonial urban studies and to move urban theory closer to the complexity and diversity of urbanization in the Global South From an interdisciplinary perspective Beyond the Megacity investigates the natures causes implications and politics of current urbanization processes in Latin America The book draws on case studies from various countries across the region covering theoretical and disciplinary approaches from the fields of geography anthropology sociology urban studies agrarian studies and urban and regional planning and is written by academics journalists practitioners and scholar activists Beyond the Megacity unites these unique perspectives by shifting attention to the places processes practices and bodies of knowledge that have often been neglected in the past Another Boom for Amazonia? Jr. Penn, 2010-05 This study examines the socioeconomic and environmental implications of the new camu camu industry in Peru Camu camu Myrciaria dubia is a small tree native to wetlands of the Amazon basin It is especially abundant in Peruvian Amazonia The high vitamin C content of the fruit has generated interest in exporting camu camu products from Amazonia to more developed countries The government of Peru has been actively promoting this new extractive industry as well as the planting of camu camu in rural areas Non governmental development organizations and private industry are now actively involved with camu camu projects and enterprises In Peru enthusiasm for this native species is high because camu camu is expected to provide a much needed and sustainable economic boost for the region However many questions about the environmental implications and socioeconomic impacts of the camu camu export industry need to be answered in order to understand its ecological and economic viability and its effects on business and in rural communities Winner of 2010 Dissertation Excellence Award Findings indicate that camu camu has provided significantly more income to rural residents than is provided by the traditional boom and bust economies of Amazonia Households who adopted camu camu as a new crop in their floodplain agroforestry systems farmed significantly more floodplain land than non adopters and were especially adept at experimenting with new innovations Lack of agricultural credit is a major constraint to adopting camu camu as a new crop in Peru Geographic isolation and the location of processing facilities in relation to fruit harvests present major obstacles to the economic viability of the new industry Camu camu was found to be cultivated with a higher diversity of annual crops than is typical in floodplain fields of the region Extraction of camu camu fruits from the wild does not appear to have a negative environmental impact at least in the initial years of the industry This non timber forest product in the process of domestication can support a viable industry in the Peruvian Amazon if agricultural extension methods and marketing channels are improved Urban Regimes of Dispossession in the Global South, 2025-09-25 This edited volume develops a theoretical framework what we call urban regimes of dispossession for understanding how urban actors organize dispossession and govern the urban dispossessed how the urban dispossessed arrange experience and resist dispossession and how urban dispossession contributes to creating expanding capitalist systems or transforming urban societies in the global south The book s main arguments are built on a survey of the nearly two hundred year history of global dispossession studies and solid empirical evidence from three continents Asia Africa and Latin America and seven countries Bangladesh Brazil Honduras India Lebanon Nigeria and Uganda Eighteen scholars bring diverse perspectives and realities on urban dispossession which will appeal to students scholars planners and practitioners across various social scientific disciplines including sociology anthropology urban studies political economy international relations political science economics gender studies and geography Contributors are Shapan Adnan Orlando Alves dos Santos Junior Fred Bidandi David L Brunsma Tarcyla Fidalgo Ribeiro Lakshmi Jahnavi Marie Kolling Ana Maria Kumarasamy Barbara Lipietz Lipon Mondal Adrian Murray John Nagle Victor Udemezue Onyebueke Ta sa Sanches Karen Spring Susan Spronk Luanda Vannuchi and Julian Walker
