Finnish Settler Colonialism in North America

Rani-Henrik Andersson, Janne Lahti, 2022-12-29 Finnish Settler Colonialism in North America reinterprets Finnish experiences in North America by connecting them to the transnational processes of settler colonial conquest far settlement elimination of natives and capture of terrestrial spaces Rather than merely exploring whether the idea of Finns as a different kind of immigrant is a myth this book challenges it in many ways It offers an analysis of the ways in which this myth manifests itself why it has been upheld to this day and most importantly how it contributes to settler colonialism in North America and beyond The authors in this volume apply multidisciplinary perspectives in revealing the various levels of Finnish involvement in settler colonialism In their chapters authors seek to understand the experiences and representations of Finns in North American spatial projects in territorial expansion and integration and visions of power They do so by analyzing how Finns reinvented their identities and acted as settlers participated in the production of settler colonial narratives as well as benefitted and took advantage of settler colonial structures Finnish Settler Colonialism in North America aims to challenge traditional histories of Finnish migration in which Finns have typically been viewed almost in isolation from the broader American context not to mention colonialism The book examines the diversity of roles experiences and narrations of and by Finns in the histories of North America by employing the settler colonial analytical framework

Nordic Literature Steven P. Sondrup, Mark B. Sandberg, Thomas A. DuBois, Dan Ringgaard, 2017-12-15. Nordic Literature: A comparative history is a multi-volume comparative analysis of the literature of the Nordic region. Bringing together the literature of Finland continental Scandinavia Sweden Norway Denmark and S pm i and the insular region Iceland Greenland and the Faroe Islands each volume of this three-volume project adopts a new frame through which one can recognize and analyze significant clusters of literary practice. This first volume Spatial nodes devotes its attention to the changing literary figurations of space by Nordic writers from medieval to contemporary times. Organized around the depiction of various scapes and spatial practices at home and abroad this approach to Nordic literature stretches existing notions of temporally linear nationally centered literary history and allows questions of internal regional similarities and differences to emerge more strongly. The productive historical contingency of the North as a literary space becomes clear in this close analysis of its literary texts and practices.

The New Media Nation Valerie Alia, 2012. Around the planet Indigenous people are using old and new technologies to amplify their voices and broadcast information to a global audience. This is the first portrait of a powerful international movement that looks both inward and outward helping to preserve ancient languages and cultures while communicating across cultural political and geographical boundaries. Based on more than twenty years of research observation and work experience in Indigenous journalism film music and visual art this volume includes specialized studies of Inuit in the circumpolar north and First Nations peoples in the Yukon and southern Canada and the United States.

Today regarded as a classic this description of life in polar cultures reflects traditional ethnography at its best and has been a favored account for thirty years. Balikci's important study of the Netsilingmiut an isolated tribe of Arctic hunters living close to the Arctic Circle examines their technology social organization and religion. The extended period of time that the author worked with the Netsilik Eskimo is reflected in the depth of his understanding of their past and present environments. His portrayal of their dependence on government services along with modern technology provides an accurate and necessary insight into the process of cultural change being experienced by cultures in many developing countries.
