Argument Writing as a Supplemental Literacy Intervention for At-Risk Youth Margaret Sheehy,Donna M. Scanlon,2021-11-28 This volume details the development and initial evaluation of a supplemental literacy course intended to support at risk high school students in the US Developed using design based research DBR the course combines argument writing and knowledge building literacy routines to support academic literacy development Acknowledging the demand for US students to meet academic literacy standards that emphasize explanatory and argumentative writing the text foregrounds knowledge building as key to effective writing development Chapters trace the development and implementation of course literacy routines designed using DBR and use whole class and individual case studies to demonstrate how informational reading discussion and argument writing become an activity system to support literacy development Ultimately the text has important implications for literacy course design and the use of knowledge building analysis and DBR in research The text will benefit researchers academics and educators in higher education with an interest in academic literacy education writing and composition and secondary education more broadly Those specifically interested in methodologies relating to classroom teaching and learning as well as argumentation and argument writing will also benefit from this book Informative Writing, Teacher Guide, Grades 9-12 PCG Education,2016-06-02 Informative Writing Paths to College and Career Jossey Bass and Public Consulting Group Inc PCG are proud to bring the Paths to College and Career English Language Arts ELA

curriculum and professional development resources for grades 6-12 to educators across the country. Originally developed for EngageNY and written with a focus on the shifts in instructional practice and student experiences, the standards require Paths to College and Career includes daily lesson plans, guiding questions, recommended texts, scaffolding strategies, and other classroom resources. The Paths Writing Units (Argument Writing, Informative Writing, and Narrative Writing) complement the full instructional program and can also be used independently, providing in-depth writing instruction to support all students in grades 9-12 in meeting grade-level standards. To emphasize the relationship between reading and writing, each Writing Unit includes accessible model texts that exemplify key elements of each text type and source texts that provide a topic for the unit writing assignment. Individual lessons guide students through the writing process, providing instruction on grammar and conventions and highlighting collaboration and reflection as key elements of effective writing. Students' final essays are assessed using a checklist developed by the class over the course of the unit. The organization and distinctive content of the model and source texts in each unit afford teachers the flexibility to implement each unit independently of the others and at any point during the curriculum. For example, a unit may be implemented to assess students' writing prior to implementation of the standard curriculum to scaffold writing instruction leading into a writing assessment or to support struggling writers by addressing gaps in skills as demonstrated in previous assessments. The Paths Writing Units provide teachers with invaluable opportunities to engage students as active participants in their own learning at every stage of the writing process and to customize instruction to meet the varying needs of all students.

The St. Martin's Guide to Writing (Rise B. Axelrod, Charles R. Cooper, 2010-01-26) This textbook provides instruction in college-level rhetoric and writing. It offers readings, a research manual, a handbook, and supports a range of approaches to teaching and learning, including collaboration, visual rhetoric, personal writing, writing about literature, writing in the community, and the workplace. Field research, portfolios, oral presentations, essay exams, and ESL. It contains step-by-step guides to writing specific kinds of essays: remembering events, writing profiles, explaining a concept, finding common ground, arguing a position, proposing a solution, justifying an evaluation, speculating about causes, and interpreting stories. Because so much college writing requires strong argumentation skills four of the assignment chapters focus on argumentative writing and a separate strategies chapter covers theses reasons and support counterarguments and logical fallacies Three full chapters on research give students useful strategies not only for conducting field library and Internet research but also for evaluating sources deciding whether to quote paraphrase or summarize avoiding plagiarism and documenting sources The authors have included 39 readings by well known authors and various fresh voices including 12 students providing well written examples of the different types of essays and papers that students might be asked to complete
