Re Creating Eden Land Use Environment And Society In Southern Angola And Northern Namibia Social:

Re-creating Eden Emmanuel Kreike, 2004-10-26 Kreike analyses the social environmental impact of colonial conquest pacification of Africa through a case study of the Angolan Namibian borderlands His study demonstrates the interactions between social environmental factors structures processes

Deforestation and Reforestation in Namibia Emmanuel Kreike, 2009-10-26 Descriptions of the late 1800s landscape in the Ovambo floodplain in north central Namibia closely match the area s late 1900s appearance suggesting that little change occurred between the pre colonial baseline and the postcolonial outcome Yet paradoxically colonial conquest population pressure biological invasions new technology and economic globalization caused both dramatic deforestation and reforestation in less than a century The paradox stems from the fact that the prevailing global environmental models obscure and homogenize the process of environmental change different and contradictory interpretations are dismissed as alternative readings or misreadings of the same process Deforestation and Reforestation however argues that the paradox highlights the need to reframe environmental change as plural processes occurring along multiple trajectories that may be dissynchronized and asymmetrical

Remembering African Labor Migration to the Second World Marcia C. Schenck, 2022-11-24 This open access book is about Mozambicans and Angolans who migrated in state sponsored schemes to East Germany in the late 1970s and throughout the 1980s They went to work and to be trained as a vanguard labor force for the intended African industrial revolutions While they were there they contributed their labor power to the East German economy This book draws on more than 260 life history interviews and uncovers complex and contradictory experiences and transnational encounters What emerges is a series of dualities that exist side by side in the memories of the former migrants the state and the individual work and consumption integration and exclusion loss and gain and the past in the past and the past in the present and future By uncovering these dualities the book explores the lives of African migrants moving between the Third and Second worlds Devoted to the memories of worker trainees this transnational study comes at a time when historians are uncovering the many varied complicated and important connections within the global socialist world

Environmental Change and African Societies Julia Tischler, Ingo Haltermann, 2019-10-07 The volume Environmental Change and African Societies contributes to current debates on global climate change from the perspectives of the social sciences and the humanities It charts past and present environmental change in different African settings and also discusses policies and scenarios for the future The first section Ideas enquires into local perceptions of the environment followed by contributions on historical cases of environmental change and state regulation The section Present addresses decision making and agenda setting processes related to current representations and or predicted effects of climate change The section Prospects is concerned with contemporary African megatrends The authors move across different scales of investigation from locally grounded ethnographic analyses to discussions on continental trends and international policy Contributors are Daniel Callo Concha Joy

Clancy Manfred Denich Sara de Wit Ton Dietz Irit Eguavoen Ben Fanstone Ingo Haltermann Laura Jeffrey Emmanuel Kreike Vimbai Kwashirai James C McCann Bertrand F Nero Jonas Nielsen Erick G Tambo Julia Tischler      Local Autonomy as a Human Right Joshua B. Forrest, 2021-08-27 Local Autonomy as a Human Right contends that local communities struggle to preserve their territorial autonomy over time despite changes to the broader political and geographic contexts within which they are embedded Forrest argues that this both reflects and is evidence of a worldwide embrace of local control as a key political and social value indeed of such importance that it should be embraced and codified as a human right This study weaves together evidence grounded in a variety of disciplines history geography comparative politics sociology public policy anthropology international jurisprudence rural studies urban studies to make clear that a presumed inherent moral right to local self determination has been manifested in many different historical and social contexts This book constructs a compelling argument favoring a human right to local autonomy It identifies practical factors that help to account for the relative success of communities that are able to assert local control over time Here particular attention is paid to whether localities are able to generate policy and organizational capacity Forrest suggests that a focus on local policy and organizational capacity can help to explain why some communities attempting to assert greater local control are more successful than others Local Autonomy as a Human Right contributes to scholarly debates regarding the varied impacts of globalization with the place based perspective and moral emphasis on territorial centered rights put forth herein offering a necessary counter narrative to the often presumed predominance of global forces      The Ecology of War in China Micah S. Muscolino, 2015 This book explores the interplay between war and the environment in Henan Province a hotly contested frontline territory that endured massive environmental destruction and human disruption during the conflict between China and Japan that raged during World War II In a desperate attempt to block Japan s military advance Chinese Nationalist armies under Chiang Kai shek broke the Yellow River s dikes in Henan in June 1938 resulting in devastating floods that persisted until after the war s end Greater catastrophe struck Henan in 1942 1943 when famine took some two million lives and displaced millions more Focusing on these war induced disasters and their aftermath this book conceptualizes the ecology of war in terms of energy flows through and between militaries societies and environments Ultimately Micah Muscolino argues that efforts to procure and exploit nature s energy in various forms shaped the choices of generals the fates of communities and the trajectory of environmental change in North China      Navigating Socialist Encounters Eric Burton, Anne Dietrich, Immanuel Harisch, Marcia Schenck, 2021-06-08 This edited volume firmly places African history into global history by highlighting connections between African and East German actors and institutions during the Cold War With a special focus on negotiations and African influences on East Germany and vice versa the volume sheds light on personal and institutional agency cultural cross fertilization migration development and solidarity      Safari Nation Jacob S. T. Dlamini, 2020-04-22 Safari Nation opens new lines of inquiry in the study of national parks in Africa and the rest of the world The Kruger National Park is South Africa's most iconic nature reserve renowned for its rich flora and fauna According to author Jacob Dlamini there is another side to the park a social history neglected by scholars and popular writers alike in which blacks meaning Africans Coloureds and Indians occupy center stage Safari Nation details the ways in which black people devoted energies to conservation and to the park over the course of the twentieth century engagement that transcends the stock black figure of the laborer and the poacher By exploring the complex and dynamic ways in which blacks of varying class racial religious and social backgrounds related to the Kruger National Park and with the help of previously unseen archival photographs Dlamini's narrative also sheds new light on how and why Africa's national parks often derided by scholars as colonial impositions survived the end of white rule on the continent Relying on oral histories photographs and archival research Safari Nation engages both with African historiography and with ongoing debates about the land question democracy and citizenship in South Africa

History of Namibia Marion Wallace, 2014-01-16 In 1990 Namibia gained its independence after a decades long struggle against South African rule and before that against German colonialism This book the first new scholarly general history of Namibia in two decades provides a fresh synthesis of these events and of the much longer pre colonial period A History of Namibia opens with a chapter by John Kinahan covering the evidence of human activity in Namibia from the earliest times to the nineteenth century and for the first time making a synthesis of current archaeological research widely available to non specialists In subsequent chapters Marion Wallace weaves together the most up to date academic research in English and German on Namibian history from the mid eighteenth century to the present She explores histories of migration production and power in the pre colonial period the changes triggered by European expansion and the dynamics of the period of formal colonialism The coverage of German rule includes a full chapter on the genocide of 1904-8 Here Wallace outlines the history and historiography of the wars fought in central and southern Namibia and the subsequent mass imprisonment of defeated Africans in concentration camps The final two chapters analyse the period of African nationalism apartheid and war between 1946 and 1990 The book's conclusion looks briefly at the development of Namibia in the two decades since independence A History of Namibia provides an invaluable introduction and reference source to the past of a country that is often neglected despite its significance in the history of the region and indeed for that of European colonialism and international relations It makes accessible the latest research on the country illuminates current controversies puts forward new insights and suggests future directions for research The book's extensive bibliography adds to its usefulness for scholar and general reader alike

Challenging Authorities Arne S. Steinforth, Sabine Klocke-Daffa, 2021-09-20 When the notion of alternative facts and the alleged dawning of a postfactual world entered public discourse social anthropologists found themselves in unexpectedly familiar territory In their empirical experience fact knowledge accepted as true derives its salience from social mechanisms of legitimization thereby demonstrating a deep interconnection with power and authority In this perspective fact is a continually contested and volatile social category Due to the specific histories of their colonial and post independence experience African societies offer a particularly broad array of insights into social processes of juxtaposition opposition and even outright competition between different postulated authorities The contributions to the present volume explore the variety of ways in which authority is contested in Southern and Eastern Africa investigating localized discourses on which institution what kind of knowledge or whose expertise is accepted as authoritative thus highlighting the specificities and pluralities in modern societies This edited volume engages with larger theoretical questions regarding power and authority in the context of post colonial states neo traditional authority claiming space conflict and in justice and contestations of knowledge It offers in depth critical analyses of ethnographic data that put contemporary African phenomena on equal footing with current controversies in North America Europe and other global settings

Natures of Colonial Change Jacob A. Tropp,2006-10-01 In this groundbreaking study Jacob A Tropp explores the interconnections between negotiations over the environment and an emerging colonial relationship in a particular South African context the Transkei subsequently the largest of the notorious homelands under apartheid In the late nineteenth century South Africa s Cape Colony completed its incorporation of the area beyond the Kei River known as the Transkei and began transforming the region into a labor reserve It simultaneously restructured popular access to local forests reserving those resources for the benefit of the white settler economy This placed new constraints on local Africans in accessing resources for agriculture livestock management hunting building materials fuel medicine and ritual practices Drawing from a diverse array of oral and written sources Tropp reveals how bargaining over resources between and among colonial officials chiefs and headmen and local African men and women was interwoven with major changes in local political authority gendered economic relations and cultural practices as well as with intense struggles over the very meaning and scope of colonial rule itself Natures of Colonial Change sheds new light on the colonial era in the Transkei by looking at significant yet neglected dimensions of this history how both colonizing and colonized groups negotiated environmental access and how such negotiations helped shape the broader making and meaning of life in the new colonial order

The Nature State Wilko Hardenberg,2017-07-14 Following the industrial revolution and post war exponential increase in human population and consumption conservation in myriad forms has been one particularly visible way in which the government and its agencies have tried to control manage or produce nature for reasons other than raw exploitation Using an interdisciplinary approach and including case studies from across the globe this edited collection brings together geographers sociologists anthropologists and historians in order to examine the degree to which socio political regimes facilitate and shape the emergence and development of nature states

Moving Crops and the Scales of History Francesca Bray,Barbara Hahn,John Bosco Lourdusamy,Tiago Saraiva,2023-02-14 A bold redefinition of historical inquiry based on the cropscape the people creatures technologies ideas and places that surround a crop Human efforts to move crops from one place to another have been a key driving force in history Crops have been on the move for millennia from wildlands into fields from wetlands to dry zones from one imperial colony to another This book is a bold but approachable attempt to redefine historical inquiry based on the cropscape the assemblage of people places creatures technologies and other elements that form around a crop The cropscape is a method of reconnecting the global with the local the longue durée with microhistory and people plants and places with abstract concepts such as tastes ideas skills politics and economic forces Through investigating a range of contrasting cropscares spanning millennia and the globe the authors break open traditional historical structures of period geography and direction to glean insight into previously invisible actors and forces The Palgrave Handbook of African Colonial and Postcolonial History Martin S. Shanguhya, Toyin Falola, 2018-01-28 This wide ranging volume presents the most complete appraisal of modern African history to date It assembles dozens of new and established scholars to tackle the questions and subjects that define the field ranging from the economy the two world wars nationalism decolonization and postcolonial politics to religion development sexuality and the African youth experience Contributors are drawn from numerous fields in African studies including art music literature education and anthropology The themes they cover illustrate the depth of modern African history and the diversity and originality of lenses available for examining it Older themes in the field have been treated to an engaging reassessment while new and emerging themes are situated as the book's core strength The result is a comprehensive vital picture of where the field of modern African history stands today

Borderlands and Frontiers in Africa Steven van Wolputte, 2013 This volume addresses the marked influence that African borders and boundaries whether real or imaginary have on the lives of those inhabiting the borderland How do political and symbolic borders take concrete shape and how do they bear on daily life Conversely how does life in the borderland shape the borders that characterize it The book recognizes borderlands as shifting places times or domains where competing discourses and regimes of power overlap Characterized by overt contradiction and paradox they are often imagined at the outside Yet they pertain to and define the center The collected case studies challenge the assumption that states and anonymized institutions are the principal actors in border making Instead they argue for an actor oriented perspective while drawing attention to the physicality of the borderscape Series African Studies Afrikanische Studien Vol 40

State Recognition and Democratization in Sub-Saharan Africa L. Buur, H. Kyed, 2007-11-26 Being critical and empirically grounded the book explores the complex often counterbalancing consequences of the involvement of traditional authority in the wave of democratization and liberal style state building that has rolled over sub-Saharan Africa in the past decade

Environmental Infrastructure in African History Emmanuel Kreike, 2013-05-13 Environmental Infrastructure in African History offers a new approach for analyzing and narrating environmental change Environmental change conventionally is understood as occurring in a linear fashion moving from a state of more nature to a state of less nature and more culture In this model non-Western and pre-modern societies live off natural resources whereas more modern societies rely on artifact or nature that is transformed and domesticated through science and technology into culture In contrast Emmanuel Kreike argues that both non Western and pre modern societies inhabit a dynamic middle ground between nature and culture He asserts that humans in collaboration with plants animals and other animate and inanimate forces create environmental infrastructure that constantly is remade and re imagined in the face of ongoing processes of change     Securing Land Rights Romie Nghitevelekwa,2020-12-31 Securing land rights takes up themes at the centre of socio political debates throughout the African continent These relate to national struggles over access to land land distribution land rights and security of tenure Land in much of rural Africa is communally held a system that provides security of livelihood and a social safety net but is not immune to appropriation by government or injustices such as the eviction of women from the land on the death of their husbands This book contextualises Namibia within these debates highlighting the country s stance in relation to communal land tenure reforms with a focus on the realities of people s lives in north central Namibia Leading questions centre on competing ways of ascribing value to land mechanisms and monetisation of access to land commercialisation of land use de agrarianization and ongoing transformation underpinned by economic and territorial restructuring These processes have direct impacts on equity in access to land and land distribution and engender competing visions of land rights Communal land reform is an uneasy compromise between different processes and interests     Wealth, Land, and Property in Angola Mariana P. Candido,2022-09-29 Exploring the multifaceted history of dispossession consumption and inequality in West Central Africa Mariana P Candido presents a bold revisionist history of Angola from the sixteenth century until the Berlin Conference of 1884 5 Synthesising disparate strands of scholarship including the histories of slavery land tenure and gender in West Central Africa Candido makes a significant contribution to ongoing historical debates She demonstrates how ideas about dominion and land rights eventually came to inform the appropriation and enslavement of free people and their labour By centring the experiences of West Central Africans and especially African women this book challenges dominant historical narratives and shows that securing property was a gendered process Drawing attention to how archives obscure African forms of knowledge and normalize conquest Candido interrogates simplistic interpretations of ownership and pushes for the decolonization of African history     Atomic Junction Abena Dove Osseo-Asare,2019-09-19 An innovative account of the first nuclear programme in independent Africa centring on the promises and perils of atomic research in Ghana
