

11+ Verbal Reasoning: Reading Information

In these questions you need to read the information you are given carefully. After you have read the information given you will then need to determine which of the statements is true.

11+

John. Maria is younger than John. Ian is older than John. Which statement is true?
A Ian is older than John.
B John is older than Maria.
C Maria is older than John.
D Ian is older than Maria.

First, we need to read the information carefully. The first piece of information we are given is that John is three years older than Ian. From this, we cannot rule out any of the statements below.

We then find out that Maria is older than John. Reading both of these pieces of information, we can now rule out the first, second and third options as we now know that Maria isn't the youngest, John is not the eldest, and that Ian is not older than Maria.

We can use the remaining information to check statement number three to check that this one is true. We already know that Ian is younger than John and the information that Maria is younger than John but older than John means she will also be older than Ian, and that the statement Maria is older than John and Ian is correct.
