The Smart Set ,1914 The British National Bibliography Cumulated Subject Catalogue ,1955 Southern African Literatures Michael J. F. Chapman,2003 Southern African Literatures is a major study of the work of writers from South Africa Zimbabwe Zambia Malawi Angola Mozambique and Namibia written at a time of crucial change in the subcontinent It covers a wide range of work from the storytelling of stone age Bushmen to modern writing by renowned figures such as Es kia Mphahlele Nadine Gordimer and Andr c Brink encompassing traditional popular and elite writing literature in translation and case studies based on topical issues Michael Chapman argues that literary history in the southern African region is best based on a comparative method which while respecting differences of language race and social circumstance seeks cultural interchange including translations of experience across linguistic and ethnic borders Instead of perpetuating division the study examines points of common reference as it asks what makes a literary culture Who are to be regarded as major and minor authors What are the strengths and limitations of local and international perspectives

Should literature in today's southern Africa be confined to the art forms of poems plays and fiction The author seeks to answer these questions vital to all literary discussion in the volatile context of recent southern African history in a style accessible to the general reader The study is republished with a revised Preface in which the author considers the sometimes heated debates that accompanied the book's initial appearance Southern African Literatures in 2000 was awarded the premier Bill Venter Prize for academic literature in South Africa

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1955 Man, 1906 A GRAMMAR OF THE WAPPO LANGUAGE PAUL RADIN, 1929 Dead Man's Signature Denis M'Passou, 1994 White Man's Game Stephanie Hanes, 2025-06-25 A probing examination of Western conservation efforts in Africa where our feel good stories belie a troubling reality The stunningly beautiful Gorongosa National Park once the crown jewel of Mozambique was nearly destroyed by decades of civil war It looked like a perfect place for Western philanthropy revive the park and tourists would return a win win outcome for the environment and the impoverished villagers living in the area So why did some researchers find the local communities actually getting hungrier sicker and poorer as the project went on And why did efforts to bring back wildlife become far more difficult than expected In pursuit of answers Stephanie Hanes takes readers on a vivid safari across southern Africa from the shark filled waters off Cape Agulhas to a reserve trying to save endangered wild dogs She traces the tangled history of Western missionaries explorers and do gooders in Africa from Stanley and Livingstone to Teddy Roosevelt from Bono and the Live Aid festivals to Greg Carr the American benefactor of Gorongosa And she examines the larger problems that arise when Westerners try to fix complex messy situations in the developing world acting with best intentions yet potentially overlooking the wishes of the people who live there Beneath the uplifting stories we tell ourselves about helping Africans she shows often lies a dramatic misunderstanding of what the locals actually need and want A gripping narrative of environmentalists and insurgents poachers and tycoons elephants and angry spirits White

Man's Game profoundly challenges the way we think about philanthropy and conservation The Fear of the Dead in Primitive Religion Vol. III James George Frazer, 2022-06-14 On the question of how far the almost universal belief in the survival of the human spirit after death which is implied by the fear of the dead can be regarded as evidence of the truth of that survival or opinions will doubtless always be divided From the crudities inconsistencies and absurdities in which the belief commonly clothes itself an impartial observer might be tempted to conclude that the spirits of the dead exist only in the imagination of the fond and foolish portion of mankind but this conclusion so little consonant with the natural wishes and perhaps the instincts of humanity is not likely to be ever popular and it seems probable that the great majority of our species will continue to acquiesce in a belief so flattering to human vanity and so comforting to human sorrow And it cannot be denied that the champions of eternal life have entrenched themselves in a strong if not impregnable position for if it is impossible to prove the immortality of the soul it is in the present state of our knowledge equally impossible to disprove it But the batteries of science have an ever longer range and on this side they may yet make a deep breach in the frowning bastions of faith Sir James G Frazer 1854-1941 is famous as the author of The Golden Bough
