Kathy Davis,Mary Evans,Judith Lorber,2006-04-27 This breathtakingly broad interdisciplinary reader demonstrates how widely feminist thinking has spread how deeply it has shaken settled assumptions in the disciplines and how much new light it throws on contemporary controversies Myra Marx Ferree University of Wisconsin Madison A timely intervention and highly engaged thoughtful and scholarly analysis of the state of gender and women's studies in the West by three eminent feminist scholars. Highly cognisant of the central issues that have fractured, blocked and enhanced western feminism, Bev Skeggs, Goldsmiths. The comprehensiveness and the interdisciplinary range of themes are impressive and they make the Handbook into a wonderful tool for teachers and students of women's and gender studies. Nina Lykke, Linköping University. Gender and women's studies is one of the most challenging fields within the social sciences; the dynamics of gender relations and the social and cultural implications of gender constructions offer a lively forum of debate. The Handbook of Gender and Women's Studies presents a comprehensive and engaging review of the most recent developments within the field, including the study of masculinity, the feminist implications of postmodernism, the cultural turn and globalization. The authors review current research and offer critical analyses of women's and gender studies in work, the welfare state, family, education, religion, violence and war, and feminist global politics. Edited by three leading academics from Europe and the United States and with 25 chapters written by scholars based throughout the world, the Handbook situates the most important debates in the field within a uniquely international and interdisciplinary context. The Handbook is a useful introduction to gender theory and an exciting starting point for fresh debates.

Nationalism in Contemporary Europe Andrzej Marcin Suszycki, 2021. This book proposes a conceptualisation of nationalism with a multilevel operational character. It offers three different perspectives on nationalism that consider both the discursive structure and the discursive agency of nationalism. It also demonstrates a number of intra-phenomenal and extra-phenomenal constraints on nationalism. This book underlines that nationalism in contemporary Europe should not be regarded in terms of methodological homogeneity and conceptual uniformity, ideological rigidity or strategic consistency, but rather as a contested, segmented, bounded and contextual phenomenon.

Queering the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema James S. Williams, 2020-08-27. This exciting and original volume offers the first comprehensive critical study of the recent profusion of European films and television addressing sexual migration and seeking to capture the lives and experiences of LGBTIQ migrants and refugees. Queering the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema argues that embodied cinematic representations of the queer migrant, even if at times highly ambivalent and contentious, constitute an urgent new repertoire of queer subjectivities and socialities that serve to undermine the patrolled borders of gender and sexuality, nationhood and citizenship, and refigure or queer fixed notions and universals of identity like Europe and national belonging based on the model of the family. At stake ethically and politically is the elaboration of a transborder consciousness and aesthetics that counters the homonationalist, xenophobic and homophobic representation of the migrant to Europe, figure rooted in the toxic binaries of othering the good vs. bad migrant, host vs. guest, indigenous vs. foreigner. Bringing together 16 contributors working in different national film traditions and embracing multiple theoretical perspectives, this powerful and timely collection will be of major interest to both specialists and students in Film and Media Studies, Gender and Queer Studies, Migration, Mobility Studies, Cultural Studies and Aesthetics.

Religion in Contemporary European Cinema Costica Bradatan, Camil Ungureanu, 2014-02-18 The religious landscape in Europe is changing dramatically While the authority of institutional religion has weakened a growing number of people now desire individualized religious and spiritual experiences finding the self complacency of secularism unfulfilling The crisis of religion is itself a form of religious life A sense of complex subterranean interaction between religious heterodox secular and atheistic experiences has thus emerged which makes the phenomenon all the more fascinating to study and this is what Religion in Contemporary European Cinema does The book explores the mutual influences structural analogies shared dilemmas as well as the historical roots of such a post secular constellation as seen through the lens of European cinema Bringing together scholars from film theory and political science ethics and philosophy of religion philosophy of film and theology this volume casts new light on the relationship between the religious and secular experience after the death of the death of God
