The Closure of the International System Lora Anne Viola,2020-07-09 As global governance appears to become more inclusive and democratic many scholars argue that international institutions act as motors of expansion and democratization The Closure of the International System challenges this view arguing that the history of the international system is a series of institutional closures in which institutions such as diplomacy international law and international organizations make rules to legitimate the inclusion of some actors and the exclusion of others While international institutions facilitate collective action and common goods Viola s closure thesis demonstrates how these gains are achieved by limiting access to rights and resources creating a stratified system of political equals and unequals The coexistence of equality and hierarchy is a constitutive feature of the international system and its institutions This tension is relevant today as multilateral institutions are challenged by disaffected citizens non Western powers and established great powers discontent with the distribution of political rights and authority Unheeded Hinterland Dilip Gogoi,2016-01-29 This book presents a comprehensive account of the debates on sovereignty self determination and nationalist upsurges in India s Northeast especially Assam At a deeper level it analyses how multi ethnic societies engage with the nation state Based on the framework of international relations and geo politics the volume locates internal tensions and contradictions among different ethnic groups alongside the complex interrelationships between the centre and the region It also proposes a new structure of Common Ethnic House to resolve persistent inter ethnic tensions among different communities and the impasse between the Northeast and the centre This book will interest scholars and researchers of politics and international relations sociology and social anthropology area studies peace and conflict studies especially those concerned with South Asia and Northeast India

International Norms and Local Politics in Myanmar Yukiko Nishikawa, 2022-03-07 Nishikawa explores how international norms have been adopted in the local context in Myanmar to project a certain international image while in fact the authorities are exploiting these norms to protect their own interests In the liberal international world order promoted since the end of the Cold War democracy rule of law and human rights have become key components in state and peace building around the world Many donor governments and international organisations have promoted them in their aid and assistance However the promotion of these international norms is based on a flawed understanding of sovereignty and the world For this reason the enforcement of these international norms in Myanmar not only fails to protect vulnerable people but also in some instances exacerbates the situation thereby generating critical insecurity to the most vulnerable people A vital resource for scholars of Myanmar's politics as well as a valuable case study for International Relations scholars more broadly sociological theoretical framework is transposed from the domestic level for which it was originally designed to the larger and more complex subject of international relations

African Frontiers John Idriss Lahai, Tanya Lyons, 2016-03-23 Through a multidisciplinary approach African Frontiers counters the superficial Eurocentric and gender insensitive dominant discursive representation of Africa within the discourse of war and conflict management and security and peace nation building The chapters historicize and theorize the realities in postcolonial African states and the ramifications on the continents future Situating the study within the context of the prevailing cultural and geo political realities in the postcolonial African states the chapters illustrate the complex ways in which events and processes are experienced at the local level and how these local realities in turn impact and shape the patterns of political and military engagement in Africa and beyond Organized along three major themes Insurgency governance and peacebuilding expert researchers from around the world contribute chapters on Rebel and insurgent formations such as the RUF the LRA and Boko Haram state governance and corruption terrorism and counter terrorism security and peacebuilding focussing on the tensions and challenges facing post conflict societies such as Sierra Leone Rwanda and the newest nation state on the continent South Sudan This highly significant and topical study problematizes the impact of wars on African nations as well as the epistemological framing of the local realities and fallouts of armed conflict on post colonial states

Partnership Peace Operations Hideaki Shinoda, 2024-04-09 Partnership is a key concept in contemporary international peace operations There is no universal model of peace operations in contemporary international society Ad hoc arrangements of partnership between the United Nations and various regional organizations are consequences of the complex circumstances of international security The ways in which partnerships are organised differently in different regions reflect each region s distinctive security situation The universal nature of liberal peacebuilding is thus maintained only by ad hoc arrangements All the UN peacekeeping operations in Africa have some partnership linkages with regional or sub regional organizations ranging from the African Union AU and regional mechanisms to the European Union EU What are the conditions and characteristics that enable or lead to partnership peacekeeping in Africa How should we understand lower levels of partnership peacekeeping in other regions By highlighting key characteristics of partnership peacekeeping the book explores these issues and argues that partnership is a reflection of political circumstances The book provides an unexplored but critical perspective to understand the contemporary world for those who study International Relations Security Studies International Organizations and Peace Studies

Why Human Security Matters Dennis Altman, Joseph A. Camilleri, Robyn Eckersley, 2020-07-23 Sea level rises pose a greater long term threat to Australia s coastline and major capital cities than a military attack by a foreign power Citizens are more likely to experience a pandemic virus than a nuclear threat Food shortages have already occurred as a result of flood or drought and the tentacles of international trade in drugs money laundering and human trafficking already reach far into Australian communities Why Human Security Matters argues that Australian external relations needs to treat the soft issues of security as seriously as it treats the hard realities of military defence but also the many complex situations in between whether it be civil war political upheaval terrorism or piracy Australia needs to do this first and foremost in our region but also in relation to the unresolved regional and global security issues as we confront an increasingly uncertain and turbulent world With contributions from leading thinkers in foreign policy and strategic studies Why Human Security Matters is essential reading for anyone seeking a thoughtful and thought provoking analysis of Australia's place in an age of transition

Geopolitical Exotica Dibyesh Anand, Geopolitical Exotica examines exoticized Western representations of Tibet and Tibetans and the debate over that land's status with regard to China Concentrating on specific cultural images of the twentieth century promulgated by novels popular films travelogues and memoirs Dibyesh Anand lays bare the strategies by which Exotica Tibet and Tibetanness have been constructed and he investigates the impact these constructions have had on those who are being represented Although images of Tibet have excited the popular imagination in the West for many years Geopolitical Exotica is the first book to explore representational practices within the study of international relations Anand challenges the parochial practices of current mainstream international relations theory and practice claiming that the discipline remains mostly Western in its orientation His analysis of Tibet's status with regard to China scrutinizes the vocabulary afforded by conventional international relations theory and considers issues that until now have been undertheorized in relation to Tibet including imperialism history diaspora representation and identity In this masterfully synthetic work Anand establishes that postcoloniality provides new insights into themes of representation and identity and demonstrates how IR as a discipline can meaningfully expand its focus beyond the West Dibyesh Anand is a reader in international relations at the University of Westminster London

Macrohistory and Globalization Grinin, Leonid, 2012-06-01 The present monograph considers some macrohistorical trends along with the aspects of globalization Macrohistory is history on the large scale that tells the story of the entire world or of some major dimensions of historical process For the present study three aspects of macrohistory have been chosen These are technological and political aspects as well as the one of historical personality Taken together they give a definite picture of unfolding historical process which is described from the beginning of human society formation to the present day and near future The combination in the monograph title of the two terms macrohistory and globalization is in no way artificial On the contrary the connection of these terms is organic at least as the real goal of macrohistory is to find meaning in the past so as to create new possibilities of meaning for the future The analysis of globalization also includes three aspects political economic and futurological as today the world may well be regarded as being at the start of a new global reconfiguration The author presents his ideas of the world prospective political and in some respects social economic development basing on the analysis of macrohistory and contemporary globalization processes The monograph also considers some global scenarios of the World System s near future
