Seyler, 1992      Structure Analysis by Electron Diffraction B. K. Vainshtein, 2013-10-22 Structure Analysis by Electron Diffraction focuses on the theory and practice of studying the atomic structure of crystalline substances through electron diffraction The publication first offers information on diffraction methods in structure analysis and the geometrical theory of electron diffraction patterns Discussions focus on the fundamental concepts of the theory of scattering and structure analysis of crystals structure analysis by electron diffraction formation of spot electron diffraction patterns electron diffraction texture patterns and polycrystalline electron diffraction patterns The text then ponders on intensities of reflections including atomic scattering temperature factor structure amplitude experimental measurements of intensity and review of equations for intensities of reflections in electron diffraction patterns The manuscript examines the Fourier methods in electron diffraction and experimental electron diffraction structure investigations Topics include the determination of the structure of the hydrated chlorides of transition metals structures of carbides and nitrides of certain metals and semi conducting alloys electron diffraction investigation of clay minerals and possibilities inherent in structure analysis by electron diffraction The book is a helpful source of data for readers interested in structure analysis by electron diffraction      Teaching Reflective Learning in Higher Education Mary Elizabeth Ryan, 2014-11-05 This book is about understanding the nature and application of reflection in higher education It provides a theoretical model to guide the implementation of reflective learning and reflective practice across multiple disciplines and international contexts in higher education The book presents research into the ways in which reflection is both considered and implemented in different ways across different professional disciplines while maintaining a common purpose to transform and improve learning and or practice The Readers will find this book is innovative and new in three key ways Firstly in its holistic theorisation of reflection within the pedagogic field of higher education Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines and finally in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice in a systematic way across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education The book considers important contextual factors that influence the teaching of forms and methods of reflection It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme The theoretical model accounts for students stage of development in the disciplinary field along with progressive and cyclical levels of higher order thinking and learning and professional practice that are expected within different disciplines and professional fields Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme in terms of demonstrating levels of reflection The book includes images diagrams and different text forms to support the creative applications of reflection And thirdly the book is innovative in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice systematically across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education contexts across the world Proceedings of the Royal Society. Biologically Inspired Cooperative Computing Yi Pan,Franz J. Rammig,Hartmut Schmeck,Mauricio Solar,2006-11-24 In the world of information technology it is no longer the computer in the classical sense where the majority of IT applications is executed computing is everywhere More than 20 billion processors have already been fabricated and the majority of them can be assumed to still be operational At the same time virtually every PC worldwide is connected via the Internet This combination of traditional and embedded computing creates an artifact of a complexity heterogeneity and volatility unmanageable by classical means Each of our technical artifacts with a built in processor can be seen as a Thing that Thinks a term introduced by MIT s Thinglab It can be expected that in the near future these billions of Things that Think will become an Internet of Things a term originating from ETH Zurich This means that we will be constantly surrounded by a virtual organism of Things that Think This organism needs novel adequate design evolution and management means which is also one of the core challenges addressed by the recent German priority research program on Organic Computing The

Patterns of Reflection Seyler,2003-07 Artificial Intelligence in Design '98 John S. Gero,Fay Sudweeks,2012-12-06 The development of computational models of design founded on the artificial intelligenceparadigm has provided an impetus for muchofcurrentdesign research As artificial intelligence has matured and developed new approaches so the impact ofthese new approaches on design research has been felt This can be seen in the wayconcepts from cognitive science has found theirway into artificial intelligence and hence into design research And also in the way in which agent based systems arebeingincorporated into design systems In design research there is an increasing blurring between notions drawn from artificial intelligence and those drawn from cognitive science Whereas a number of years ago the focus was largely on applying artificial intelligence to designing as an activity thus treating designing as a form of problem solving today we are seeing a much wider variety of conceptions of the role of artificial intelligence in helping to model and comprehend designing as a process Thus we see papers in this volume which have as their focus the development or implementation of frameworks for artificial intelligence in design attempting to determine a unique locus for these ideas We see papers which attempt to find foundations for the development of tools based on the artificial intelligence paradigm often the foundations come from cognitive studies of human designers

Electron-Diffraction Analysis of Clay Mineral Structures B. B. Zvyagin, 2012-12-06 As a method of structure analysis electron diffraction has its own special possibilities and advantages in comparison to the X ray method for the study of finely dispersed minerals with layer or pseudolayer structures However possibly because of the prior existence of the X ray method which found universal application in different fields and attracted the main efforts of specialists electron diffraction has been unevenly disseminated and developed in different countries In particular the oblique texture method which gives very complete and detailed structural information has been mainly used in the Soviet Union where electron diffraction cameras specially suited to the method have been constructed In other countries studies have been made of micro single crystals because these studies could be carried out with existing electron microscopes It should be recognized that the scale of distribution and use attained by electron diffraction methods at present limited by existing experimental conditions is more than justified by the value of the results which may be obtained by their aid The author hopes that the present book will give the reader a fuller idea of the valuable advantages of the method and of the structural crystallography picture which has been built up for clay minerals and layer silicates in general from electron diffraction data The time between the appearance of this book and that of the Russian edition has been comparatively short
