Beyond the City Limits R.W. Sandwell, 2011-11-01 Historians have not usually identified British Columbia as a rural province B C historiography has been dominated by mining logging and fishing and theorized within the context of large scale laissez faire capitalism and economic individualism Silences in the historical record have exacerbated this situation and lent tacit support to the dominance of resource based capitalism as the shaping force in B C history The essays in Beyond the City Limits all published here for the first time decisively break this silence and challenge traditional readings of B C history In this wide ranging collection R W Sandwell draws together a distinguished group of contributors who bring expertise methodologies and theoretical perspectives taken from social and political history environmental studies cultural geography and anthropology They discuss such diverse topics as Aboriginal White settler relations on Vancouver Island pimping and violence in northern BC and the triumph of the coddling moth over Okanagan orchardists to show that a narrow emphasis on resource extraction capitalist labour relations and urban society is simply not broad enough to adequately describe those who populated the province s history By challenging the dominant urban based and overwhelmingly capitalist interpretation of the province s history the provocative essays in Beyond the City Limits expand our understanding of what rural was and what it meant in the history of British Columbia Living a Christian Life J.D. society that exists solely in cinema this book explores exactly that Using a half century of films from the archival collection of the National Film Board NFB Kids Portrayals of Children by the National Film Board of Canada 1939 1989 overcomes a long standing impasse about what films may be credibly said to document Here they document not reality but social images preserved over time the NFB Society an evolving cinematic representation of Canadian families schools and communities During the postwar era this society in cinema underwent a profound change in its child rearing and schooling philosophies embracing modern notions based upon principles espoused by the American mental hygiene movement Soon after the introduction of these psychological principles into NFB homes in 1946 and schools in 1956 there was a subtle transformation in adult child relations which progressively over time narrowed the gulf of power between generations and diminished the socializing roles of the NFB parents and teachers NFB Kids is a pioneering study within a new field of academic research cinema ethnography It adds to the growing body of knowledge about the function and the considerable impact of psychiatry and psychology in the post war social reconstruction of Canadian society and social history It will be of interest to academics over a broad spectrum of disciplines and to anyone thinking about the advancing arbitrary power of the cinematic state

Littell,1890      Living Otherwise Duncan P. Mercieca,2013-02-11 One of the classroom assistants Irene decided to tell Ruth a story around the giving of invitations for her birthday party while she was feeding her Mummy Sylvia was going to give a big party to celebrate Ruth s birthday and a number of guests were to be invited amongst them the classroom staff At this point Irene started asking Ruth whether she wanted to invite Duncan Ruth signed no Irene repeated verbally Ruth s sign No then shall we invite Jasmine No again Shall we invite Irene No also Shall we invite Ritienne Again a negative answer Shall we invite Joanne Yes Irene said you only want Joanne at your party And Ruth put her hand in front of her chest and laughed moving her right leg in the air an action which she normally does when enjoying herself The teaching staff were suddenly involved and very interested in this play and asked Irene to go through the story with Ruth all over again They suggested that this time Irene should change the sequence of their names recounted to Ruth And so she did But once more Ruth only invited Joanne for her birthday party The whole process was repeated several times still with Joanne being the only person chosen from the school staff The teaching staff now was participating and commenting on Ruth s responses They tried to reason with Ruth in vain and persuade her in various ways to change her mind Their arguments were similar to the following You say no to Jasmine but she is the one who escorts you home everyday now is that fair And Duncan who loves you so much and spends so much time with you don t you want to invite him to your party The staff members became concerned at Ruth s refusals and not a little offended There were moments when Joanne was trying to excuse herself and explain why she thought that Ruth would choose her She tried to convince the others that Ruth was only joking that in reality she does want to invite all of them p 140 This book addresses the question of agency that children with profound and multiple learning disabilities PMLD have in educational contexts When children have such severe impairment the idea of their agency often does not cross the mind of adults around them However this book draws upon the work of Jacques Derrida Flix Guattari and Gilles Deleuze in relation to nine stories on engaging with children with PMLD showing to readers the profound influence that children have upon the lives and actions      New Jersey College for Women Alumnae Bulletin ,1929      Living Together Frances May
